Jury Finds Hoffa Guilty In Union Pension Fraud

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

CHICAGO (AP)—A jury out for three days found Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and six others guilty Sunday of a massive scheme to defraud a $280-million union pension fund.

Hoffa, a trustee of the pension fund, was convicted in U.S. District Court on four counts of fraud and conspiracy and faces 20 years in prison and an $11,000 fine.

The men specifically were convicted of fraudulently arranging more than $20 million in loans from the pension fund and diverting more than $1 million to their own use.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy hailed the decision and complimented the jury and prosecutors in a statement from his summer home in Hyannis Port, Mass.

Hoffa faces a maximum sentence of $1,000 fine and five years on each of the fraud counts and $10,000 and five years on the conspiracy count.

It was Hoffa's fifth federal prosecution since 1957—and his second loss in six months. In February he was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000 at Chattanooga, Tenn., for attempting to bribe a jury.

Youth, Man Hurt In 2-Way Crash

Two were injured in a head-on car collision Saturday night at 7:05 on the Y. & O. Rd. almost a mile north of Route 30.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said it was one of five area mishaps checked over the weekend. The traffic mishap toll for the two days totaled nine.

The head - on crash involved cars driven by Milton Burns, 72, of 1434 Etruria St. and John Joseph Falone Jr., 17, son of John Falone of Glenmoor.

Falone was headed north when he observed another car ahead slowing, officers said. Falone applied his brakes and slid left of center, striking the oncoming Burns car.

FALONE was cited to Juvenile Court.

John Watkins, 17, of 168 Bank St., a passenger in the Falone car, suffered a scalp laceration. He also was treated at the hospital.

Officers investigated another accident on the Y. & O. Rd. Sunday afternoon at 3:50.

A car driven by Alice Jean Bussard, 19, of East Liverpool R. D. struck two cars parked in the By-By Used Car Lot, officers said. She was headed south when she attempted to make a turn onto a township road. She failed to make the turn and drove into the car lot. Minor damage resulted.

OLIVER LEE Cecil, 22, of Lexington, Ky., escaped injury but his car was damaged extensively in a one-car crash Saturday at 2:30 p. m. on Route 7 about a mile south of East Liverpool.

Cecil was headed south when he attempted to pass another car on the "super-road." The other vehicle moved left, forcing Cecil to drop back. He then swung back to the right lane and lost control and the car rolled over after going off the highway, the patrol reported.

Champ Balloonist Killed In Power Cable Mishap

PITTSBURGH, Calif. (AP)—A champion balloonist was killed Sunday when his gondola drifted into high-tension wires and exploded in a white flash of fire.

Richard Pollard, 19, of Denver, was competing in a four-balloon benefit race to raise funds for a recreation center for the handicapped at nearby Clayton. He was the national hot air balloon champion.

The race had been scheduled originally for last Saturday in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park, but it was canceled by Police Chief Thomas Cahill as "too hazardous."

Pollard had difficulty with his balloon when the race started at Clayton, a less populous area. A crowd of more than 3,000 watched as he left 10 minutes behind the others because of last-minute repairs.

Russ Reed, a photographer for the Oakland Tribune, watched from a small airplane as Pollard's balloon headed toward the 150,000-volt wires.

"He missed one, then another," said Reed. "But he hit a third. Then this huge white flash went up.

"The pilot's body dropped straight down about 50 feet and lay motionless.

U.S., Viet Plan New Anti-Guerrilla Moves

WASHINGTON (AP)—New measures for stepping up the war against Communist guerrillas reportedly are nearly ready for announcement by the United States and Viet Nam. Sources said they do not involve expanding the war into North Viet Nam.

Prime Minister Nguyen Khanh of South Viet Nam is expected to announce the new measures next week.

Morse Plans Bid To Trim Foreign Aid

Humphrey Predicts Bill's Passage This Week Without Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders hope to hand President Johnson another victory this week by passing his $3.4-billion foreign aid authorization bill without major changes.

But their chances of matching last week's performance, when they put through the administration's high-priority antipoverty bill, are threatened by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

Morse, who has been gunning for the bill for weeks, has a flock of amendments ready, aimed at trimming it by $466 million. He says it could take a week to dispose of them.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, predicts passage this week without any "crippling cuts."

Before it can get into the foreign aid fight the Senate must dispose of a resolution growing out of the investigation of the financial dealings of Bobby Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democrats. The resolution would require senators and Senate employes to make annual disclosure of their incomes.

It may have been disposed of Friday night when the Senate voted to create a permanent bipartisan committee to police the conduct of senators and Senate employes.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the action had taken "a lot of steam" out of the disclosure resolution. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said it had made the resolution unnecessary.

Forecaster Expects Showers On Tuesday

Thundershowers may arrive in the area Tuesday afternoon or evening to bring some relief from the generally hot, humid temperatures, the Ohio weatherman said today.

Today will be sunny and warm, with high temperatures ranging from 83 to 88, the weatherman said. Tuesday also will be sunny and warm, but there is a chance of late thundershowers, he added.

A brief shower Sunday morning helped drop the mercury, but it also raised the humidity. The mercury stood at 68 at 6 a.m. today in downtown East Liverpool.

Castro Hits Latin Curbs For Cubans

Ministers Approve Diplomatic, Trade Break In Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American republics have slapped strong diplomatic and economic sanctions on Cuba and Fidel Castro has brushed off the actions as impudent and unjust.

A conference of the American foreign ministers Sunday approved a diplomatic break and trade embargo against Cuba and cleared the way for the use of armed force against the Castro regime if it continues subversions against other republics of the hemisphere.

Within hours after the action was taken, there were these reactions:

—Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, said the action "proved once again the ability of the Organization of American States to defend itself against aggression."

—Castro said the OAS is "garbage" and the prime minister declared "the people of Cuba reject as impudent and unjust the sanctions imposed." He issued a "Declaration of Santiago de Cuba" as a reply to the "Declaration of the Americas" of the OAS.

—Tass, the official Soviet news agency, charged that the action set a dangerous precedent and it accused the United States of openly putting pressure on the OAS to take the historic step.

—Several Cuban exile leaders in Miami disagreed on the impact of the OAS sanctions but in general looked upon them as a forward step.

The sanctions were approved by a 15-4 vote—as author of the resolution, Venezuela could not vote. Mexico, Chile, Bolivia and Uruguay—the only Latin-American republics maintaining relations with Cuba—voted no.

The foreign ministers' conference was called at Venezuela's requset. It invoked the Inter-American Treaty of Mutual Assistance Dec. 3, after uncovering a three-ton cache of smuggled arms with Cuban markings on a lonely beach in the state of Fal-

Hospital sources said 85 passengers were killed and more than 100 injured. It was the worst disaster in the history of the privately owned Portuguese Railway Co.

The company ordered a commission of three engineers to investigate the derailing near Custoias, about three miles from Oporto.

A company spokesman said the rear unit of the two-car diesel train snapped its couplings, jumped the track and "careened down a section of track flanked by walls, slamming back and forth between them."

"It dropped from the embankment and turned over where the walls came to an end," he added.

Guardsmen Bring Peace To Riot-Torn Rochester

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—This riot-scarred city emerged today from a bloody weekend of racial violence with four dead, hundreds of injured and massive property damage. An uneasy peace was backed by a combat-ready force of National Guardsmen.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller activated 1,000 guardsmen and ordered them into Rochester to stand by for anti-riot duty if needed.

"Law and order will be maintained in the city of Rochester," the governor declared.

A detachment of 12 open trucks with 18 guardsmen each toured the city's trouble areas in a show of force shortly after the arrival of the guard Sunday night. The men carried rifles with bayonets fixed but had no ammunition.

Three persons were killed and a county official was injured critically Sunday when a helicopter surveying a potential trouble spot smashed into a three-story house and set it afire.

A man was killed by an automobile when he was struck during wild rioting Saturday night, in the height of the racial explosion, and staggered into the street. Two men were shot. One was in critical condition.

More than 600 persons, nearly all Negroes, were arrested. More than 300 other persons were injured, including 35 police officers and several firemen.

Thousands of Negroes participated in rioting throughout the weekend, but police had no estimate of the exact number.

Looters ran wild, pillaging and smashing, especially Saturday night. Liquor stores were a favorite target.

Many rioters were "all fired up on stolen booze," a police official said.

State and local police, working with little rest, were targets of bricks, rocks, bottles, full beer cans, fire bombs and sheets of glass in one outbreak after another.

They answered with tear gas, high-pressure streams from fire hoses and warning shots from their guns. Several individual rioters were clubbed into submission when seized.

The Rochester jail was jammed and a clerk said the property room was filled with "everything you can think of" in recovered loot.

The job of trying to keep down the riot was proving a difficult one for the tired police officers, a factor in the decision of city officials to appeal for help from the guard. "We were fighting a defensive battle," a high police officer said.

Youth Loses 15 Pounds During Yosemite Ordeal

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP)—"I was worried some of the time, but I was never scared," said a 10-year-old city boy who survived eight days without food in a rugged wilderness area of Yosemite National Park.

"I thought someone would find me. I knew they were looking for me when I saw a helicopter fly overhead."

Once-chubby John Ireland Jr. of Los Angeles lived on water and his own body fat as he wandered in the mountainous terrain where nighttime temperatures ranged in the high 30s.

He lost 15 pounds during the ordeal — his weight dropped from 103 to 86—but doctors said his condition was good.

"It's amazing," said one doctor. "He had nothing but water. The boy is talking, and you'd hardly know he had taken a hike."

Rangers Gil Hall and Jim Reilly found him Saturday afternoon about three miles from the camp. About 350 men had joined in an air and ground search.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ireland, had lost hope and were getting ready to break camp and return home when they learned that John had been found.

"I'm hungry," were his first words to his parents. The boy had lost so much weight that he had to hold his pants up.

John told of his adventure from a bed in Lewis Memorial Hospital in Yosemite.

"As soon as I knew I was lost, I sat down and started making plans for getting home," he said. "I was worried some of the time, but I was never scared.

"The worst part of it was the cold at night and the mosquitoes."

U.S. Ready For Firing Of Lunar Probe

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The United States was to launch the Ranger 7 spacecraft today on a quarter-million-mile journey to the moon to take thousands of pictures and hopefully end six years of frustration for American lunar shots.

An Atlas-Agenda rocket was to blast skyward in a favorable launching period between 11:32 a.m. and 1:42 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Thunderstorms were forecast but officials hoped they would hold off until later in the day.

The flight plan called for the 806-pound spacecraft to execute several intricate maneuvers and crash-land on the moon Thursday morning after a 68½-hour, 230,992-mile trip.

Sixteen hours after launching, a ground station is to send a radio signal to fire a payload motor and jockey the craft into a collision course with the moon.

If Ranger 7 succeeds, it will break a string of 12 straight moon launching failures dating to 1958. The launching is the first American attempt since Ranger 6 failed to transmit pictures last February, although it hit the moon.

The record has seriously hin-

Victim's 'Critical' In Apples Corners Shooting Incident

Charges are expected to be filed today against an 18-year-old East Liverpool district youth who is being held in County Jail in connection with the shooting of a 30-year-old Youngstown man Saturday afternoon in an orchard at Apples Corners, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said at Lisbon.

Ira Baird of Woodridge Ave., Youngstown, remains in "critical" condition at Youngstown South Side Hospital following surgery Saturday night on 11 bullet wounds. Nine .22 caliber slugs were removed from his body, hospital authorities said.

The sheriff said Walter Beatty Jr. of Apples Corners admitted shooting Baird with a .22 caliber pistol.

The sheriff said the boy told him he did not know why he did it.

The shooting occuured in an orchard 300 feet west of Route 267 and a short distance south of Route 30, the sheriff said.

Mrs. Everett Biggins, who lives in the vicinity, notified the sheriff's office of the shooting at 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

She said her nephew, Allen Biggins, 16, had been in the orchard and found a man who had been shot and needed help. She called an East Liverpool ambulance, which took the wounded man to City Hospital. He was transferred shortly afterward to Youngstown for brain surgery.

Young Biggins told the sheriff he was taking a short cut from his father's garage on Route 30 to his home when he saw Beatty, a neighbor, kneeling over a man on the ground.

The Biggins boy said he asked Beatty: "What's wrong?" and that Beatty replied: "This fellow came at me and I threw a rock at him."

Train Strikes Hancock Car, Hurts Woman

A Newell area woman was hurt and a youngster in her car escaped uninjured when their halted sedan was struck by a passing freight train at a crossing on Route 66 in Hancock County Sunday night at 7:40.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Marilyn Plever, 22, the driver, was waiting at the crossing at Midway Trailer Court for traffic to clear before she proceeded onto Route 66.

They said she had pulled her sedan as far from the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing tracks as possible to still be clear of autos proceeding south on Route 66.

Martin W. Baker, 61, of Mingo Junction, the engineer of the southbound Pennsy freight, told deputies there appeared to be enough clearance for the freight to pass by the car.

However, the sixth car of the 33-car freight struck the rear of Mrs. Plever's sedan, causing about $500 damage.

Mrs. Plever, wife of Oden Plever, suffered injuries of the chest, neck and spine and is in "fair" condition at City Hospital. A youngster, Michael Crago, 13, also a resident of Midway Trailer Court, who was unhurt. He was examined at the hospital.

Mrs. Plever was driving a 1963 model sedan. A 1951 locomotive was hauling the freight train on the Pennsy tracks that run from Weirton to Kobuta.

Rangers Gil Hall and Jim Reilly found him Saturday afternoon about three miles from the camp. About 350 men had joined in an air and ground search.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ireland, had lost hope and were getting ready to break camp and return home when they learned that John had been found.

"I'm hungry," were his first words to his parents. The boy had lost so much weight that he had to hold his pants up.

John told of his adventure from a bed in Lewis Memorial Hospital in Yosemite.

"As soon as I knew I was lost, I sat down and started making plans for getting home," he said. "I was worried some of the time, but I was never scared.

"The worst part of it was the cold at night and the mosquitoes."

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The United States was to launch the Ranger 7 spacecraft today on a quarter-million-mile journey to the moon to take thousands of pictures and hopefully end six years of frustration for American lunar shots.

An Atlas-Agenda rocket was to blast skyward in a favorable launching period between 11:32 a.m. and 1:42 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Thunderstorms were forecast but officials hoped they would hold off until later in the day.

The flight plan called for the 806-pound spacecraft to execute several intricate maneuvers and crash-land on the moon Thursday morning after a 68½-hour, 230,992-mile trip.

Sixteen hours after launching, a ground station is to send a radio signal to fire a payload motor and jockey the craft into a collision course with the moon.

If Ranger 7 succeeds, it will break a string of 12 straight moon launching failures dating to 1958. The launching is the first American attempt since Ranger 6 failed to transmit pictures last February, although it hit the moon.

The record has seriously hin-

Train Strikes Hancock Car, Hurts Woman

A Newell area woman was hurt and a youngster in her car escaped uninjured when their halted sedan was struck by a passing freight train at a crossing on Route 66 in Hancock County Sunday night at 7:40.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Marilyn Plever, 22, the driver, was waiting at the crossing at Midway Trailer Court for traffic to clear before she proceeded onto Route 66.

They said she had pulled her sedan as far from the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing tracks as possible to still be clear of autos proceeding south on Route 66.

Martin W. Baker, 61, of Mingo Junction, the engineer of the southbound Pennsy freight, told deputies there appeared to be enough clearance for the freight to pass by the car.

However, the sixth car of the 33-car freight struck the rear of Mrs. Plever's sedan, causing about $500 damage.

Mrs. Plever, wife of Oden Plever, suffered injuries of the chest, neck and spine and is in "fair" condition at City Hospital. A youngster, Michael Crago, 13, also a resident of Midway Trailer Court, who was unhurt. He was examined at the hospital.

Mrs. Plever was driving a 1963 model sedan. A 1951 locomotive was hauling the freight train on the Pennsy tracks that run from Weirton to Kobuta.

Champ Balloonist Killed In Power Cable Mishap

PITTSBURGH, Calif. (AP)—A champion balloonist was killed Sunday when his gondola drifted into high-tension wires and exploded in a white flash of fire.

Richard Pollard, 19, of Denver, was competing in a four-balloon benefit race to raise funds for a recreation center for the handicapped at nearby Clayton. He was the national hot air balloon champion.

The race had been scheduled originally for last Saturday in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park, but it was canceled by Police Chief Thomas Cahill as "too hazardous."

Pollard had difficulty with his balloon when the race started at Clayton, a less populous area. A crowd of more than 3,000 watched as he left 10 minutes behind the others because of last-minute repairs.

Russ Reed, a photographer for the Oakland Tribune, watched from a small airplane as Pollard's balloon headed toward the 150,000-volt wires.

"He missed one, then another," said Reed. "But he hit a third. Then this huge white flash went up.

"The pilot's body dropped straight down about 50 feet and lay motionless.

U.S., Viet Plan New Anti-Guerrilla Moves

WASHINGTON (AP)—New measures for stepping up the war against Communist guerrillas reportedly are nearly ready for announcement by the United States and Viet Nam. Sources said they do not involve expanding the war into North Viet Nam.

Prime Minister Nguyen Khanh of South Viet Nam is expected to announce the new measures next week.

Forecaster Expects Showers On Tuesday

Thundershowers may arrive in the area Tuesday afternoon or evening to bring some relief from the generally hot, humid temperatures, the Ohio weatherman said today.

Today will be sunny and warm, with high temperatures ranging from 83 to 88, the weatherman said. Tuesday also will be sunny and warm, but there is a chance of late thundershowers, he added.

A brief shower Sunday morning helped drop the mercury, but it also raised the humidity. The mercury stood at 68 at 6 a.m. today in downtown East Liverpool.

Weirton Driver Fined

Charge Against Trucker In City Accident Dropped

Charges of improper backing flied against a Youngstown trucker were dismissed in Municipal Court this morning.

John E. Grossman of Youngstown had been cited July 10 after his truck allegedly knocked down Mrs. Hazel M. McCreary, 71, of 1212 Pennsylvania Ave.

The case had been continued by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who dismissed the charges today at the request of the arresting officer and city solicitor.

In other hearings, Robert J. Sowers of Weirton was fined $10 and costs for parking a vehicle on the highway. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol on Route 7 Friday. He told officers he and another man and a girl had parked the car in order to explore caves along the highway.

Helen S. Laughlin of 6th Ave., LaCroft, was fined $10 and costs, with the fine suspended on payment of costs, for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. She was cited after an accident Thursday afternoon on the Lisbon St. Hill.

Robert Stull Sr. of 7th Ave., LaCroft, was given a suspended fine of $5 and costs for a stop sign violation and fined $10 and costs, with the fine suspended on payment of costs, for illegal registration.

He was arrested July 11 at 9th St. and Lincoln Ave. His hearing was to have been held last Monday, but he was confused and appeared this morning, the court said.

Two motorists cited over the weekend forfeited bonds of $17.50 each. Charles T. Congemi of Youngstown was cited Saturday for crashing a traffic light at W. 5th St. and Monroe Sts. and William Murphy of Irondale R. D. 1 was cited Sunday for making an illegal turn at E. 5th and Washington Sts.

A hearing slated for Frank M. Duncan, 1235 St. George St., was continued again until Aug. 4. He was cited for driving while under the influence of alcohol and possessing an open container of alcoholic beverage in public after his car missed a turn and drove into the lawn at Neville School at Pennsylvania Ave. and Elizabeth St. Thursday.

Toni Lee Caldwell, 25, of Leetonia R. D. 2 was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after her car hit the rear of another on Route 30 just over a half mile west on Route 45 Sunday night at 9:35.

Officers said the woman's car hit the rear of one operated by Paul Jon Hemsley, 26, of Glenmoor, who had halted for oncoming traffic before making a left turn.

4-Way Crash Hurts Girl, 19

A young Wellsville girl, just learning to drive, escaped serious injury but caused damage to three other vehicles in a crash Saturday evening at 7:10 on 18th St., Wellsville.

Police said Margaret F. Moore, 19, of 402½ Main St. was headed west on 18th St. when she took her eyes off the road to speak to a person in the rear seat. The girl was just learning to drive and immediately lost control of the car. She went left of center and hit the rear of one car, drove it 90 feet into a yard, continued and hit another and drove it into the rear of a third car, police said.

The first car struck was one owned by William H. Morrow, 312 18th St. It was knocked 90 feet, police said. The Moore car then hit the rear of one owned by John A. Stansberry, 314 18th St., and it in turn was driven into a third car owned by Mannie Dobbins, 316 18th St.

Charged with reckless operation, she was fined $25 and costs at a hearing this morning before Mayor William Daugherty. She was treated at City Hospital for a bruised forehead and left cheek.

A passenger in the car, Kenneth Zellers, 18, of Lisbon R.D. 4, suffered a laceration of the nose and forehead.

Police investigated a minor accident at 8:10 a.m. today on Buckeye Ave. A car driven by Donald E. Snyder of Empire hit a parked car owned by Robert Curtis of Buckeye Ave. Police said Snyder said he swerved to avoid hitting a dog. No charges were filed.

The sanctions became official when representatives of 20 nations signed the final act of the ninth conference of foreign ministers of the Americas.

Bolivia announced immediately it would respect the majority decision and Uruguay is expected to follow suit. Chile may do so if a Social Christian government is chosen in the September presidential elections.

Mexico denounced the censure to the Castro regime in speeches to the conference.

In addition, the foreign ministers issued a warning that if the Castro regime persists in carrying out acts of aggression and intervention against one or more OAS members, they may, singly or as a group, use armed force against Cuba.

Actual implementation of the actions must be carried out by the individual governments and it remains to be seen how far each will go in punitive steps.

gation proved Beatty's statement false.

Based on information from the hospital, the sheriff said the victim apparently was struck several times on the head or face with a stone or brick.

The sheriff and his deputies worked Saturday night and Sunday piecing together fragments of the story and then gave this account:

Beatty and Baird both work in Columbiana at the National Rubber Machinery Co. and one of Baird's in-laws operates Bob's Auto Sales in Youngstown. Baird occasionally sold a car to a fellow worker. He and Beatty had a car transaction in prospect Saturday afternoon.

They left the plant at 3:30 p.m. Saturday in the 1960 Oldsmobile convertible in which Beatty was interested and started for Apples Corners, where the young man was to get his grandmother's consent to buy the car. Beatty lives with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Miller.

Beatty asked Baird to park the car in a lane behind the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Laura Miller, and they proceeded to the Miller home.

The sheriff said Beatty told him he and Baird were walking through the orchard when he pulled the pistol from his pocket and emptied it into the back of Baird, who was walking ahead of him.

Beatty allegedly had the pistol for about a year and took it to work with him Saturday, leaving it in his locker while on the job. The sheriff said he learned the young man became ill about noon and did not return to his job, although he remained in the vicinity of the plant waiting for Baird to quit work.

Authorities said they found the pistol in Mrs. Miller's basement, where Beatty said he had placed it after the shooting.

The sheriff said the suspect was taken into custody after he and young Biggins were taken to Lisbon to give information about the man's wounding.

The sheriff said he will confer with the Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw to determine what charges will be filed against the youth.

The charges will be filed in the court of Judge Herbert Arfman in East Palestine, as his court has jurisdiction in the area in which the shooting took place.

Fair Board To Hold Session Wednesday

LISBON — Further plans will be made for the "old fashioned" Columbiana County Fair Aug. 16-30 when the County Agricultural Society meets Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the secretary's office at the Fair Grounds.

Honoring the man and woman who have attended the most county fairs will be discussed. The board is accepting letters from men and women who wish to enter.

The man and woman with the most fair attendance will be honored Sunday, Aug. 30. Runners-up will be honored Saturday, third place winners Friday and fourth place winners, Thursday. Several entries from women have been already received, according to Velma Cope, secretary.

Reserve Unit Aide Selected

Second Lt. Edwin J. Stahl has been named as civilian aide for Company A, 7th Battalion, 68th Armor, the local reserve unit.

Stahl succeeds Eurad Rouse, who has been reassigned to the Youngstown area.

Lt. Stahl will be at the Poplar Lane Armory from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday to conduct business for the unit.

He is married and has three children. A native of Wheeling, he atended West Liberty (W. Va.) State College and served three years in the Marine Corps. He also served three years in the Ohio National Guard and attended the Infantry Officer School at Ft. Benning, Ga.

He has been employed by the state Adjutant General's Department since September 1962.

Capt. James E. Fox, commander, said the unit will hold a drill Tuesday night at 7:30 at the armory.

Classes on "Tank Unit Drill and Ceremonies" will be presented by Sgt. William Schollenberger and Sgt. Paul Miller.

crushing passengers as it caved in.

Witnesses said the rear unit appeared to fishtail as it left a curve just ahead of the walled-in stretch of track. Passengers in the front car were not hurt.

The normal capacity of each unit was 68 passenger, but witnesses said the car was overcrowded.

A passenger in the forward car, Jose Ferreira, 43, told newsmen, "Suddenly I sensed the front car was rolling faster, lighter, as it left the curve."

He said he leaned out a door, looked back, and saw the rear car was rolling free.

"I jumped out, believing it would hit our car, and then I heard the smash," he said.

Auditor Pleased As 2 Appear For Study Of Budget

Two city residents who showed up at the office of Auditor Lawrence Zollinger Saturday noon were the first to attend a public hearing on East Liverpool's city budget in well over a decade.

"It made me feel pretty good —the fact that someone is interested in the city's finances," Zollinger commented today.

The public hearing on the 1965 city budget is a formality required by state law, but it had been years since any citizen appeared to examine the figures.

John McNicol, 139 W. 5th St., and Robert P. Neville, 1513 Wyoming Ave., visited the auditor's office to examine the budget figures and ask questions, Zollinger said.

"I was very happy that someone came in to go over the thing with me. I feel there should be more people come in and ask questions instead of just taking things for granted," Zollinger said.

The city's budget of $649,316 will be presented to City Council for approval. Then it will be turned over to the County Budget Commission.

The sheriff and his deputies worked Saturday night and Sunday piecing together fragments of the story and then gave this account:

Beatty and Baird both work in Columbiana at the National Rubber Machinery Co. and one of Baird's in-laws operates Bob's Auto Sales in Youngstown. Baird occasionally sold a car to a fellow worker. He and Beatty had a car transaction in prospect Saturday afternoon.

They left the plant at 3:30 p.m. Saturday in the 1960 Oldsmobile convertible in which Beatty was interested and started for Apples Corners, where the young man was to get his grandmother's consent to buy the car. Beatty lives with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Miller.

Beatty asked Baird to park the car in a lane behind the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Laura Miller, and they proceeded to the Miller home.

The sheriff said Beatty told him he and Baird were walking through the orchard when he pulled the pistol from his pocket and emptied it into the back of Baird, who was walking ahead of him.

Beatty allegedly had the pistol for about a year and took it to work with him Saturday, leaving it in his locker while on the job. The sheriff said he learned the young man became ill about noon and did not return to his job, although he remained in the vicinity of the plant waiting for Baird to quit work.

Authorities said they found the pistol in Mrs. Miller's basement, where Beatty said he had placed it after the shooting.

The sheriff said the suspect was taken into custody after he and young Biggins were taken to Lisbon to give information about the man's wounding.

The sheriff said he will confer with the Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw to determine what charges will be filed against the youth.

The charges will be filed in the court of Judge Herbert Arfman in East Palestine, as his court has jurisdiction in the area in which the shooting took place.

Fair Board To Hold Session Wednesday

LISBON — Further plans will be made for the "old fashioned" Columbiana County Fair Aug. 16-30 when the County Agricultural Society meets Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the secretary's office at the Fair Grounds.

Honoring the man and woman who have attended the most county fairs will be discussed. The board is accepting letters from men and women who wish to enter.

The man and woman with the most fair attendance will be honored Sunday, Aug. 30. Runners-up will be honored Saturday, third place winners Friday and fourth place winners, Thursday. Several entries from women have been already received, according to Velma Cope, secretary.

Reserve Unit Aide Selected

Second Lt. Edwin J. Stahl has been named as civilian aide for Company A, 7th Battalion, 68th Armor, the local reserve unit.

Stahl succeeds Eurad Rouse, who has been reassigned to the Youngstown area.

Lt. Stahl will be at the Poplar Lane Armory from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday to conduct business for the unit.

He is married and has three children. A native of Wheeling, he atended West Liberty (W. Va.) State College and served three years in the Marine Corps. He also served three years in the Ohio National Guard and attended the Infantry Officer School at Ft. Benning, Ga.

He has been employed by the state Adjutant General's Department since September 1962.

Capt. James E. Fox, commander, said the unit will hold a drill Tuesday night at 7:30 at the armory.

Classes on "Tank Unit Drill and Ceremonies" will be presented by Sgt. William Schollenberger and Sgt. Paul Miller.

crushing passengers as it caved in.

Witnesses said the rear unit appeared to fishtail as it left a curve just ahead of the walled-in stretch of track. Passengers in the front car were not hurt.

The normal capacity of each unit was 68 passenger, but witnesses said the car was overcrowded.

A passenger in the forward car, Jose Ferreira, 43, told newsmen, "Suddenly I sensed the front car was rolling faster, lighter, as it left the curve."

He said he leaned out a door, looked back, and saw the rear car was rolling free.

"I jumped out, believing it would hit our car, and then I heard the smash," he said.

College Head Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Thomas H. Carroll, 49, president of George Washington University, died early today after an apparent heart attack near Bluemont, Va.

The six days of the Creation are known as the Christian world's "hexameron".

Auditor Pleased As 2 Appear For Study Of Budget

Two city residents who showed up at the office of Auditor Lawrence Zollinger Saturday noon were the first to attend a public hearing on East Liverpool's city budget in well over a decade.

"It made me feel pretty good —the fact that someone is interested in the city's finances," Zollinger commented today.

The public hearing on the 1965 city budget is a formality required by state law, but it had been years since any citizen appeared to examine the figures.

John McNicol, 139 W. 5th St., and Robert P. Neville, 1513 Wyoming Ave., visited the auditor's office to examine the budget figures and ask questions, Zollinger said.

"I was very happy that someone came in to go over the thing with me. I feel there should be more people come in and ask questions instead of just taking things for granted," Zollinger said.

The city's budget of $649,316 will be presented to City Council for approval. Then it will be turned over to the County Budget Commission.

War In The City Streets

The quality that distinguishes the outbreaks in New York and other cities from true civil rights demonstrations is their core of sheer rage. Police in other cities might have even less success in putting down what amounts to insurrection.

Police operations in recent years fortunately have provided new equipment and training. Radio and teletype communication have improved coordination of personnel. A policeman using a small walkie-talkie can bring a dozen fellow officers to his assistance within minutes.

Police in some cities carry pocket transistor radios on which they receive but cannot send messages. Some years ago Cleveland police reduced thefts of automobiles from 300 to 80 cases a month by use of the handie-talkie, a portable radiotelephone which enabled policemen at observation posts to signal pursuit cars stationed five or six blocks away.

A MORE controversial development is the use of the police dog. German shepherd dogs have long been used for police work in Europe. In the past decade, a growing number of U.S. police forces have added K-9 corps. The dogs are trained to work with a single policeman who usually houses the dog in his own home.

Police dogs are taught to bring down a fugitive by the arm or leg but not to inflict injury. Nevertheless, use of dogs to clear streets, particularly in Jackson, Miss., has been severely criticized.

Interest in special training of police for riot control has been heightened by racial conflicts. A Southern Regional Council report attributes the success of some Southern cities in keeping down street disorders during periods of racial tension to the effectiveness of such training and of preparations for possible emergencies. An important element of the training is impressing on police officers the need for impartial dealing with both white and black demonstrators.

TO COPE with the street crime issue raised at San Francisco by Sen. Goldwater, former President Eisenhower and Sen. John G. Tower of Texas, police will need all the advantages of training, technique, and equipment that can be given to them.

Day-to-day crime on city streets is an even greater evil, if less dramatic, than the street violence in New York and other cities.

Down To Earth

Thousands will converge on the district this week for two camp meetings which have been attracting the faithful for years.

The 127th annual services will get under way Thursday at picturesque Hollow Rock and the 82nd annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Free Methodist Church will open Tuesday morning at the grounds on Anderson Blvd.

Such camp meetings are down-to-earth gatherings which effectively supplement the religious activities which take place week after week in our churches.

The Moral Is Painful

The treasurer of last spring's ill-fated project to put Marine Col. John H. Glenn on the 1964 Democratic ticket for U.S. senator, instead of Sen. Stephen M. Young, has told a grim story about political disenchantment.

The group backing Col. Glenn still owes about $8,500, after creditors have boiled down accounts payable, he reports. Unless someone falls out of a tree with the $8,500, Col. Glenn may get stuck for the debt.

What makes the prospect doubly grim for the attractive and popular hero of the nation's first around-the-world space hero is that he didn't incur the debt. It was incurred by people who were hopeful of having him run against Robert Taft Jr. in this year's U.S. Senate race.

In their fervor to pit the space hero against an attractive young career politician, they bought things off the cuff, contrary to Col. Glenn's instructions to stay inside a campaign fund of $20,000. When Col. Glenn had the accident late last March that forced him to withdraw from the race, his instructions had been violated to the tune of $10,000. This has been whittled down to $8,500.

The moral of the story is painful: Political "friends" are soon parted. In this instance, it is especially painful because many nonpolitical admirers of Col. Glenn suspected at the time that his newly enthusiastic "friends" pushing him along in politics were using him; that they were opponents of either Sen. Young or Rep. Taft.

Whether or not they step forward to pay off the $8,500 looks like the definitive test of their "friendship."

Switch And Wastebasket

The sore point in the latest junk mail flareup that exploded a silly bill in the U.S. House of Representatives was "morally offensive" material falling into the hands of children.

This caused legislators to vote 325-19 for a bill to make the Post Office Department and Justice Department crack down on senders whenever recipients objected. Both departments protested, knowing they would be pestered by cranks.

The situation is like radio and television. People who object to what comes into their homes via these government-regulated facilities seem to have forgotten the turn-off switch. There is no quicker way to get rid of objectionable material. Plink! It's gone!

Here, too, the claim is made that children must be protected, along with the shameful acknowledgment in some instances that the kiddies cannot be controlled.

For this the federal government should take on one more costly responsibility? For this the Post Office Depatment and the Department of Justice would have to cope with every crackpot who didn't like the mail he was getting?

There's always the turn-off switch. There's always the wastebasket — that indispensable receptacle for printed material that was neither solicited nor welcome.

The Real Thing

By Truman Twill

Finally each summer there come "summer days" like the ones we remember.

This noteworthy. The seasons are fickle. Spring is never the way we remember it. Autumn is wetter or drier, hotter or colder. Winter is snowier or not so snowy.

But "summer days" run true to form. They follow the pattern. They're like they used to be.

Dogs still dig shallow pits under low-hanging bushes and spend the heat of the days absorbing the coolness of the shaded earth.

The sound of a piano lesson being practiced cuts through the stillness of a tree-lined residential street with the same ear-rasping clarity that made it distinctive before television and radio began to compete for attention.

A BOY'S TENT pitched on the back of a lot still represents the ultimate after-dark adventure when it contains the sleeping bodies of two hardy frontiersmen, age 11.

The sleepy-creepy sounds of night-time are the same on a patio as they used to to on front porches. Only one thing is missing—the creeking of the chains holding swings suspended from the porch ceiling.

Uniform ice cubes make the same musical tinkle in a glass pitcher of cold lemonade that was familiar early in the century when ice came in chunks and sligers picked off a 50-pound cake in the top of the ice box.

There are more shower baths than there used to be, but the refreshment of a good cleansing in hot water after a hard day's work is the same as it was when all shower baths were jerry-rigged contraptions in standard bathtubs.

The noonday sun is just as blazing, the humidity just as stifling and the sound of a thunderstorm rumbling out of the western sky just as ominous.

Likewise unchanged is the song of robins "hollering for rain" and their paeans of gratitude afterward when the earth has been refreshed and the air is cool and frangrant.

BASEMENTS still exude a musty-dusty fragrance in midsummer and the attics of old houses are still redolent of pine, honey and the gentle decay of the miscellany stored therein.

The night sky is still a canopy of blue-black velvet slashed to admit pinpoints of starlight.

A handful of wet leaves in the crown of a hat can still ameliorate the scorching rays of the sun, and a dipperful of cold water can still be the most delicious nectar that ever passed the lips of man.

They've given us air conditioning, automation, numbers, electric fans, bug spray, a day off, salt pills, automatic refrigeration and airy clothing. But somehwere someone is still turning the crank on an ice cream freezer on a back porch, or taking their ease in a porch rocker and flapping flies with a palm-leaf fan.

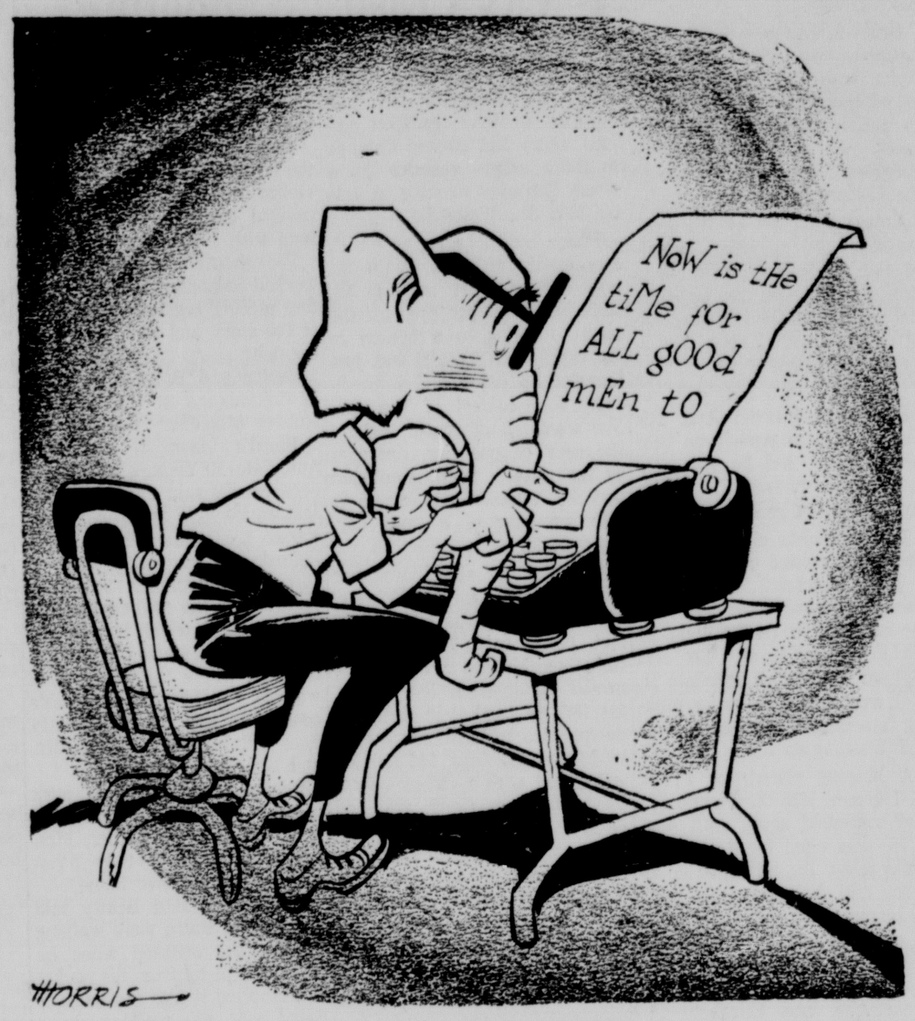
This 'n That

There is no difference in sweetness between pure cane sugar and pure beet sugar. Completely refined sugar made from sugar cane and completely refined sugar made from beets are identical in chemical composition. Only in the unrefined state is there any difference.

Of the 56 signers of the U.S. Declaration of Independence, 48 were born in this country. Of the remainder, three were born in Ireland, two in Scotland, two in England and one in Wales.

More than 50 per cent of the general American population have headaches, with women suffering more than men. Youngsters evidently have more headaches than adults, with 78 per cent of those under 20 suffering from them, while 28 per cent of those over 60 seem to be afflicted.

How Does That Go?



You'd Better Look Over Your Change!

By Marshall Peck

NEW YORK — Reach into your pocket and look over your change. It might go a lot further than its face value if you check the dates. Maybe.

"Here's an actual case for you," said expert New York numismaticist Seymour J. Pike the other day.

"A fellow came into our shop about four years ago. He's a bus driver. He didn't know a thing about coins or numismatic values. But he's a nice fellow, and we got to talking.

'Well, this man today is really something! Yes sir, Harry is making $300 to $400 a week in coins. And the source of his inventory is the change he seeks out from others."

PIKE HAS BEEN a coin collector since 1941, and the story he tells is something of a lament for the days when coins were collected solely for their beauty, and historical value and significance.

But as a realistic dealer, he has faced up to the speculative trend of present-day coin collecting, albeit with some regret and some reserve.

"It's true," he says. "You often can find something of value in your change, but the odds are becoming limited because everyone is looking — every subway clerk, bus driver, bank teller.

"That doesn't mean coins of special value aren't found—they are. It's just that while the potential exists, the probability is somewhat limited."

SOME VETERAN numismatists, Pike says, look with disdain on the new turn that coin collecting has taken. Once it was the lore of the coin that made it attractive: why was it issued, who was the person on it, how had it come into use? Those were things that counted when coin collecting was just . . . coin collecting.

"But today," said Pike, "it's a matter of the tail leading the horse. Today there are very few who want to collect coins for numismatic interest and value. Now the great percentage of people collecting are doing it for speculative potential. That is the criteria that is dominating this field today."

A large part of the sales are simply by the roll of coins—not by the individual coin.

THE PURCHASER of these rolls wants them not for display in a private collection of rare old coins, but simply to put away, for a month or year or more, in anticipation of speculative gain in value.

Pike refuses to sell coins by the roll because he does not want to encourage this speculation.

"I like to have people enjoy a hobby," says Pike, "and I'm disappointed that this is getting away from the fun of what it used to be. It's becoming just a business.

"People come to me and say: 'I'd like you to recommend something that will enable me to send my children to college.'

"I RECOMMEND government bonds. I won't go along with the idea of recommending coins as an investment.

"I won't promise any certain coin will be worth more.

"I will promise that you can learn a great deal. Have a pride of ownership. Get a great deal of pleasure out of adding something to your collection. And there's always the assurance that if you need money, you can always resell — but not always at a profit."

"As a matter of fact," Pike adds, "it's getting dangerous to invest money at the present coin prices. For instance, the average dealer may pay between $900 to $950 for a roll of 40 uncirculated 1950-D nickels.

"THAT'S GETTING pretty high because no one can say how long this upward trend will continue. I can't help but feel that people who expect coins to increase in value without interruption are going to be disappointed.

"There's an awful lot of ignorance motivating today's present rise. The feeling that coin prices always will go up and up and up, and never go down—that is the danger.

"People expect this and it results in careless buying, impetutous buying. It doesn't take any brilliance to realize a paper profit because there has been this continuing rise.

"SO FAR, the market has been able to absorb large quantities, and at the moment it's going pretty strong. But perhaps a test will come. And just as there's a mass psychology in buying, there's the same in selling.

"Of course, there is the side to it that this interest is preserving coins for collectors later, but the danger, it seems to me, is that we're pushing coin prices up to levels where they're beyond the reach of the average collector. To some extent we have frustrated begining collectors.

As an example of overenthusiastic buying by the public, Pike told of the 1957 proof set sales. Proof sets, now discontinued, are sets of five coins — half-dollar, quarter, dime, nickel, penny—struck on perfect metal at the Philadelphia Mint.

IN 1957, after years of rather limited issuance and increasing public interest, the mint issued 1,247,000 proof sets. The sets are sold by the mint, in cellophane wrapping, for $2.10.

"People hocked their souls to buy proof sets that year," Pike said, "and before the year was out, the price was down to $1.60. People actually lost money. They were so badly burned that in 1958 only 875,000 proof sets were made up."

"Old coins prices are not inflated; in fact, they're priced, generally, very modestly. You can get them for relatively little.

"AND THERE ARE coins with numismatic significance. They have a genuine value and they are being neglected. Did you ever know there was a 3-cent nickel? A 2-cent piece? And there are copperheads—these are large cents worn by those who were partisan to the Confederacy.

"There are flying eagle cent pieces, old quarters and half dollars, dollars. These are coins that had their places in the country's history."

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

"Traveling around the country we worried a lot about the poverty situation . . . as what tourist doesn't!"

Political Gambit

By Raymond Moley

GOP Talk Of Extremism Should Fade

During all of the debate at the San Francisco convention over what was called extremism, there was no effort at all by those who projected the issue to define what was meant by the word. If the subject was raised for purposes of reasonable discussion of issues, this would have required the substitution of an entirely new platform. But it was not raised for that purpose. It was a political gambit to injure Sen. Goldwater's chance for the nomination. And by following the rules of politics, which do not always follow the rules of reason, the substitute amendment defended by Gov. Rockefeller was aimed at the John Birch Society, but to stress guilt by association there were also named the Communists and the Ku Klux Klan.

THE AMENDMENT defended by Gov. Romney omitted names but merely would have put the party on record as opposing extremism. Again the rules of politics were invoked.

For everybody has his own definition of what is reasonable and what goes beyond what is necessary to reach an objective. Hence, his was a political gambit, too.

I'm not denying the existence of organizations some of whose tenets I regard as extreme in the sense that they go beyond what is necessary to reach a desirable objective. To cite one example, I believe it is silly to advocate the repeal of the income tax amendment, although I believe that the graduation which now prevails should be less steep.

THERE ARE. I would estimate, 50 to 100 organizations which advocate measures which I regard as extreme. But in most cases they also advocate some perfectly normal and desirable general objectives. These organizations are interested in propaganda, mostly printed.

They are not political in the sense that they help either of the major political parties in the business of nominating and electing candidates. Some have members and solicit memberships. Some consist only of a group or committee printed on a letterhead. Some are almost one-man or one-woman affairs.

I always have believed that these organizations are wasting valuable energy and money which would better be channelled into a political party. Also, I have often written in columns and books my disagreement with some of their charges and proposals.

But I also have recognized that many people have supported or joined these organizations (and here I'm speaking of those that call themselves conservative) because the Republican party has failed for many years to provide for them a congenial alternative. In short, they have wandered outside the channels agreed with both parties.

NOW, HOWEVER, the Republican party has adopted a statement of principles and nominated a candidate that does present a real alternative to the ruling majority of the Democratic party, the President, and the majority in Congress. The effect of this will be to draw away the support of the more reasonable people from such non-political organizations.

To be sure, there will be fringes in such organizations who will remain irreconcilable. I'm confident that these will, in order to keep their own names and organizations before the public, become critical of Goldwater himself before the campaign is over.

They cannot be absorbed and so they will march on into oblivion. Their support will decline, and their organziations will decline and for the most part die. Such an outcome is wholly natural and desirable. For national policies should be made or changed by legitimate political parties, not by propaganda agencies.

I cite the decline of the Socialist party since 1933. After Roosevelt inaugurated his New Deal and shaped his party, most of the milder Socialist ideas were absorbed and most Socialists became Democrats. Roosevelt, to be sure, rejected the standard Marxian schemes and public ownership and operation of all industry. Even Norman Thomas has stated this as the reason why his party has declined.

WE MAY or may not approve of some of the measures Roosevelt borrowed from Socialist doctrine. My point is that when a major party adopts a real alternative, those who are not unreasonable leave their splinters and join it.

So we shall hear less and less about extremism. Only the Democrats will use this word to pound Goldwater and their Republican opponents. The more violent Birch leaders, like Robert Welch, will sink into "innocuous desuetude."

Through The Years

County Commissioner Austin K. Getz of Salem was elected president of the Columbiana County Jurors Association, succeeding Judge W. F. Lones of Wellsville.

Fire Chief Joseph Davis of Chester and Fire Chief Harry Grant and Assistant Chief Harley Rardin of Newell attended the annual firemen's school at West Virginia University.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A group of girls employed in the invoice department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. were guests at a wiener roast given by Miss Peggy Finley of Georgetown.

The Columbiana County Republican executive committee recommended the appointment of Olen H. Dawson's widow, Mrs. Edith Cripps Dawson of East Liverpool to serve as county treasurer until November.

TEN YEARS AGO — Hugh E. Sarles, principal of East Liverpool High School since 1932, was appointed principal of the Berkley (Mich.) High School.

The Board of Education approved a budget of $1,655,167 for 1955, an increase of $12,212 over 1954.

Campaign Medicine

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Johnson has the problem of trying to take the steam out of Sen. Barry Goldwater's complaints about American foreign policy, particularly on two very sore points: Cuba and Viet Nam.

That he is working at it became clear over the weekend.

To bring Fidel Castro tumbling down, Goldwater has proposed various remedies, at various times—from backing an exile invasion of Cuba to shutting off non-Communist trade with it, even if it meant blockading with warships.

Sunday the American republics, through their foreign ministers, agreed not only on condemning Cuba for aggression but on approving strong economic and diplomatic sanctions against Castro's regime. The action had strong U.S. backing.

It was the strongest move by a conference of the ministers since Castro grabbed hold of Cuba on Jan. 1, 1959.

One quick way to step up and perhaps end the Communist guerrila attacks on South Viet Nam would be to extend the war to North Viet Nam. But that might bring Red China directly into the war. The Johnson administration has been reluctant to take the chance.

But Goldwater has said the United States "can and should end the fighting in Viet Nam by taking strong, affirmative action." This is just one of the things he has said. He has offered various suggestions on how to do this, too.

Sunday night The Associated Press said the United States and Viet Nam reportedly are about ready to announce new measures to step up the war.

This story said there has been no indication here as to the exact nature of these new measures.

But, the story said, they will emphasize this country's determination to support the freedom and independence of Viet Nam and do not involve spreading the war to the north.

In both cases—Viet Nam and the U.S.-backed OAS sanction against Cuba— the Johnson administration could say the new steps were natural developments without any political implications.

But, as Johnson said at his news conference last Friday, "I'm an old campaigner, I've been at it 30 years." Goldwater will have less to complain about if the clamp-down on Cuba gets tighter and the Vietnamese war tougher.

The American states' agreement on Cuba lets them, alone or together, use armed forces against Castro if he continues what the ministers officially described as aggression and subversion against other hemisphere republics.

It remains to be seen what they'll do since the actual carrying out of the actions approved by the foreign ministers must be the job of the individual governments.

Nevertheless Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, called the conference action a "body blow to Communist subversion in this hemisphere."

Mann's appointment to his present job was one of the first actions taken in the foreign affairs field by Johnson after he became president last November.

The mere act of the ministers' agreement won't topple Castro. And at this moment it seems unlikely any of the American states will invade Cuba.

It may even be unrealistic to expect the Latin-American countries which still have diplomatic relations with Cuba to break them off or even to break off all trade with Cuba, at least right away.

Actually, the Latin-American countries do little trading with Castro's Communist regime. But the psychological effect will hurt him and so will any drying up of such trade as there is.

War In The City Streets

The quality that distinguishes the outbreaks in New York and other cities from true civil rights demonstrations is their core of sheer rage. Police in other cities might have even less success in putting down what amounts to insurrection.

Police operations in recent years fortunately have provided new equipment and training. Radio and teletype communication have improved coordination of personnel. A policeman using a small walkie-talkie can bring a dozen fellow officers to his assistance within minutes.

Police in some cities carry pocket transistor radios on which they receive but cannot send messages. Some years ago Cleveland police reduced thefts of automobiles from 300 to 80 cases a month by use of the handie-talkie, a portable radiotelephone which enabled policemen at observation posts to signal pursuit cars stationed five or six blocks away.

A MORE controversial development is the use of the police dog. German shepherd dogs have long been used for police work in Europe. In the past decade, a growing number of U.S. police forces have added K-9 corps. The dogs are trained to work with a single policeman who usually houses the dog in his own home.

Police dogs are taught to bring down a fugitive by the arm or leg but not to inflict injury. Nevertheless, use of dogs to clear streets, particularly in Jackson, Miss., has been severely criticized.

Interest in special training of police for riot control has been heightened by racial conflicts. A Southern Regional Council report attributes the success of some Southern cities in keeping down street disorders during periods of racial tension to the effectiveness of such training and of preparations for possible emergencies. An important element of the training is impressing on police officers the need for impartial dealing with both white and black demonstrators.

TO COPE with the street crime issue raised at San Francisco by Sen. Goldwater, former President Eisenhower and Sen. John G. Tower of Texas, police will need all the advantages of training, technique, and equipment that can be given to them.

Day-to-day crime on city streets is an even greater evil, if less dramatic, than the street violence in New York and other cities.

Down To Earth

Thousands will converge on the district this week for two camp meetings which have been attracting the faithful for years.

The 127th annual services will get under way Thursday at picturesque Hollow Rock and the 82nd annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Free Methodist Church will open Tuesday morning at the grounds on Anderson Blvd.

Such camp meetings are down-to-earth gatherings which effectively supplement the religious activities which take place week after week in our churches.

The Moral Is Painful

The treasurer of last spring's ill-fated project to put Marine Col. John H. Glenn on the 1964 Democratic ticket for U.S. senator, instead of Sen. Stephen M. Young, has told a grim story about political disenchantment.

The group backing Col. Glenn still owes about $8,500, after creditors have boiled down accounts payable, he reports. Unless someone falls out of a tree with the $8,500, Col. Glenn may get stuck for the debt.

What makes the prospect doubly grim for the attractive and popular hero of the nation's first around-the-world space hero is that he didn't incur the debt. It was incurred by people who were hopeful of having him run against Robert Taft Jr. in this year's U.S. Senate race.

In their fervor to pit the space hero against an attractive young career politician, they bought things off the cuff, contrary to Col. Glenn's instructions to stay inside a campaign fund of $20,000. When Col. Glenn had the accident late last March that forced him to withdraw from the race, his instructions had been violated to the tune of $10,000. This has been whittled down to $8,500.

The moral of the story is painful: Political "friends" are soon parted. In this instance, it is especially painful because many nonpolitical admirers of Col. Glenn suspected at the time that his newly enthusiastic "friends" pushing him along in politics were using him; that they were opponents of either Sen. Young or Rep. Taft.

Whether or not they step forward to pay off the $8,500 looks like the definitive test of their "friendship."

Switch And Wastebasket

The sore point in the latest junk mail flareup that exploded a silly bill in the U.S. House of Representatives was "morally offensive" material falling into the hands of children.

This caused legislators to vote 325-19 for a bill to make the Post Office Department and Justice Department crack down on senders whenever recipients objected. Both departments protested, knowing they would be pestered by cranks.

The situation is like radio and television. People who object to what comes into their homes via these government-regulated facilities seem to have forgotten the turn-off switch. There is no quicker way to get rid of objectionable material. Plink! It's gone!

Here, too, the claim is made that children must be protected, along with the shameful acknowledgment in some instances that the kiddies cannot be controlled.

For this the federal government should take on one more costly responsibility? For this the Post Office Depatment and the Department of Justice would have to cope with every crackpot who didn't like the mail he was getting?

There's always the turn-off switch. There's always the wastebasket — that indispensable receptacle for printed material that was neither solicited nor welcome.

The Real Thing

By Truman Twill

Finally each summer there come "summer days" like the ones we remember.

This noteworthy. The seasons are fickle. Spring is never the way we remember it. Autumn is wetter or drier, hotter or colder. Winter is snowier or not so snowy.

But "summer days" run true to form. They follow the pattern. They're like they used to be.

Dogs still dig shallow pits under low-hanging bushes and spend the heat of the days absorbing the coolness of the shaded earth.

The sound of a piano lesson being practiced cuts through the stillness of a tree-lined residential street with the same ear-rasping clarity that made it distinctive before television and radio began to compete for attention.

A BOY'S TENT pitched on the back of a lot still represents the ultimate after-dark adventure when it contains the sleeping bodies of two hardy frontiersmen, age 11.

The sleepy-creepy sounds of night-time are the same on a patio as they used to to on front porches. Only one thing is missing—the creeking of the chains holding swings suspended from the porch ceiling.

Uniform ice cubes make the same musical tinkle in a glass pitcher of cold lemonade that was familiar early in the century when ice came in chunks and sligers picked off a 50-pound cake in the top of the ice box.

There are more shower baths than there used to be, but the refreshment of a good cleansing in hot water after a hard day's work is the same as it was when all shower baths were jerry-rigged contraptions in standard bathtubs.

The noonday sun is just as blazing, the humidity just as stifling and the sound of a thunderstorm rumbling out of the western sky just as ominous.

Likewise unchanged is the song of robins "hollering for rain" and their paeans of gratitude afterward when the earth has been refreshed and the air is cool and frangrant.

BASEMENTS still exude a musty-dusty fragrance in midsummer and the attics of old houses are still redolent of pine, honey and the gentle decay of the miscellany stored therein.

The night sky is still a canopy of blue-black velvet slashed to admit pinpoints of starlight.

A handful of wet leaves in the crown of a hat can still ameliorate the scorching rays of the sun, and a dipperful of cold water can still be the most delicious nectar that ever passed the lips of man.

They've given us air conditioning, automation, numbers, electric fans, bug spray, a day off, salt pills, automatic refrigeration and airy clothing. But somehwere someone is still turning the crank on an ice cream freezer on a back porch, or taking their ease in a porch rocker and flapping flies with a palm-leaf fan.

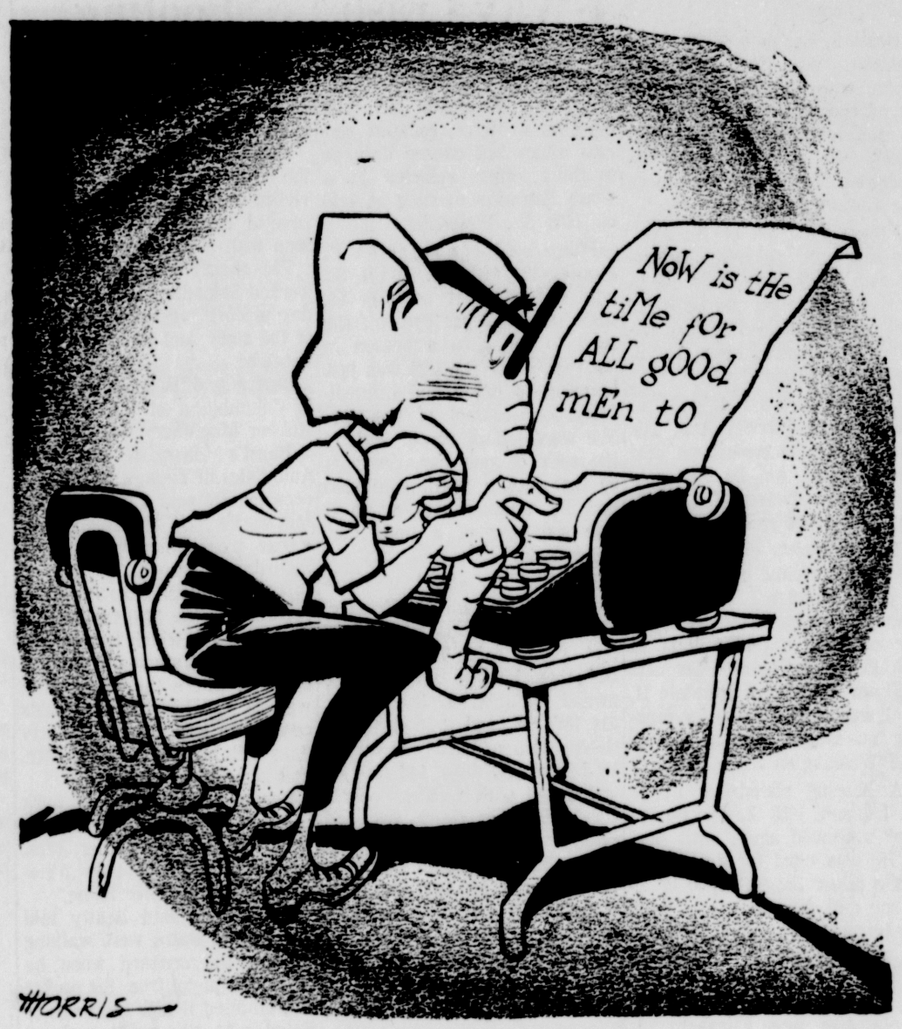
This 'n That

There is no difference in sweetness between pure cane sugar and pure beet sugar. Completely refined sugar made from sugar cane and completely refined sugar made from beets are identical in chemical composition. Only in the unrefined state is there any difference.

Of the 56 signers of the U.S. Declaration of Independence, 48 were born in this country. Of the remainder, three were born in Ireland, two in Scotland, two in England and one in Wales.

More than 50 per cent of the general American population have headaches, with women suffering more than men. Youngsters evidently have more headaches than adults, with 78 per cent of those under 20 suffering from them, while 28 per cent of those over 60 seem to be afflicted.

How Does That Go?



You'd Better Look Over Your Change!

By Marshall Peck

NEW YORK — Reach into your pocket and look over your change. It might go a lot further than its face value if you check the dates. Maybe.

"Here's an actual case for you," said expert New York numismaticist Seymour J. Pike the other day.

"A fellow came into our shop about four years ago. He's a bus driver. He didn't know a thing about coins or numismatic values. But he's a nice fellow, and we got to talking.

'Well, this man today is really something! Yes sir, Harry is making $300 to $400 a week in coins. And the source of his inventory is the change he seeks out from others."

PIKE HAS BEEN a coin collector since 1941, and the story he tells is something of a lament for the days when coins were collected solely for their beauty, and historical value and significance.

But as a realistic dealer, he has faced up to the speculative trend of present-day coin collecting, albeit with some regret and some reserve.

"It's true," he says. "You often can find something of value in your change, but the odds are becoming limited because everyone is looking — every subway clerk, bus driver, bank teller.

"That doesn't mean coins of special value aren't found—they are. It's just that while the potential exists, the probability is somewhat limited."

SOME VETERAN numismatists, Pike says, look with disdain on the new turn that coin collecting has taken. Once it was the lore of the coin that made it attractive: why was it issued, who was the person on it, how had it come into use? Those were things that counted when coin collecting was just . . . coin collecting.

"But today," said Pike, "it's a matter of the tail leading the horse. Today there are very few who want to collect coins for numismatic interest and value. Now the great percentage of people collecting are doing it for speculative potential. That is the criteria that is dominating this field today."

A large part of the sales are simply by the roll of coins—not by the individual coin.

THE PURCHASER of these rolls wants them not for display in a private collection of rare old coins, but simply to put away, for a month or year or more, in anticipation of speculative gain in value.

Pike refuses to sell coins by the roll because he does not want to encourage this speculation.

"I like to have people enjoy a hobby," says Pike, "and I'm disappointed that this is getting away from the fun of what it used to be. It's becoming just a business.

"People come to me and say: 'I'd like you to recommend something that will enable me to send my children to college.'

"I RECOMMEND government bonds. I won't go along with the idea of recommending coins as an investment.

"I won't promise any certain coin will be worth more.

"I will promise that you can learn a great deal. Have a pride of ownership. Get a great deal of pleasure out of adding something to your collection. And there's always the assurance that if you need money, you can always resell — but not always at a profit."

"As a matter of fact," Pike adds, "it's getting dangerous to invest money at the present coin prices. For instance, the average dealer may pay between $900 to $950 for a roll of 40 uncirculated 1950-D nickels.

"THAT'S GETTING pretty high because no one can say how long this upward trend will continue. I can't help but feel that people who expect coins to increase in value without interruption are going to be disappointed.

"There's an awful lot of ignorance motivating today's present rise. The feeling that coin prices always will go up and up and up, and never go down—that is the danger.

"People expect this and it results in careless buying, impetutous buying. It doesn't take any brilliance to realize a paper profit because there has been this continuing rise.

"SO FAR, the market has been able to absorb large quantities, and at the moment it's going pretty strong. But perhaps a test will come. And just as there's a mass psychology in buying, there's the same in selling.

"Of course, there is the side to it that this interest is preserving coins for collectors later, but the danger, it seems to me, is that we're pushing coin prices up to levels where they're beyond the reach of the average collector. To some extent we have frustrated begining collectors.

As an example of over-enthusiastic buying by the public, Pike told of the 1957 proof set sales. Proof sets, now discontinued, are sets of five coins — half-dollar, quarter, dime, nickel, penny—struck on perfect metal at the Philadelphia Mint.

IN 1957, after years of rather limited issuance and increasing public interest, the mint issued 1,247,000 proof sets. The sets are sold by the mint, in cellophane wrapping, for $2.10.

"People hocked their souls to buy proof sets that year," Pike said, "and before the year was out, the price was down to $1.60. People actually lost money. They were so badly burned that in 1958 only 875,000 proof sets were made up."

Genuinely great coins are going begging at reasonable prices, Pike said.

"Old coins prices are not inflated; in fact, they're priced, generally, very modestly. You can get them for relatively little.

"AND THERE ARE coins with numismatic significance. They have a genuine value and they are being neglected. Did you ever know there was a 3-cent nickel? A 2-cent piece? And there are copperheads—these are large cents worn by those who were partisan to the Confederacy.

"There are flying eagle cent pieces, old quarters and half dollars, dollars. These are coins that had their places in the country's history."

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

"Traveling around the country we worried a lot about the poverty situation . . . as what tourist doesn't!"

Through The Years

County Commissioner Austin K. Getz of Salem was elected president of the Columbiana County Jurors Association, succeeding Judge W. F. Lones of Wellsville.

Fire Chief Joseph Davis of Chester and Fire Chief Harry Grant and Assistant Chief Harley Rardin of Newell attended the annual firemen's school at West Virginia University.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A group of girls employed in the invoice department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. were guests at a wiener roast given by Miss Peggy Finley of Georgetown.

The Columbiana County Republican executive committee recommended the appointment of Olen H. Dawson's widow, Mrs. Edith Cripps Dawson of East Liverpool to serve as county treasurer until November.

TEN YEARS AGO — Hugh E. Sarles, principal of East Liverpool High School since 1932, was appointed principal of the Berkley (Mich.) High School.

The Board of Education approved a budget of $1,655,167 for 1955, an increase of $12,212 over 1954.

Political Gambit

By Raymond Moley

GOP Talk Of Extremism Should Fade

During all of the debate at the San Francisco convention over what was called extremism, there was no effort at all by those who projected the issue to define what was meant by the word. If the subject was raised for purposes of reasonable discussion of issues, this would have required the substitution of an entirely new platform. But it was not raised for that purpose. It was a political gambit to injure Sen. Goldwater's chance for the nomination. And by following the rules of politics, which do not always follow the rules of reason, the substitute amendment defended by Gov. Rockefeller was aimed at the John Birch Society, but to stress guilt by association there were also named the Communists and the Ku Klux Klan.

THE AMENDMENT defended by Gov. Romney omitted names but merely would have put the party on record as opposing extremism. Again the rules of politics were invoked.

For everybody has his own definition of what is reasonable and what goes beyond what is necessary to reach an objective. Hence, his was a political gambit, too.

I'm not denying the existence of organizations some of whose tenets I regard as extreme in the sense that they go beyond what is necessary to reach a desirable objective. To cite one example, I believe it is silly to advocate the repeal of the income tax amendment, although I believe that the graduation which now prevails should be less steep.

THERE ARE. I would estimate, 50 to 100 organizations which advocate measures which I regard as extreme. But in most cases they also advocate some perfectly normal and desirable general objectives. These organizations are interested in propaganda, mostly printed.

They are not political in the sense that they help either of the major political parties in the business of nominating and electing candidates. Some have members and solicit memberships. Some consist only of a group or committee printed on a letterhead. Some are almost one-man or one-woman affairs.

I always have believed that these organizations are wasting valuable energy and money which would better be channelled into a political party. Also, I have often written in columns and books my disagreement with some of their charges and proposals.

But I also have recognized that many people have supported or joined these organizations (and here I'm speaking of those that call themselves conservative) because the Republican party has failed for many years to provide for them a congenial alternative. In short, they have wandered outside the channels agreed with both parties.

NOW, HOWEVER, the Republican party has adopted a statement of principles and nominated a candidate that does present a real alternative to the ruling majority of the Democratic party, the President, and the majority in Congress. The effect of this will be to draw away the support of the more reasonable people from such non-political organizations.

To be sure, there will be fringes in such organizations who will remain irreconcilable. I'm confident that these will, in order to keep their own names and organizations before the public, become critical of Goldwater himself before the campaign is over.

They cannot be absorbed and so they will march on into oblivion. Their support will decline, and their organziations will decline and for the most part die. Such an outcome is wholly natural and desirable. For national policies should be made or changed by legitimate political parties, not by propaganda agencies.

I cite the decline of the Socialist party since 1933. After Roosevelt inaugurated his New Deal and shaped his party, most of the milder Socialist ideas were absorbed and most Socialists became Democrats. Roosevelt, to be sure, rejected the standard Marxian schemes and public ownership and operation of all industry. Even Norman Thomas has stated this as the reason why his party has declined.

WE MAY or may not approve of some of the measures Roosevelt borrowed from Socialist doctrine. My point is that when a major party adopts a real alternative, those who are not unreasonable leave their splinters and join it.

So we shall hear less and less about extremism. Only the Democrats will use this word to pound Goldwater and their Republican opponents. The more violent Birch leaders, like Robert Welch, will sink into "innocuous desuetude."

Campaign Medicine

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has the problem of trying to take the steam out of Sen. Barry Goldwater's complaints about American foreign policy, particularly on two very sore points: Cuba and Viet Nam.

That he is working at it became clear over the weekend.

To bring Fidel Castro tumbling down, Goldwater has proposed various remedies, at various times—from backing an exile invasion of Cuba to shutting off non-Communist trade with it, even if it meant blockading with warships.

Sunday the American republics, through their foreign ministers, agreed not only on condemning Cuba for aggression but on approving strong economic and diplomatic sanctions against Castro's regime. The action had strong U.S. backing.

It was the strongest move by a conference of the ministers since Castro grabbed hold of Cuba on Jan. 1, 1959.

One quick way to step up and perhaps end the Communist guerrila attacks on South Viet Nam would be to extend the war to North Viet Nam. But that might bring Red China directly into the war. The Johnson administration has been reluctant to take the chance.

But Goldwater has said the United States "can and should end the fighting in Viet Nam by taking strong, affirmative action." This is just one of the things he has said. He has offered various suggestions on how to do this, too.

Sunday night The Associated Press said the United States and Viet Nam reportedly are about ready to announce new measures to step up the war.

This story said there has been no indication here as to the exact nature of these new measures.

But, the story said, they will emphasize this country's determination to support the freedom and independence of Viet Nam and do not involve spreading the war to the north.

In both cases—Viet Nam and the U.S.-backed OAS sanction against Cuba— the Johnson administration could say the new steps were natural developments without any political implications.

But, as Johnson said at his news conference last Friday, "I'm an old campaigner, I've been at it 30 years." Goldwater will have less to complain about if the clamp-down on Cuba gets tighter and the Vietnamese war tougher.

The American states' agreement on Cuba lets them, alone or together, use armed forces against Castro if he continues what the ministers officially described as aggression and subversion against other hemisphere republics.

It remains to be seen what they'll do since the actual carrying out of the actions approved by the foreign ministers must be the job of the individual governments.

Nevertheless Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, called the conference action a "body blow to Communist subversion in this hemisphere."

Mann's appointment to his present job was one of the first actions taken in the foreign affairs field by Johnson after he became president last November.

The mere act of the ministers' agreement won't topple Castro. And at this moment it seems unlikely any of the American states will invade Cuba.

It may even be unrealistic to expect the Latin-American countries which still have diplomatic relations with Cuba to break them off or even to break off all trade with Cuba, at least right away.

Actually, the Latin-American countries do little trading with Castro's Communist regime. But the psychological effect will hurt him and so will any drying up of such trade as there is.

Wins National Citation

Mrs. Ethel L. Wambaugh Honored At BPW Session

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh receved a national citation for first place in programming at the annual week-long convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which concluded Friday in Detroit.

She won the award for the personal development conference which she directed last November in Columbus. She has served as state personal development chairman for the last two years. This spring she was named state third vice president.

Miss Virginia Allan, state president, made the presentation of the award during a program showcase highlighted by tableaux. Mrs. Wambaugh planned and directed the staging of the "Conference Tableau." The Wooster Club won first place in the world affairs program, "Project Puerto Rico."

Miss Joan Witt, the local club's delegate, participated in the committee which arranged the "Industrial Sharemanship" exhibit, displaying the products which affect the economy of the state and its neighbors. Ohio took second place honors, with East Liverpool playing a prominent part, as the new line of the Hall China Co. called "super ceram" was part of the exhibit. The state of Georgia finished first.

Miss Witt assisted with many events, acting as hostess for the "early bird breakfast" sponsored by the Ohio group and attended by 600. She also was hostess for the president of the Iowa Federation, presenting her with a gift basket of items contributed by club members and some Hall China ware. She served as a member of several committees and took slides of convention activities which she plans to screen at a future meeting of the club.

Ohio captured several other honors at the convention, which registered 2,855, with representatives from all states, along with the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico and Washington, D.C. Ohio had the second largest delegation, about 250. California had the most present.

District 8, of which the East Liverpool BPW Club is a member, took first place in a competition of 600 districts throughout the nation in the leadership conference which it sponsored last March in Canton.

Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president of the local club, was one of the speakers. Other members of the club who participated in the winning session were Mrs. Wambaugh, Miss Grace Woodward, Miss Joan Witt, Mrs. Lillie Belle Leonard, Mrs. Ethel Harvey and Mrs. Clara Hall. Mrs. Goldie Smith, district director, accepted the miniature silver gavel.

The membership award, won by Ohio, was accepted by Mrs. Donna Sims. The state was cited for having 12 cities increase membership by 25 per cent or more and having three clubs complete the past president's scroll.

As Detroit newspapers were on strike, the public relations consultants of the national federation published "The BPW Chronicle" daily, informing conventioneers who were arriving for just one day's activities of what had transpired. Mrs. Wambaugh enjoyed her first experience as "newsboy" selling the paper in the halls of the convention hotel.

Mrs. Margaret Alice Avery of Eaton, past president of the Ohio Federation, served as area contact and was chairman of the national nominating committee.

Open House Due In Lisbon Feting Physician, Wife

Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Egli of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., will be honored at an open reception Thursday night from 7 to 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hanahan of Pendleton and North Sts., Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Smith and children, Sherry, Karen and Tommy, of West Point and Airman L. Donald Smith, on furlough from the Air Force, were weekend guests of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith and family of Brockway, Pa., at their summer home.

Mrs. Donald Van Dyne and daughter, Darlinda, of East Liverpool visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Seibert of Salem Rd., over the weekend.

Warren Police Probe 2 Weekend Slayings

Frank Seawood, 36, of Warren, was shot in the chest Saturday night. Dr. Joseph Sudimack, Trumbull County coroner, said Seawood was shot during an argument at a party. Lorenze Reid, 30, of Warren, was stabbed fatally in the chest early Sunday in the Reid home. Police were holding his 25-year-old wife for questioning.

She served as a member of several committees and took slides of convention activities which she plans to screen at a future meeting of the club.

Ohio captured several other honors at the convention, which registered 2,855, with representatives from all states, along with the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico and Washington, D.C. Ohio had the second largest delegation, about 250. California had the most present.

District 8, of which the East Liverpool BPW Club is a member, took first place in a competition of 600 districts throughout the nation in the leadership conference which it sponsored last March in Canton.

Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president of the local club, was one of the speakers. Other members of the club who participated in the winning session were Mrs. Wambaugh, Miss Grace Woodward, Miss Joan Witt, Mrs. Lillie Belle Leonard, Mrs. Ethel Harvey and Mrs. Clara Hall. Mrs. Goldie Smith, district director, accepted the miniature silver gavel.

The membership award, won by Ohio, was accepted by Mrs. Donna Sims. The state was cited for having 12 cities increase membership by 25 per cent or more and having three clubs complete the past president's scroll.

As Detroit newspapers were on strike, the public relations consultants of the national federation published "The BPW Chronicle" daily, informing conventioneers who were arriving for just one day's activities of what had transpired. Mrs. Wambaugh enjoyed her first experience as "newsboy" selling the paper in the halls of the convention hotel.

Mrs. Margaret Alice Avery of Eaton, past president of the Ohio Federation, served as area contact and was chairman of the national nominating committee.

Mrs. Eva McCord

LISBON — The body of Mrs. Eva McCord, 60, of 850 N. Market St. was found hanging in the cellar at her home Sunday afternoon by a nephew who notified village police. Dr. William Kolozsi, county coroner, ruled death resulted from strangulation by hanging.

Born Aug. 4, 1903, in Elkrun Township, a daughter of George Gaylord Baker and Nanie B. Gamble Baker, she lived all her life in this area. Her husband, Willis F. McCord died Feb. 25. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and the Home and Garden Study Club and past matron of IVA Chapter Order of Eastern Star.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Nanie B. McKee of Lisbon; four sisters, Mrs. Olive Ogle of Lisbon, Mrs. Edith Hooper of Columbiana, Mrs. Mary Ritschard of Paris and Mrs. Helen Martin of Canton, and two step-sisters, Mrs. Esther Hollinger of Lisbon and Mrs. Dorothy Mitchell of Mt. Gilead.

Services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

James Davis Jr.

James W. Davis Jr., 3-month old son of James W. Davis and Carolyn Moore Davis of Francis St., was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital Saturday about noon.

Dr. Roy Costello, deputy county coroner, ruled the death resulted from natural causes. Mrs. Davis told authorities she had given the baby a bottle feeding at approximately 2 a. m. and did not see it again until she awakened at 6:15. She said when she checked at that time she thought the infant still was asleep. However, when the baby did not awaken for its 11 a.m. feeding, she investigated and found it apparently dead.

The fire department emergency truck was called and firemen attempted to revive the child pending the arrival of an ambulance which removed it to the hospital, police said.

The infant was born here April 28.

Besides his parents, he leaves a sister, Barbara Jean Davis, and a brother, Michael Wayne Davis, both at home; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore of Lisbon; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis of East Liverpool, and the maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Garnet Hancock of Chester.

Services were to be held this afternoon at 2:30 at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. John L. Clark, minister of the First Methodist Church.

Burial was to be in Shadow Lawn Memorial Gardens in Newell.

Death Claims Mrs. Bunch

STEUBENVILLE — Mrs. Charles S. Bunch, 55, the former Harriet Simeral, died Sunday at 9:50 a.m. in Ohio Valley Hospital here.

She had been ill for some time and entered the hospital last Tuesday when she became critical.

Mrs. Bunch was born in Steubenville Nov. 13, 1908, the daughter of Charles D. and Jessie Gladselter Simeral. Mr. Simeral, who died in 1947, was a former editor and publisher of the Steubenville Herald-Star, which he purchased from the late J. J. Gill in 1905. He in turn sold the newspaper to Louis H. Brush, Roy D. Moore and William H. Vodrey in 1925 and it became a member of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc. Mr. Simeral continued as a member of the Brush-Moore Board of Directors until his death.

Mrs. Bunch succeeded her father as a member of the Board of Directors, serving until she resigned several years ago.

She is survived by her husband and her son, Simeral, both at the residence in Steubenville.

Services will be held Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the chapel of the McClave Funeral Home, with burial in Steubenville Union Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. today.

Auto, Hay Bailer Collide On Span

SUMMITVILLE — A car driven by a Carroll County resident struck the side of a hay bailer of a local farmer Saturday afternoon at 5 on a narrow bridge on Franklin Township Rd. west of here, but no one was hurt.

James C. McKarns, 21, driver of the car, told Constable Forrest Young that his brakes failed as he attempted to halt for the tractor and hay bailer that was crossing a 14-foot-wide bridge. Ray Ketchum, 29, was driving the tractor.

McKarns related he was able to avoid the tractor but could not get out of the path of the bailer it was towing. There was extensive damage to the bailer and the auto, the constable reported.

Rock Slides Claim 2 In Hike On Mt. Ranier

LONGMIRE, Wash. (AP)— A rock slide described by a survivor as "a cloud of rocks" killed two teen-age girls, one of them a bride of two months, on Mt. Rainer Sunday. Three youngsters were injured.

They were in a party of 19 on a mile hike from the Nisqually River bridge eight miles above Longmire to the snout of Nisqually Glacier.

The dead were Elise Starr, 14, of Los Angeles, and Janet Leettola, 18, of Kent, Wash.

Elise was spending the summer here with her stepfather, Jess Levine, a Los Angeles schoolteacher and a seasonal naturalist at Mt. Rainier National Park.

Brighton Crash Hurts Beaver County Youths

Three Beaver County youths escaped serious injury Saturday night in Brighton Township when their car skidded and overturned on Tuscarawas Rd.

Treated at Rochester General Hospital for cuts and bruises were Mike McClain, 16, of 16-B, Midland Heights, and Terry Todd, 17, and Jerry Balser, 17, both of Industry R. D.

Brighton Township police said their car skidded and overturned at the crest of a hill. The car was termed a total loss.

Ancient people began to make alcoholic beverages for practical reasons, one being that there were few ways to preserve food. They found that grape juice soon spoiled, but that fermented juice, or wine, would keep. They also noticed that persons who drank fermented liquors did not become ill so often as those who drank water. This was not because alcoholic drinks themselves were more healthful, but that the water in many of the springs and wells was impure and caused people to become ill.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I deal with a couple of scratches on the enameled surface of a door?

A. The best way to repair these is with some of the original enamel, dripped into the scratches with a toothpick. After it dries, rub down with rottenstone. An easier treatment involves the filling in of the mars with a wax crayon matching the enamel color, followed by a wax polish.

Q. How can I prepare a soap solution for my children that will produce tough, hard-to-burst bubbles for them to blow?

A. Dissolve an ounce of soap flakes in eight ounces of water, add about four ounces of glycerin, and mix this thoroughly.

Q. When cutting meringue pies, how can I prevent the meringue from sticking to my knife?

A. By first dipping the knife into cold water.

Q. How can I keep the colors in silk fabrics from running?

A. Any colored silk fabric requires careful washing. One should never allow it to become real soiled before laundering. When washing, add a little salt to cold water, to prevent the color from running.

Q. How can I remove bloodstains from fabrics?

A. Wash in cold water until the stain is partly removed, then with warm soap and water. Or, with cold water and salt. If the fabric is heavy, apply a thick paste of raw starch and water, leave on until dry, then brush off—and repeat, if necessary.

Q. How can I freshen the atmosphere in a moldy or musty-smelling basement?

A. If you'll spray unslaked lime on the walls of your basement, this will freshen the atmosphere not only in the basement itself, but also in the entire house.

Q. How can I remove excess fat from some of my homemade soup?

A. By gently stirring the surface of your soup with an ice cube wrapped in a clean cloth. The fat will congeal on the cold surface and can be lifted out.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I deal with a couple of scratches on the enameled surface of a door?

A. The best way to repair these is with some of the original enamel, dripped into the scratches with a toothpick. After it dries, rub down with rottenstone. An easier treatment involves the filling in of the mars with a wax crayon matching the enamel color, followed by a wax polish.

Q. How can I prepare a soap solution for my children that will produce tough, hard-to-burst bubbles for them to blow?

A. Dissolve an ounce of soap flakes in eight ounces of water, add about four ounces of glycerin, and mix this thoroughly.

Q. When cutting meringue pies, how can I prevent the meringue from sticking to my knife?

A. By first dipping the knife into cold water.

Q. How can I keep the colors in silk fabrics from running?

A. Any colored silk fabric requires careful washing. One should never allow it to become real soiled before laundering. When washing, add a little salt to cold water, to prevent the color from running.

Q. How can I remove bloodstains from fabrics?

A. Wash in cold water until the stain is partly removed, then with warm soap and water. Or, with cold water and salt. If the fabric is heavy, apply a thick paste of raw starch and water, leave on until dry, then brush off—and repeat, if necessary.

Q. How can I freshen the atmosphere in a moldy or musty-smelling basement?

A. If you'll spray unslaked lime on the walls of your basement, this will freshen the atmosphere not only in the basement itself, but also in the entire house.

Q. How can I remove excess fat from some of my homemade soup?

A. By gently stirring the surface of your soup with an ice cube wrapped in a clean cloth. The fat will congeal on the cold surface and can be lifted out.

Today In History

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1866, the steamer Great Eastern moved into Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, paying out cable it had trailed all the way from Ireland. Two attempts had failed, but this time there was no break. Cyrus W. Field's long fight to establish instantaneous communication between Europe and America had succeeded.

On this date:

In 1789, Congress established the Department of Foreign Affairs, now the State Department.

In 1953, an armistice was signed at Panmunjom, ending the fighting in Korea.

Ten years ago — Britain and Egypt initialed a Suez Canal pact, ending 72 years of British military occupation in Egypt.

Five years ago—A U.N. committee denounced South Africa's treatment of Africans in Southwest Africa, a former German colony administered by South Africa.

One year ago—Malaya, Indonesia and Philippines leaders were considering turning over the Malaysian dispute to the United Nations.

City Student Chosen For Honors At OSU

Today In History

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1866, the steamer Great Eastern moved into Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, paying out cable it had trailed all the way from Ireland. Two attempts had failed, but this time there was no break. Cyrus W. Field's long fight to establish instantaneous communication between Europe and America had succeeded.

On this date:

In 1789, Congress established the Department of Foreign Affairs, now the State Department.

In 1953, an armistice was signed at Panmunjom, ending the fighting in Korea.

Ten years ago — Britain and Egypt initialed a Suez Canal pact, ending 72 years of British military occupation in Egypt.

Five years ago—A U.N. committee denounced South Africa's treatment of Africans in Southwest Africa, a former German colony administered by South Africa.

One year ago—Malaya, Indonesia and Philippines leaders were considering turning over the Malaysian dispute to the United Nations.

City Student Chosen For Honors At OSU

Countian Gets State Post In Legion Vote

A Columbiana County man was elected treasurer of the Ohio American Legion Sunday as the organization wound up its annual convention in Cincinnati.

Vernon B. Allen of Cleveland was elected state commander, succeeding Donald Gruenbaum of Marysville, who was chosen alternate national committeeman.

Other new officers are: C. William Heacock of Columbus, first vice commander; Dr. Michael Chakeres of London, second vice commander; the Rev. Kenneth L. Learey of Columbus, chaplain, and Alec J. Blair of Jackson, national executive committeeman.

Mrs. Leo McElroy of West Jefferson was elected state president of the Legion auxiliary, succeeding Mrs. William Gill of Minerva.

Other auxiliary officers named were Mrs. Homer Smith, McConnelsville, first vice president; Mrs. Franklin Beaverson, Gibsonburg, second vice president; Mrs. Lee Moore, Zanesville, secretary, and Mrs. James Warner, Akron, treasurer.

Senior Division — Drill team, Post 184, Piqua; band, Post 69, Reading; color guard, Post 421, Parkview; drum corps, Post 320, Maumee, and drum major, Post 554, Madisonville.

The Legion voted to hold its 1965 state convention in Cleveland July 16-18.

Among resolutions adopted was one supporting a proposed "right to pray" amendment to the U. S. Constitution. Another set down the Legion's opposition to any change in the wording of the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

Cleveland Youth Dies Following Street Fight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Peter F. Grabinski Jr., 18, of Cleveland died at Mount Sinai Hospital Sunday night of injuries suffered in a street fight with two other youths.

Police said Grabinski hurt his head when he feel to the pavement during the fight early Sunday. The two other youths were being sought for questioning.

Potato Price To Stay High

High potato prices are in prospect through late August, when harvest of the late crop begins, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Fresh fruit and vegetable prices and supplies change quite rapidly at this time of the year, Watkins commented. Strawberries, raspberries and cherries again are out of season, he said.

The first sprinkling of early apples, well suited for pies and sauce, are now coming on. These include Lodis, Transparents, William's Red and Red Birds.

Next week will see a few more early peaches on the market. Prices on peaches this year are high because the southern crop was extremely small this year and many have not yet had any of the new crop of peaches.

Ohio has a smaller than usual crop of peaches estimated at between 700,000 to 800,000 bushels compared with a normal crop of 900,000 to 1,000,000 bushels. The main crop of peaches will be available during the second week of August through the rest of the month.

Melons are looking better pricewise. Watermelons are quite economical. Cantaloupe prices declined with some southern Indiana fields coming into production.

Blueberries are now very much in season. West Coast fruit now in local markets includes apricots, plums, cherries and nectarines.

More than a half - million American homes are destroyed or damaged by fire every year, according to the National Fire Protection Association.

Student Returns Loan To Scholarship Fund

William Tychonievich, Beaver Local High School graduate who received a Citizens Scholarship Foundation grant in June, has advised the Foundation he no longer needs the funds.

Tychonievich said he has received a scholarship from the University of Connecticut which makes the "Dollars for Scholars" award no longer necessary.

The youth expressed his appreciation for the aid, and commended the Foundation:

"Not only does it brighten the future for many, it is a definite, progressive step toward tomorrow and the future growth of the community. We must realize that while we may not be our brother's keeper, there are certain times when it is to the advantage of ourselves and the community to be our brother's helper."

Radio astronomers have variously speculated that the radio signals from Jupiter emanate from tremendous electrical storms, from electrons trapped and energized by the planet's potent magnetic field, from the sun's effect on Jupiter's ionosphere or from powerful disturbances deep within the planet itself.

A motorist told police his 1953 station wagon was damaged in a hit-skip mishap on Pennsylvania Ave. 50 feet east of Flint Alley Saturday at 3:15 p. m.

James Lawton, 1933 Pennsylvania Ave., told police he heard a crash outside his home, but did not know what had caused the noise. About two hours later when he went outside to his car, he found the left side and front bumper had been damaged by a hit-skip vehicle, he said.

Another hit-skip incident was reported Sunday night at 9:30. William J. Schoolcraft, 1122 St. Clair Ave. told police the left side of his 1960 two-door sedan was damaged by a hit-run vehicle while parked in front of his home.

It is believed that paper was the invention of a high Chinese official who lived about 2,000 years ago. He used the beaten fibers of the inner bark of the mulberry tree matted together to form a white sheet.

Fete Concluded In Highlandtown

About 1,000 attended the closing of the Highlandtown volunteer firemen's homecoming celebration Saturday night.

The carnival and the round and square dancing marked the conclusion of the activities. Ray Leatherberry, general chairman, said 500 attended the horse - pulling contest held Saturday afternoon.

First prize went to Dale Rudibaugh of Wellsville, who also won third place with another team. Tom Cox of Lisbon won second and Earl Anderson of Industry was fourth.

Leatherberry thanked all those who aided in making the homecoming a success. He cited the judges for the parade Friday night and Jerry Russell of Leetonia, who served as master of ceremonies.

More than 100,000 different kinds of plants depend upon the bee for their pollination. Without the bee, we should have no pit fruits, berries or pod vegetables, no apples, currants, squash, melons, peas, alfalfa, clover, and so on and on.

Countian Gets State Post In Legion Vote

A Columbiana County man was elected treasurer of the Ohio American Legion Sunday as the organization wound up its annual convention in Cincinnati.

Vernon B. Allen of Cleveland was elected state commander, succeeding Donald Gruenbaum of Marysville, who was chosen alternate national committeeman.

Other new officers are: C. William Heacock of Columbus, first vice commander; Dr. Michael Chakeres of London, second vice commander; the Rev. Kenneth L. Learey of Columbus, chaplain, and Alec J. Blair of Jackson, national executive committeeman.

Mrs. Leo McElroy of West Jefferson was elected state president of the Legion auxiliary, succeeding Mrs. William Gill of Minerva.

Other auxiliary officers named were Mrs. Homer Smith, McConnelsville, first vice president; Mrs. Franklin Beaverson, Gibsonburg, second vice president; Mrs. Lee Moore, Zanesville, secretary, and Mrs. James Warner, Akron, treasurer.

Senior Division — Drill team, Post 184, Piqua; band, Post 69, Reading; color guard, Post 421, Parkview; drum corps, Post 320, Maumee, and drum major, Post 554, Madisonville.

The Legion voted to hold its 1965 state convention in Cleveland July 16-18.

Among resolutions adopted was one supporting a proposed "right to pray" amendment to the U. S. Constitution. Another set down the Legion's opposition to any change in the wording of the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

Cleveland Youth Dies Following Street Fight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Peter F. Grabinski Jr., 18, of Cleveland died at Mount Sinai Hospital Sunday night of injuries suffered in a street fight with two other youths.

Police said Grabinski hurt his head when he feel to the pavement during the fight early Sunday. The two other youths were being sought for questioning.

The paper used in the manufacture of U. S. currency is of the toughest linen, and is made by a secret process protected by statute, penalizing its manufacture by anyone for other purposes.

Potato Price To Stay High

High potato prices are in prospect through late August, when harvest of the late crop begins, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

Fresh fruit and vegetable prices and supplies change quite rapidly at this time of the year, Watkins commented. Strawberries, raspberries and cherries again are out of season, he said.

The first sprinkling of early apples, well suited for pies and sauce, are now coming on. These include Lodis, Transparents, William's Red and Red Birds.

Next week will see a few more early peaches on the market. Prices on peaches this year are high because the southern crop was extremely small this year and many have not yet had any of the new crop of peaches.

Ohio has a smaller than usual crop of peaches estimated at between 700,000 to 800,000 bushels compared with a normal crop of 900,000 to 1,000,000 bushels. The main crop of peaches will be available during the second week of August through the rest of the month.

Melons are looking better pricewise. Watermelons are quite economical. Cantaloupe prices declined with some southern Indiana fields coming into production.

Blueberries are now very much in season. West Coast fruit now in local markets includes apricots, plums, cherries and nectarines.

More than a half - million American homes are destroyed or damaged by fire every year, according to the National Fire Protection Association.

Student Returns Loan To Scholarship Fund

William Tychonievich, Beaver Local High School graduate who received a Citizens Scholarship Foundation grant in June, has advised the Foundation he no longer needs the funds.

Tychonievich said he has received a scholarship from the University of Connecticut which makes the "Dollars for Scholars" award no longer necessary.

The youth expressed his appreciation for the aid, and commended the Foundation:

"Not only does it brighten the future for many, it is a definite, progressive step toward tomorrow and the future growth of the community. We must realize that while we may not be our brother's keeper, there are certain times when it is to the advantage of ourselves and the community to be our brother's helper."

Radio astronomers have variously speculated that the radio signals from Jupiter emanate from tremendous electrical storms, from electrons trapped and energized by the planet's potent magnetic field, from the sun's effect on Jupiter's ionosphere or from powerful disturbances deep within the planet itself.

Horse Show Of Boosters Attracts 500

Mrs. Hazel Gaydos was general chairman and Carl L. Hines of Polk was judge for the 15 classifications.

Trophies for the open stock equitation classification went to Johnny Balko of Sharpsville, Pa., who rode Ray Jay, and Fred Shawgo of Grove City, on Fury. Runnersup were Patty Fellows of Bloomingdale on Bonnie Blue; Jerry Moore of East Liverpool on Count, and Paula Sue Seckman, also of East Liverpool on Pretty Boy.

Recipients of ribbons in other classifications, listing the first two winners and the names of the horses are:

Open saddle type: Patty Larimer of Greenville, Pa., Mr. In-Between, and Brenda Burns of Grafton, Ohio, Ace High. Open saddle spotted color pony: Barry Gray of New Castle, High and Mighty, and Brenda Burns of Grafton, Heart Desire.

Egg and spoon, Bob Millhorn of Lisbon, on Teddy, and Gary Booth of New Waterford, Duchess. Roadster pony: Richard Millis of Mercer, Pa., Thunder, and Norman Gaydos of Rogers, who rode Big Shot for the Mercer Stables of New Waterford.

Lead Line: Sabrina Mills of Mercer, Pa., Little Miss Muffet, and Julie Ann Hazel of Lisbon, Tony.

Trail horse, Balko, Ray Jay, and Mrs. Shirley Wilson of Lisbon, Lady.

Music sack: Bill Larimer of Greenville, Pa., Duchess, and Donald Payne of Lisbon, Brown Jug. Pleasure pony: Patty Karimer of Greenville, Dandy, and Jane Wilson of Leavittsburg, King.

The cake walk prize went to Jean Edgell. James Fries, who represented the Inter-County Horsemen's Association, was ringmaster and George Dunn, a past president of the club, was announcer.

Lt. Bus Copestick and Fireman Jack Gilbert, both of the LaCroft volunteer fire department were present on the field throughout the show.

Refreshments were served by the club. It was announced that the event will be an annual affair.

Chester District Family Recovers Weather Balloon

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wildman of Chester R.D. 1, had a strange caller from the sky Sunday — a little white box about a foot square, carried by a large orange balloon.

The object turned out to be a package of instruments released by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Pittsburgh Tuesday.

The name "Radiosonde" was printed on the box, along with instructions to forward the package to Joliet, Ill.

The package, which fell in the Wildman garden apparently tumbled to earth after the large balloon which carried it aloft was punctured by atmospheric pressure.

Hoffa

He has appealed that conviction.

The stocky union leader nervously paced the courtroom floor while waiting for the jury to return its verdict, but showed little outward emotion afterwards.

The case went to the jury Friday after 13 weeks of testimony and sparring between prosecution and defense.

It took two weeks for opposing attorneys to agree on the eight-man, four-woman jury. During the trial, the jurors were kept under lock and key at the Great Lakes Naval Base 30 miles north of Chicago and permitted only one monitored telephone call per day.

The jury returned separate findings on 147 charges — 21 naming each defendant. They had deliberated 17½ hours, returning to Great Lakes Friday and Saturday nights.

Judge Richard B. Austin set Aug. 17 for rulings on motions made immediately by defense attorneys for arrest of judgment, a directed verdict of acquittal despite the jury's findings, or a new trial. He ruled the defendants could remain free under present bond arrangements until the hearings.

Walsh said he planned to appeal Hoffa's conviction.

One defendant, Benjamin Dranow, 56, a former Minneapolis businessman now serving a prison term for tax fraud, was returned to jail.

The government's conspiracy conviction resulted from its charge that Hoffa and the others schemed to rescue Hoffa from a failing investment in a real estate project near Orlando, Fla.

Besides Hoffa and Dranow, the defendants are: Samuel Hyman, Calvin Kovens and Abe I. Weinblatt of Miami Beach; Zachard Strate Jr. of New Orleans and S. George Burris of New York.

700 Watch Mock Battle Staged At Lisbon Program

LISBON — Approximately 500 were in the grandstand Sunday night at the County Fairgrounds, along with 200 more lining the fences, to witness Col. Henry Bouquet's forces subdue the Pontiac Indians in a mock battle commemorating the 200th anniversary of Col. Bouquet's expedition through the county.

An estimated 1,000 or more lined the village streets for the anniversary parade Saturday night, which included Col. Bouquet's Colonial troops, frontiersmen, Indians, Scottish bagpipers from the Eagles's Lodge in Struthers, and the Robert Kelm family.

At a dinner Saturday night at Wick Hotel, guests were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Schmutz and two daughters of the Swiss Consulate and Mr. and Mrs. Alastair Maitland and son of the British consulate, both in Cleveland.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williams of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tusek; Dr. and Mrs. Wade Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Kelm, all of Lisbon, and William Stewart of New Kensington, Pa.

Band To Present Beaver Concert

The famed 661st Air Force Band will present a concert Sunday at Bradys Run State Park, according to Len Szafaryn, Beaver County director of recreation.

The concert is set for 2 p.m. at the band shell. The "Men In Blue" under the direction of CWO Robert Allee, is stationed at the Wright - Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton.

A senior men's doubles tennis tournament is scheduled for 6 tonight, while golf lessons are set for 6 to 8 p. m. Tuesday and tennis lessons from 1 to 3 p.m. Wednesday for children and 6 to 8 p.m. for adults.

Swimming lessons are scheduled Thursday from 10 to noon. Tennis lessons are scheduled the same day, for children from 1 to 3 p. m. and 6 to 8 for adults. Golf lessons will be conducted from 6 to 8. Swimming lessons also are scheduled Saturday from 10 to noon.

Moon

dered the gathering of data for locating possible astronaut landing areas and for designing the Apollo spacecraft in which they will ride.

In a 13-minute, 40-second session before Ranger 7's lunar landing, its six television cameras are to snap more than 4,000 pictures and transmit them to Goldstone, Calif., for processing.

The cameras were geared to operate from an altitude of 1,120 miles to the moment before impact.

Space agency officials said the close-in photos might enable analysts to distinguish objects on the moon the size of an automobile. Astronomers using the best earth-based telescopes can't distinguish features much less than a mile in diameter.

Scientists hoped to maneuver Ranger 7 to an area west of the moon's center, on the left as seen from earth, where lighting presently is most favorable. The goal was to obtain pictures of Maria, large dark areas which appear to be relatively flat and thus possible astronaut landing spots.

The precise landing point is to be determined after Ranger 7 is airborne.

Euclid Sessions Draw 9 Jaycees

Nine members of the East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce attended the All-State meeting at Euclid Saturday and Sunday.

Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, district vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kidd, local president, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conroy, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McDevitt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grafton, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Conners, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Goodman. Also attending was Paul Zehnder.

They attended various project forums and officers' meetings. Robert Taft Jr. was the principal speaker at a noon luncheon Sunday.

housing, schools and alleged police brutality.

As police patrolled Sunday in pairs, instead of in groups, a department spokesman said: "We hope this will return the situation to normal."

At various spots in Brooklyn Sunday night, three kerosene-filled bottles were thrown, one into a real estate office doorway, another into the entrance of a tavern, while a third burned in the street. A man in the tavern was reported burned on the right arm and neck.

Damage was slight and there were no disturbances on the streets at the time, police said.

City Councilman Arthur J. Katzman said he will ask the council to seek Mayor Robert F. Wagner's support in creating a citizens committee to investigate the July 16 shooting of a Negro boy by a white policeman. The boy's death sparked last week's riots.

Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy has consistently opposed creation of a citizens review board to investigate charges of brutality and other complaints against police.

On Saturday afternoon, police arrested William Epton, 32, Harlem Negro and avowed Communist, when he appeared on a Harlem street to lead a protest march. Murphy had banned the demonstration.

Epton, leader of the Harlem Defense Council, an offshoot of the Communist-controlled Progressive Labor Movement, had predicted 1,000 marchers. Several hundred persons appeared, mostly spectators. Police quickly dispersed them.

Epton and his attorney, Conrad J. Lynn, 54, were charged with unlawful assembly and released.

2 Beaver County Men Hurt In Route 7 Crash

Two Beaver County men were injured when the car in which they were riding struck a guardrail along Route 7 just north of Port Homer Sunday at 6 a. m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a northbound car driven by Benjamin Howarth, 23, of 5th St., Beaver, struck the guardrail after he apparently fell asleep. Howarth escaped injury but two passengers were treated at City Hospital. Jerry Ellis, 20, of West Bridgewater had a laceration of the chin and Donald Novac, 21, of Beaver suffered abrasions of the chin, upper lip and nose.

Paul R. Meyers, 19, of Beaver was examined but apparently had no injury.

City Driver Cited In 2-Way Mishap

An East Liverpool woman was cited in a two-car rear-end collision on Route 66 near Newell Friday night, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

Linda K. Ronshausen, 19, was cited on a charge of failure to have her auto under control after her 1960 model car struck the rear of a 1964 sedan of Anthony G. Nardo, 27, of Warren, deputies said.

Both were northbound. The accident at 8:40 happened in the midst of heavy traffic from Waterford Park Race Track, deputies said. Mrs. Marie Nardo, a passenger in her husband's car, suffered a whiplash injury of the neck and was to be examined by her physician, officers added.

They listed $200 damage to each car.

Aid

Convention starts in Atlantic City on Aug. 24, has two appropriations bills ready for action this week in case the foreign aid bill is finished up early. They would appropriate $46.7 billion for the Defense Department and $210.3 million to run Congress.

House action this week centers on two bills, one increasing Social Security benefits and raising the tax that supports them, and the other creating a national wilderness system.

House leaders hope to clear the antipoverty bill for floor action next week. It comes up for a vote in the Rules Committee Tuesday. That's the last big legislative chore left for the House except for final action on the money bills after the Senate passes them.

4-H Members Return From Michigan Visit

LISBON — Nine 4-H members and three advisors returned late Saturday night from a week's stay in St. Joseph County, Mich., according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work.

The visit was part of a program patterned after the International Farm Youth Exchange Program to help get ideas for local and county 4-H programs.

Nine 4-H members and three adults from St. Joseph County were guests of county 4-H members and their families the week of July 12 in the first phase of the exchange program.

10 At Jamboree Win 'Adventure' Awards

Ten of the group of Boy Scouts from Columbiana County who attended the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge last week qualified for the Adventure Award at the event.

They included Jonathan Ramsey, Gilbert Richards, James Wallover and Terry Calhoun of East Liverpool, Mike Hannum of Negley, Dean Watson of Chester, George Boeckling of New Waterford, Fred Crowgey of Salem and Steve Koch and John Morlan of Columbiana.

Horse Show Of Boosters Attracts 500

Mrs. Hazel Gaydos was general chairman and Carl L. Hines of Polk was judge for the 15 classifications.

Trophies for the open stock equitation classification went to Johnny Balko of Sharpsville, Pa., who rode Ray Jay, and Fred Shawgo of Grove City, on Fury. Runnersup were Patty Fellows of Bloomingdale on Bonnie Blue; Jerry Moore of East Liverpool on Count, and Paula Sue Seckman, also of East Liverpool on Pretty Boy.

Recipients of ribbons in other classifications, listing the first two winners and the names of the horses are:

Open saddle type: Patty Larimer of Greenville, Pa., Mr. In-Between, and Brenda Burns of Grafton, Ohio, Ace High. Open saddle spotted color pony: Barry Gray of New Castle, High and Mighty, and Brenda Burns of Grafton, Heart Desire.

Egg and spoon, Bob Millhorn of Lisbon, on Teddy, and Gary Booth of New Waterford, Duchess. Roadster pony: Richard Millis of Mercer, Pa., Thunder, and Norman Gaydos of Rogers, who rode Big Shot for the Mercer Stables of New Waterford.

Trail horse, Balko, Ray Jay, and Mrs. Shirley Wilson of Lisbon, Lady.

Music sack: Bill Larimer of Greenville, Pa., Duchess, and Donald Payne of Lisbon, Brown Jug. Pleasure pony: Patty Karimer of Greenville, Dandy, and Jane Wilson of Leavittsburg, King.

The cake walk prize went to Jean Edgell. James Fries, who represented the Inter-County Horsemen's Association, was ringmaster and George Dunn, a past president of the club, was announcer.

Lt. Bus Copestick and Fireman Jack Gilbert, both of the LaCroft volunteer fire department were present on the field throughout the show.

Refreshments were served by the club. It was announced that the event will be an annual affair.

Chester District Family Recovers Weather Balloon

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wildman of Chester R.D. 1, had a strange caller from the sky Sunday — a little white box about a foot square, carried by a large orange balloon.

The object turned out to be a package of instruments released by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Pittsburgh Tuesday.

The name "Radiosonde" was printed on the box, along with instructions to forward the package to Joliet, Ill.

The package, which fell in the Wildman garden apparently tumbled to earth after the large balloon which carried it aloft was punctured by atmospheric pressure.

Maryland is cut almost in two by the Chesapeake Bay.

He has appealed that conviction.

The stocky union leader nervously paced the courtroom floor while waiting for the jury to return its verdict, but showed little outward emotion afterwards.

The case went to the jury Friday after 13 weeks of testimony and sparring between prosecution and defense.

It took two weeks for opposing attorneys to agree on the eight-man, four-woman jury. During the trial, the jurors were kept under lock and key at the Great Lakes Naval Base 30 miles north of Chicago and permitted only one monitored telephone call per day.

The jury returned separate findings on 147 charges — 21 naming each defendant. They had deliberated 17½ hours, returning to Great Lakes Friday and Saturday nights.

Judge Richard B. Austin set Aug. 17 for rulings on motions made immediately by defense attorneys for arrest of judgment, a directed verdict of acquittal despite the jury's findings, or a new trial. He ruled the defendants could remain free under present bond arrangements until the hearings.

Walsh said he planned to appeal Hoffa's conviction.

One defendant, Benjamin Dranow, 56, a former Minneapolis businessman now serving a prison term for tax fraud, was returned to jail.

The government's conspiracy conviction resulted from its charge that Hoffa and the others schemed to rescue Hoffa from a failing investment in a real estate project near Orlando, Fla.

Besides Hoffa and Dranow, the defendants are: Samuel Hyman, Calvin Kovens and Abe I. Weinblatt of Miami Beach; Zachard Strate Jr. of New Orleans and S. George Burris of New York.

LISBON — Approximately 500 were in the grandstand Sunday night at the County Fairgrounds, along with 200 more lining the fences, to witness Col. Henry Bouquet's forces subdue the Pontiac Indians in a mock battle commemorating the 200th anniversary of Col. Bouquet's expedition through the county.

An estimated 1,000 or more lined the village streets for the anniversary parade Saturday night, which included Col. Bouquet's Colonial troops, frontiersmen, Indians, Scottish bagpipers from the Eagles's Lodge in Struthers, and the Robert Kelm family.

At a dinner Saturday night at Wick Hotel, guests were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Schmutz and two daughters of the Swiss Consulate and Mr. and Mrs. Alastair Maitland and son of the British consulate, both in Cleveland.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williams of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tusek; Dr. and Mrs. Wade Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Kelm, all of Lisbon, and William Stewart of New Kensington, Pa.

Band To Present Beaver Concert

The famed 661st Air Force Band will present a concert Sunday at Bradys Run State Park, according to Len Szafaryn, Beaver County director of recreation.

The concert is set for 2 p.m. at the band shell. The "Men In Blue" under the direction of CWO Robert Allee, is stationed at the Wright - Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton.

A senior men's doubles tennis tournament is scheduled for 6 tonight, while golf lessons are set for 6 to 8 p. m. Tuesday and tennis lessons from 1 to 3 p.m. Wednesday for children and 6 to 8 p.m. for adults.

Swimming lessons are scheduled Thursday from 10 to noon. Tennis lessons are scheduled the same day, for children from 1 to 3 p. m. and 6 to 8 for adults. Golf lessons will be conducted from 6 to 8. Swimming lessons also are scheduled Saturday from 10 to noon.

Moon

dered the gathering of data for locating possible astronaut landing areas and for designing the Apollo spacecraft in which they will ride.

In a 13-minute, 40-second session before Ranger 7's lunar landing, its six television cameras are to snap more than 4,000 pictures and transmit them to Goldstone, Calif., for processing.

The cameras were geared to operate from an altitude of 1,120 miles to the moment before impact.

Space agency officials said the close-in photos might enable analysts to distinguish objects on the moon the size of an automobile. Astronomers using the best earth-based telescopes can't distinguish features much less than a mile in diameter.

Scientists hoped to maneuver Ranger 7 to an area west of the moon's center, on the left as seen from earth, where lighting presently is most favorable. The goal was to obtain pictures of Maria, large dark areas which appear to be relatively flat and thus possible astronaut landing spots.

The precise landing point is to be determined after Ranger 7 is airborne.

Euclid Sessions Draw 9 Jaycees

Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, district vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kidd, local president, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Conroy, Mr. and Mrs. Richard McDevitt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grafton, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Conners, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Goodman. Also attending was Paul Zehnder.

They attended various project forums and officers' meetings. Robert Taft Jr. was the principal speaker at a noon luncheon Sunday.

Riots

housing, schools and alleged police brutality.

As police patrolled Sunday in pairs, instead of in groups, a department spokesman said: "We hope this will return the situation to normal."

At various spots in Brooklyn Sunday night, three kerosene-filled bottles were thrown, one into a real estate office doorway, another into the entrance of a tavern, while a third burned in the street. A man in the tavern was reported burned on the right arm and neck.

Damage was slight and there were no disturbances on the streets at the time, police said.

City Councilman Arthur J. Katzman said he will ask the council to seek Mayor Robert F. Wagner's support in creating a citizens committee to investigate the July 16 shooting of a Negro boy by a white policeman. The boy's death sparked last week's riots.

Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy has consistently opposed creation of a citizens review board to investigate charges of brutality and other complaints against police.

On Saturday afternoon, police arrested William Epton, 32, Harlem Negro and avowed Communist, when he appeared on a Harlem street to lead a protest march. Murphy had banned the demonstration.

Epton, leader of the Harlem Defense Council, an offshoot of the Communist-controlled Progressive Labor Movement, had predicted 1,000 marchers. Several hundred persons appeared, mostly spectators. Police quickly dispersed them.

Epton and his attorney, Conrad J. Lynn, 54, were charged with unlawful assembly and released.

2 Beaver County Men Hurt In Route 7 Crash

Two Beaver County men were injured when the car in which they were riding struck a guardrail along Route 7 just north of Port Homer Sunday at 6 a. m.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a northbound car driven by Benjamin Howarth, 23, of 5th St., Beaver, struck the guardrail after he apparently fell asleep. Howarth escaped injury but two passengers were treated at City Hospital. Jerry Ellis, 20, of West Bridgewater had a laceration of the chin and Donald Novac, 21, of Beaver suffered abrasions of the chin, upper lip and nose.

Paul R. Meyers, 19, of Beaver was examined but apparently had no injury.

City Driver Cited In 2-Way Mishap

An East Liverpool woman was cited in a two-car rear-end collision on Route 66 near Newell Friday night, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

Linda K. Ronshausen, 19, was cited on a charge of failure to have her auto under control after her 1960 model car struck the rear of a 1964 sedan of Anthony G. Nardo, 27, of Warren, deputies said.

Both were northbound. The accident at 8:40 happened in the midst of heavy traffic from Waterford Park Race Track, deputies said. Mrs. Marie Nardo, a passenger in her husband's car, suffered a whiplash injury of the neck and was to be examined by her physician, officers added.

They listed $200 damage to each car.

Convention starts in Atlantic City on Aug. 24, has two appropriations bills ready for action this week in case the foreign aid bill is finished up early. They would appropriate $46.7 billion for the Defense Department and $210.3 million to run Congress.

House action this week centers on two bills, one increasing Social Security benefits and raising the tax that supports them, and the other creating a national wilderness system.

House leaders hope to clear the antipoverty bill for floor action next week. It comes up for a vote in the Rules Committee Tuesday. That's the last big legislative chore left for the House except for final action on the money bills after the Senate passes them.

4-H Members Return From Michigan Visit

LISBON — Nine 4-H members and three advisors returned late Saturday night from a week's stay in St. Joseph County, Mich., according to Robert Lewis, county extension agent in 4-H work.

The visit was part of a program patterned after the International Farm Youth Exchange Program to help get ideas for local and county 4-H programs.

Nine 4-H members and three adults from St. Joseph County were guests of county 4-H members and their families the week of July 12 in the first phase of the exchange program.

10 At Jamboree Win 'Adventure' Awards

Ten of the group of Boy Scouts from Columbiana County who attended the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge last week qualified for the Adventure Award at the event.

They included Jonathan Ramsey, Gilbert Richards, James Wallover and Terry Calhoun of East Liverpool, Mike Hannum of Negley, Dean Watson of Chester, George Boeckling of New Waterford, Fred Crowgey of Salem and Steve Koch and John Morlan of Columbiana.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: For all those new mothers who are having their babies now, please remember that the Infant Christ reposed in a manger filled with straw, Abe Lincoln was raised with practically no luxuries and if I may use my own experience in the same breath — my son is a fine lad now and I spent less than $40 for furniture, clothing and supplies when he was born.

As long as the baby is comfortable, warm, dry and well-fed, and most of all, loved, your baby will never know — and couldn't care less—whether you spent $50 or $5,000 for his furniture. And think of the satisfaction of having your baby and not too warped a budget!

Debt is a terrible thing.

Just love your baby well. . . .

MOTHER ON A BUDGET.

-:-

DEAR MOTHER: My heart goes out to you. All the mothers who wrote have completely captured my heart. True, the baby couldn't care less. He hasn't been taught (and you figured that out, mommies) to know the difference between something expensive or inexpensive... yet. . . .

Many fathers wrote: "Please don't let your readers go off on a tangent. I did. My wife asked me not to.

I was proud of our first baby and wanted him to have the best of everything. Now that we have doctor bills and the next baby is on the way, I only wish I had listened to my wife."

Others wrote:

"Heloise, we were very poor. We got a cardboard box from our grocery store; my wife made a beautiful cover for it from flour sacks. We put a bed pillow in the bottom of the box with a pillow case on it. It worked perfectly.

As the child grew we got larger boxes from the store. But we never went in debt. We have never bought anything on time in our lives and we have a little money in the bank due to my wife's thriftiness. So now we will have our child's teeth straightened."

Another wrote:

'Heloise, please don't let all these young brides go into debt buying expensive baby furniture and strollers and pretty little clothes. The baby really doesn't care. He doesn't know a $3.95 outfit from a 69 cent nightgown. We found out — too late — that the 69 cent nightgown paid off in the long run because my wife didn't have to iron it after it was washed (which was often because every time we put it on him, he spit up).

Too, my wife is pregnant again. I wish we had the money back we paid for all the extra, fancy stuff to pay the hospital bills for the second baby."

DEAR HELOISE: I have five married daughters. All have from three to five little babies. When they come, they are like pennies from heaven. I try to help them all.

All a baby really needs is dry diapers (And I beg of every mother to keep the baby's diapers dry and check them every 30 minutes or so ... a blistered bottom means a doctor's bill!) Laundering the diapers is far cheaper.

It is really a difference of about six diapers a day. I suggest that any money a mother has to spend should be used for buying diapers.

DEAR HELOISE: Watch the want ads in the paper and buy your furniture second hand if you have to. All that is really necessary is a few basic clothes. And please tell the mothers to remember that as the baby grows they can buy other necessities. Better yet, after the baby comes they will meet friends with older babies who will give them things that will save on the budget.

And this goes on and on, girls. Remember, people have been having babies for years and years. Just don't go out on a limb and go hog wild going into debt for any item, whether it be for a baby or for yourself. Sure prevents sleepless nights, etc. . . later!

You probably don't remember it, but in the days of horses and buggies, they used say, "Pull on the reins tightly and the horse will slow down."

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: One of my hints to share is a use for those gathered skirts you get tired of . . . just rip them apart and make colored pillow cases!

These are fine for children's rooms or for traveling and saves those fancy white ones.

Louise.

French TV In Roundabout Way

What excuse does a TV columnist trump up to see Simone Signoret, who is here from Paris to do a movie?

Hal Humphrey

First he calls the press agent, who is happy to tell him any lie he wants to hear.

"Maybe Miss Signoret has some thoughts on French TV," the columnist suggests.

"Of course she does, and she also watches our TV every night after she gets home from the studio. Please do me a favor—don't forget Miss Signoret is one of the 10 stars in Stanley Kramer's 'Ship of Fools' production now being filmed in wide screen black and white. We'll see you tomorrow afternoon at 3."

AT COLUMBIA STUDIOS the next day Miss Signoret is looking very chic and French in white stretch pants and a pink shirt. Her acquaintanceship with TV (French or American), however, is as limited as an average American tourist's ability to ask in French, "Where is the Tower Eiffel?"

Her first appearance on French TV took place just before her coming to Hollywood this time. Miss Signoret had been banned from doing TV there because of her stand on the Algerian crisis.

"Ah, but that is all over now, and the government did what we said it should do anyway, so let's not talk about it," said Miss Signoret, with a dramatic Gallic shrug.

-:-

WHEN SHE WAS HERE four years ago, Miss Signoret did her first and only dramatic TV with Lee Marvin in a "Theater" show. Lee was asked at that time what he thought of her.

"Total," he said. "This one is total."

Lee happens to be in "Ship of Fools," too, and although I didn't get to ask, he probably hasn't changed his mind, because Miss Signoret undoubtedly is just as "total" today.

AS I RECALL, Miss Hopper was quite irritated at some of the comments her panel mates made about career women, but all must have been forgiven. Miss Signoret had no trouble getting her Hollywood visa stamped again.

The reason she couldn't give me a judgment on American TV this trip is that she never looks at it.

"I mustn't turn it on, or I'm stuck, and then I don't get any sleep. I love to watch the old movies. They're so marvelous."

A TV producer currently is negotiating with Miss Signoret's agent for her to act as narrator-guide in a special TV tour of Paris, the way Liz Taylor did in London last fall.

THIS IS GETTING to be quite the vogue now. There was "World of Sophia Loren," and next season Inger Stevens is scheduled to take viewers on a tour of Stockholm and environs.

Mr. France himself, M. Chevalier, gave us a TV tour of Paris some years ago, but his accent got thicker than Genevieve's (Jack Paar's French import), and a lot of viewers thought somebody had forgotten to put on the English subtitles.

"Ah, yes, Grandpa has to keep developing his accent," said Miss Signoret, "and don't forget he lived in America for many years. Keeping the accent is a real trick. Ah, but don't get me in trouble with Grandpa. He's so wonderful."

BUT THE NICE THING about touring Paris with Miss Signoret would be her accent. You can tell she isn't from Arkansas — but you can still understand the words.

Simple and good: heat canned cream - style or whole - kernel corn and top with crisply cooked bacon in strips or crumbled. Delicious with scrambled eggs for weekday lunch or a Sunday brunch.

Arizona Youth Saves Girl Despite Warning

GLOBE, Ariz. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Peter Grothe of Globe has a cold, and was on strict orders from Mom to stay out of the water over the weekend.

However, while playing along the banks of Pinal Creek Sunday, he saw 5-year-old Beth Golden being swept downstream. She had been wading in the creek near her home and was carried out of the shallow water into the swift current.

Peter jumped in the water, grabbed the girl and held tight as they were swept another 150-feet downstream. Then he helped the girl scramble ashore.

"Boy, I'll get it when I get home," said the boy to a sheriff's deputy. "I've got a cold and wasn't supposed to get wet."

Mackenzie Honored

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta. (AP)—Ten men and a dog honored the memory of Sir Alexander Mackenzie recently, 171 years after he paddled down the Peace River. Dressed in deer skins and moccasins, they paddled 180 miles along the course Mackenzie followed in 1793 to highlight a celebration that ranged throughout the Peace River areas of Alberta and British Columbia.

How To Cope With Weight Plateaus

Alternate periods of reducing are followed by a plateau in which no weight is lost. This appears to be nature's plan for stabilizing your weight at a lower level.

Ida Jean Kain

If the pointer on the scales plunges with pleasing suddenness at the start of your diet, you are losing stored water, plus fat. Following this initial fast rate, you then reduce according to your calorie deficit. From then on, the weekly loss, while less dramatic, represents a loss in body fat.

—:—

ON THE contrary, if you are plagued with that bugaboo, water retention, you may not lose at all for the first week or two. Not until the water is released from the tissues does the pointer on the scales register the loss.

As a rule, the more overweight you are, the more you are likely to lose at the start of the diet. With considerable soft fat, there is more surplus water in the tissues. When stored water is released from millions of cells simultaneously, the pointer plunges. There are reports of 10 to 18 pounds of weight loss the first week of a diet. A 5 to 7 pound loss the first week is not unusual. Since a large portion of this loss represents water, you would not continue at this rate.

Nevertheless, whether you lose fast at first or with discouraging slowness, the water balance always adjusts. In the long run you will lose the right amount as set by your established calorie deficit.

Now back to the plateau. After part of the excess fat has been removed, you will reach a standstill during which the pointer on the scales will seem fixed. When this continues week after discouraging week, you may conclude that you have reached rock bottom. But hold on—you'll win.

BE FOREWARNED, this plateau may last three, or four, or even more weeks. One overweight homemaker reached that plateau after losing 25 pounds. . .with another 55 pounds to go. Her wise doctor said to her, "This is where a lot of people chuck it all!" For a solid month she failed to lose. But thanks to the doctor's challenge, she did not stop dieting. On the fifth week the pointer started down again, and she has lost 1 to 2 pounds each week since.

What to do during these periods? Stay with a high-protein, low-carbohydrate, low - calorie diet. One fine day you'll resume reducing.

This is the opportune time to step up exercise. With part of the excess fat removed, the doctor may advise that you are now in shape to increase exercise.

Coins To Have Dates To Reduce Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has approved a measure calling for the use of the date 1964 on all new coins until the current nationwide shortage of coins is over.

Monetary experts say the minting of billions of new coins with 1964 on all of them "will make them less valuable to collectors and dealers and thereby make them less attractive for hoarders."

2 Clevelanders Killed In Geauga Auto Crash

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Two Cleveland men were killed last night when their car left U.S. 322 and crashed near the Ohio 44 intersection in Geauga County.

Dead were the driver, Ronald Jenkins, 22, and a passenger, Raymond White, 25. Two other passengers, Elaine Boyce, 23, and Eunice Crider, 18, both of Cleveland, were taken to Geauga Community Hospital here for treatment of injuries.

TOP PHOTO: 2,350 square feet, monthly electric heating and cooling cost: $38.00* BOTTOM PHOTO: 1,228 square feet, monthly electric heat cost: $16.00

These two homes are $25,000 apart, but both are heated the finest way possible: electrically. Whether your home is luxurious or modest, flameless electric heating will be more comfortable, cleaner and more convenient than any other kind of heat.

It's safe, sunshine clean, and easy to install. More than 11,000 Ohio Power customers have already switched to electric home heating. Last year, one out of three new homes on Ohio Power lines installed electric heat, and over 600 older homes converted to this flameless way of heating.

"Tomorrow's way to heat"—electrically—is the growing choice today. Why don't you join the trend and "step up" to electric heating? You'll be glad you did.

French TV In Roundabout Way

What excuse does a TV columnist trump up to see Simone Signoret, who is here from Paris to do a movie?

Hal Humphrey

First he calls the press agent, who is happy to tell him any lie he wants to hear.

"Maybe Miss Signoret has some thoughts on French TV," the columnist suggests.

"Of course she does, and she also watches our TV every night after she gets home from the studio. Please do me a favor—don't forget Miss Signoret is one of the 10 stars in Stanley Kramer's 'Ship of Fools' production now being filmed in wide screen black and white. We'll see you tomorrow afternoon at 3."

AT COLUMBIA STUDIOS the next day Miss Signoret is looking very chic and French in white stretch pants and a pink shirt. Her acquaintanceship with TV (French or American), however, is as limited as an average American tourist's ability to ask in French, "Where Is the Tower Eiffel?"

Her first appearance on French TV took place just before her coming to Hollywood this time. Miss Signoret had been banned from doing TV there because of her stand on the Algerian crisis.

"Ah, but that is all over now, and the government did what we said it should do anyway, so let's not talk about it," said Miss Signoret, with a dramatic Gallic shrug.

-:-

WHEN SHE WAS HERE four years ago, Miss Signoret did her first and only dramatic TV with Lee Marvin in a "Theater" show. Lee was asked at that time what he thought of her.

"Total," he said. "This one is total."

AS I RECALL, Miss Hopper was quite irritated at some of the comments her panel mates made about career women, but all must have been forgiven. Miss Signoret had no trouble getting her Hollywood visa stamped again.

The reason she couldn't give me a judgment on American TV this trip is that she never looks at it.

"I mustn't turn it on, or I'm stuck, and then I don't get any sleep. I love to watch the old movies. They're so marvelous."

A TV producer currently is negotiating with Miss Signoret's agent for her to act as narrator-guide in a special TV tour of Paris, the way Liz Taylor did in London last fall.

THIS IS GETTING to be quite the vogue now. There was "World of Sophia Loren," and next season Inger Stevens is scheduled to take viewers on a tour of Stockholm and environs.

Mr. France himself, M. Chevalier, gave us a TV tour of Paris some years ago, but his accent got thicker than Genevieve's (Jack Paar's French import), and a lot of viewers thought somebody had forgotten to put on the English subtitles.

"Ah, yes, Grandpa has to keep developing his accent," said Miss Signoret, "and don't forget he lived in America for many years. Keeping the accent is a real trick. Ah, but don't get me in trouble with Grandpa. He's so wonderful."

BUT THE NICE THING about touring Paris with Miss Signoret would be her accent. You can tell she isn't from Arkansas — but you can still understand the words.

Simple and good: heat canned cream - style or whole - kernel corn and top with crisply cooked bacon in strips or crumbled. Delicious with scrambled eggs for weekday lunch or a Sunday brunch.

TOP PHOTO: 2,350 square feet, monthly electric heating and cooling cost: $38.00* BOTTOM PHOTO: 1,228 square feet, monthly electric heat cost: $16.00

These two homes are $25,000 apart, but both are heated the finest way possible: electrically. Whether your home is luxurious or modest, flameless electric heating will be more comfortable, cleaner and more convenient than any other kind of heat.

It's safe, sunshine clean, and easy to install. More than 11,000 Ohio Power customers have already switched to electric home heating. Last year, one out of three new homes on Ohio Power lines installed electric heat, and over 600 older homes converted to this flameless way of heating.

"Tomorrow's way to heat"—electrically—is the growing choice today. Why don't you join the trend and "step up" to electric heating? You'll be glad you did.

That's Suggestion For Outdoor Terrace

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You can get more mileage out of your outdoor terrace if you put a roof over it.

It can give a nice cozy feeling that even the caveman must have appreciated while protecting himself from the elements. What a joy to sit outdoors when a light summer rain is falling or to bask in the sun's reflection without blistering.

Inexpensive coverings can give as much satisfaction as more expensive permanent arrangements.

In fact, the temporary awning makes it look gayer. Wisely chosen, this will not ruin the appearance of any outdoor patio. The key is in choosing a material and color that is simpatico with the house and ground cover.

A WOOD house looks good with either a permanent roof or awning. Over a redwood deck, one can put redwood or cedar shakes or an ordinary canvas awnings that can be the gayest contrivance of all.

Some awnings can roll up and down at a pull, but the most popular types are those that are anchored on their metal framework in permanent fashion until winter sets in. These are then removed, bound and stored until the next season of sun.

If a very small area is involved, the home owner may be able to make his own awning. A man who is adept at stitching up sailboat canvasses, for instance, might like to try his hand at awnings.

An ex-Navy man recently startled his wife by announcing that he'd like to try his hand at ar. awning because he's "fiddled with sails" when he was in the Navy. He didn't get a chance to prove his skill because his wife was a little skeptical.

Temporary roofs can be dressed up in a festive fashion. Plants may be hung from the metal superstructure for a very pleasing effect.

Colored glass lanterns or hurricane shades can make the area especially attractive at night. White, green or rust-colored canvas is good over wood, while wide - striped canvasses are good over flagstone, brick and slate. Yellow and white with gray slate is a good combination.

IF THERE is very little space outdoors, one may wish to roof the area only partially, so that when full sun is desirable one may take advantage of it.

If there is a lot of foliage around that tends to darken the area, a roof that combines planking and plastic panels may be erected, so that plenty of light can shine through the plastic above.

Stone, brick and cinderblock houses can be mellowed by an overhang that rests on wood beams strategically set into the ground around the flagstone or brick floor.

A temporary roof can be put over it or a permanent roof can be built, but professional skill is required if it is to be added to the house as an afterthought, because crossbeams necessitate carved nitches in the facade.

When the roof is to be used for only several months a year, the temporary roof seems to be the best solution. It looks good, serves the purpose, and may be replaced in years to come at slight cost to the owner.

Some people will wonder what you do about bugs at night once you have your outdoor terrace so pretty that you hate to leave it. The only answer is retreat from the onslaught.

One generally can't use these outdoor spots at night, but they pay off for the time they can be enjoyed. The only other solution is a screened-in porch, which is another kind of thing.

Door Rattle? Then Stop It!

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There are few things more annoying than a rattling door or a door that does not close tightly and through which one can hear all the noise generated in the house.

Actually, a door of this kind can be made tight in a few minutes and without much manual effort.

Most doors rattle because they have shrunk a bit or because they have warped out of shape a fraction of an inch. The condition can be remedied by moving the striking-plate so that when the tongue of the lock drops into the small square hole which is there to receive it, it is a tight fit.

However, it requires quite a bit of skill to properly re-set a striking plate. And the woodwork is liable to suffer under the hands of a completely unskilled person. The best way to cure door trouble of the kind we are talking about is to move the stop - bead or doorstops against which the door rests when closed.

All door frames or casings are equipped with moldings which stop the door at just the right place. This long strip is nailed up along both sides and across the top of the door opening. And when the door does not set securely against this strip it will rattle when windows are opened at night and all the noise in the house can be heard through the gap.

The proper procedure is to lift off this strip, close the door and lock it, and then renail the strip again tight against the door. This insures a tight-fitting door which will not rattle and which will close out most of the noise outside of the room.

Speaking of noise coming through a door, it might be well to note that when absolute quiet is desired, a door can be weatherstripped with rubber molding and made practically noiseproof.

Locher Refuses CORE Parley On Cleveland Police

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Ralph S. Locher has declined to meet with representatives of the Cleveland chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality to discuss alleged police brutality here.

CORE asked last week for the meeting and outlined a nine-point program which, it contended, would end police brutality. The group wanted to meet with the mayor before Thursday when City Council is to consider his recent proposal to hire 50 policemen.

"The pattern of brutality persists here, and the Negroes are still the particular victims," CORE'S letter to the mayor stated.

In a letter to CORE, the mayor replied:

"I feel the meeting you desire is unnecessary and know of no useful purpose such a meeting would serve the subjects you listed have either been answered or are in the process of investigation."

Antoine Perot, chairman of CORE's action committee, said the mayor's refusal to meet with the group could turn Cleveland into another Harlem. He said CORE has had numerous complaints of police brutality and has cases on file with the names or badge numbers of the policemen accused.

Here Are Things Not To Do

When you're buying a house, do you make your decision solely on the basis of value?

Or do some of the mannerisms of the real estate salesman have an effect on your judgment?

There's a school of thought which believes that the nervous habits of the person trying to make the sale have some influence on a prospective purchaser.

This theory is held by sales experts in many fields, but is given particular attention in the area of real estate, as evidenced by the many times the subject is brought up at meetings, conventions and clinics.

What brought the matter to our attention again was a long list of things salesmen do to annoy buyers, published in the latest issue of The Long Island Builder, an industry publication.

These are not things salesmen say in an effort to convince you of the worth of the house, but merely personal mannerisms that annoy. Here's the list:

1. Scratching their heads.
2. Running their hands or comb through their hair.
3. Pulling at an ear.
4. Shifting their eyes from one thing to another while talking.
5. Chewing on a toothpick, match or cigar.
6. Coughing or clearing their throats periodically.
7. Humming while writing an order.
8. Interrupting the buyer before he says what he wants to say.
9. Blowing cigarette or cigar smoke in the buyer's face.
10. Adjusting and readjusting their ties.
11. Fumbling with a lapel pin.
12. Fingering a card or paper.
13. Buttoning or unbuttoning their coats.
14. Picking lint from their suits or buyer's suit.
15. Cleaning their fingernails.
16. Slapping their order books, or something else, again and again.
17. Doodling with a pencil or pen.
18. Picking up and putting down things on a desk.
19. Hitching at their pants.
20. Jingling coins in their pockets.
21. Draping themselves over a chair.
22. Walking around with a toothpick or match in their mouths.
23. Putting hand in front of their mouths while talking.
24. Smiling until you wonder if a salesman can ever look serious.
25. Pushing themselves right up into your face while talking.
26. Coughing without covering their mouths.

Allah is the Arabic name for the Supreme Being of Islam, the religion founded by Mohammed. The name denotes the Supreme Being in the Koran, which is the Moslems' "Bible," and Moslems must regularly repeat the creed: "There is no god but Allah; and Mohammed is the Apostle of Allah."

37th Division Begins Training In Michigan

CAMP GRAYLING, Mich. (AP)—The 37th Infantry Division, Ohio National Guard, begins its first of two weeks of summer training today.

Nearly 9,000 officers and men set up bivouac areas at this camp Sunday.

The first day was marred by a minor accident involving L. Col. J. Gordon Peltier, director of the Ohio Department of Commerce. Peltier, who is also commanding officer of the 136th Artillery, was injured when his staff car left the road and rolled over. He was treated at the hospital here and released.

Illness Claims Noted Newspaper Publisher

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services for James A. Chew, one of the state's best known newspaper leaders, will be held Wednesday in the hometown where he started his career.

The veteran publisher died Sunday at Kettering Memorial Hospital after a long illness. He was 82.

At his death, he was president of a four-newspaper group and one of Xenia's leading civic and business leaders. He was the publisher of the Xenia Daily Gazette, Middletown Journal, Piqua Daily Call and the Franklin Chronicle.

Colorado's nickname, Centennial, comes from the fact that the state was admitted to the union in 1876, 100 years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

That's Suggestion For Outdoor Terrace

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You can get more mileage out of your outdoor terrace if you put a roof over it.

It can give a nice cozy feeling that even the caveman must have appreciated while protecting himself from the elements. What a joy to sit outdoors when a light summer rain is falling or to bask in the sun's reflection without blistering.

Inexpensive coverings can give as much satisfaction as more expensive permanent arrangements.

In fact, the temporary awning makes it look gayer. Wisely chosen, this will not ruin the appearance of any outdoor patio. The key is in choosing a material and color that is simpatico with the house and ground cover.

A WOOD house looks good with either a permanent roof or awning. Over a redwood deck, one can put redwood or cedar shakes or an ordinary canvas awnings that can be the gayest contrivance of all.

Some awnings can roll up and down at a pull, but the most popular types are those that are anchored on their metal framework in permanent fashion until winter sets in. These are then removed, bound and stored until the next season of sun.

If a very small area is involved, the home owner may be able to make his own awning. A man who is adept at stitching up sailboat canvasses, for instance, might like to try his hand at awnings.

An ex-Navy man recently startled his wife by announcing that he'd like to try his hand at an awning because he's "fiddled with sails" when he was in the Navy. He didn't get a chance to prove his skill because his wife was a little skeptical.

Temporary roofs can be dressed up in a festive fashion. Plants may be hung from the metal superstructure for a very pleasing effect.

Colored glass lanterns or hurricane shades can make the area especially attractive at night. White, green or rust-colored canvas is good over wood, while wide - striped canvasses are good over flagstone, brick and slate. Yellow and white with gray slate is a good combination.

IF THERE is very little space outdoors, one may wish to roof the area only partially, so that when full sun is desirable one may take advantage of it.

If there is a lot of foliage around that tends to darken the area, a roof that combines planking and plastic panels may be erected, so that plenty of light can shine through the plastic above.

Stone, brick and cinderblock houses can be mellowed by an overhang that rests on wood beams strategically set into the ground around the flagstone or brick floor.

A temporary roof can be put over it or a permanent roof can be built, but professional skill is required if it is to be added to the house as an afterthought, because crossbeams necessitate carved nitches in the facade.

When the roof is to be used for only several months a year, the temporary roof seems to be the best solution. It looks good, serves the purpose, and may be replaced in years to come at slight cost to the owner.

Some people will wonder what you do about bugs at night once you have your outdoor terrace so pretty that you hate to leave it. The only answer is retreat from the onslaught.

One generally can't use these outdoor spots at night, but they pay off for the time they can be enjoyed. The only other solution is a screened-in porch, which is another kind of thing.

S & G Beer Distributors of East Liverpool has moved into its newly - constructed warehouse on Dresden Ave. Ext. under the ownership of John J. Falone.

The distributors had been housed in a similar building at virtually the same location from 1951 until three years ago when they were forced to move due to the construction of the new Route 30 and 7 expressway.

The company then shifted to Pennsylvania Ave. in East End, where it had been located until now.

Designed by Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, the new warehouse has 5,000 square feet of floor space for storing, three office rooms, a large cooler and floor area to park three delivery trucks and one tractor-trailer.

It took 13 weeks to construct the warehouse, which was built by the Potters Construction Co. The lighting for the new structure is the only facility yet to be completed.

With a large parking lot beside the building soon to be blacktopped, Falone said that the building is one of the most modern of its kind in the area. The company also has a similar warehouse located on Butte St. in Steubenville.

The company has been distributing both draft and bottled beer, together with wine, in the East Liverpool area for more than 20 years. Prior to 1951, the company had been located on W. 8th St. and 2nd St. Five local people are employed at the new warehouse. Falone has been married for 10 years and has two children. He resides at the corner of Wyoming and Cannons Mills Rd. in Glenmoor.

Tips Are Offered On How To Lay Linoleum Strips

Question: A few years ago I put down resilient tile in one of our rooms. It's still down and in good condition.

This time, however, I would like to try my hand with regular linoleum strips, rather than the tile, in another room that has to be done.

Are there any major differences between installing the two materials and is there anything special I should know?

Answer: Since you did such a good job with the resilient job, you'll probably get a fine result with the linoleum strips.

The major difference, as you undoubtedly know, is that you will be handling a few large pieces of material instead of hundreds of smaller ones.

A sharp linoleum knife, properly used, is an important key to a good result, but you can get by with a large shears or tin snips.

In using the knife, take a firm grip on the handle and pull it towards you, keeping the handle parallel with the floor. Whether you use a knife, a shears or a tin snips, practice first on a scrap piece of linoleum.

The linoleum paste is spread with a notched trowel. Follow the instructions on the container for the length of drying time.

You can rent a linoleum roller for releasing the trapped air under the linoleum or you can use a rolling pin. If you use a rolling pin, take special care to see that seams and edges are rolled down firmly.

Architect's No 'Square'

Only a portion of the floor is flat in the unique structure perched on a cliff 8,000 feet above sea level on Genesee Mountain, 25 miles west of Denver.

Deaton calls the house, which he intends to live in, a piece of "habitable sculpture on a pedestal." The view from the terrace includes the city of Denver and the Continental Divide.

The interior of the sculpture (house) is divided into a living room, kitchen, three bedrooms and four baths. Laundry, sewing room and library are in the supporting pedestal. Three floors and an entrance level will be served by an elevator.

The structure has 3,000 square feet of living space. The supporting portion, or pedestal, is constructed of reinforced concrete with precast columns. The upper portion is a double shell of sprayed-on concrete supported by welded steel frame. The structure is 83 feet long, 45 feet wide and 36 feet high. There are 105 windows.

Most interior walls and doors are curved. There are few straight lines in the building.

CURVACEOUS HOME. This sculpture will be home on a Colorado mountainside for architect Charles Deaton. Deaton says he is escaping the square world of the city by building the 3,000-square-foot home in which nearly every line is curved.

The kitchen counters will be straight and square to accommodate the square appliances. The beds will be shaped like watermelon seeds. The living room wall will be curved in two directions and will stand as a shell-like partition.

Deaton is custom designing most of the furniture to fit his building. He expects to complete the home by November at a cost of $100,000.

Deaton, 43, a self-taught architect, began his architectural career in New York City in 1944 after working in aircraft design, industrial design and commercial art. His hobbies are drawing, painting and sculpture.

He has designed buildings in 36 states. Among his recent commissions were the Wyoming National Bank building at Casper and the Central Bank and Trust Company building at Denver.

President Takes 200 For White House Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—Approximately 200 tourists had an unexpected surprise Sunday—a tour of the White House grounds conducted by President Johnson.

After the Johnsons returned to the White House from church services, the President saw a group standing outside a gate of the White House grounds. He shook hands with some, then invited them into the grounds for a walk.

The lecture circuit enjoys a big popularity in the U. S. According to latest figures, there are about 504 individual lectures heard throughout America each year during the annual October-to-June lecture season.

S & G Beer Distributors of East Liverpool has moved into its newly - constructed warehouse on Dresden Ave. Ext. under the ownership of John J. Falone.

The distributors had been housed in a similar building at virtually the same location from 1951 until three years ago when they were forced to move due to the construction of the new Route 30 and 7 expressway.

The company then shifted to Pennsylvania Ave. in East End, where it had been located until now.

Designed by Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, the new warehouse has 5,000 square feet of floor space for storing, three office rooms, a large cooler and floor area to park three delivery trucks and one tractor-trailer.

It took 13 weeks to construct the warehouse, which was built by the Potters Construction Co. The lighting for the new structure is the only facility yet to be completed.

With a large parking lot beside the building soon to be blacktopped, Falone said that the building is one of the most modern of its kind in the area. The company also has a similar warehouse located on Butte St. in Steubenville.

The company has been distributing both draft and bottled beer, together with wine, in the East Liverpool area for more than 20 years. Prior to 1951, the company had been located on W. 8th St. and 2nd St. Five local people are employed at the new warehouse. Falone has been married for 10 years and has two children. He resides at the corner of Wyoming and Cannons Mills Rd. in Glenmoor.

Tips Are Offered On How To Lay Linoleum Strips

Question: A few years ago I put down resilient tile in one of our rooms. It's still down and in good condition.

This time, however, I would like to try my hand with regular linoleum strips, rather than the tile, in another room that has to be done.

Are there any major differences between installing the two materials and is there anything special I should know?

Answer: Since you did such a good job with the resilient job, you'll probably get a fine result with the linoleum strips.

The major difference, as you undoubtedly know, is that you will be handling a few large pieces of material instead of hundreds of smaller ones.

A sharp linoleum knife, properly used, is an important key to a good result, but you can get by with a large shears or tin snips.

In using the knife, take a firm grip on the handle and pull it towards you, keeping the handle parallel with the floor. Whether you use a knife, a shears or a tin snips, practice first on a scrap piece of linoleum.

The linoleum paste is spread with a notched trowel. Follow the instructions on the container for the length of drying time.

You can rent a linoleum roller for releasing the trapped air under the linoleum or you can use a rolling pin. If you use a rolling pin, take special care to see that seams and edges are rolled down firmly.

Architect's No 'Square'

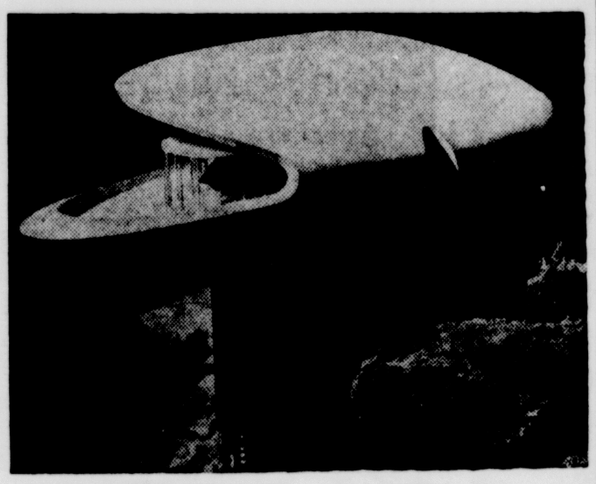
Only a portion of the floor is flat in the unique structure perched on a cliff 8,000 feet above sea level on Genesee Mountain, 25 miles west of Denver.

Deaton calls the house, which he intends to live in, a piece of "habitable sculpture on a pedestal." The view from the terrace includes the city of Denver and the Continental Divide.

The interior of the sculpture (house) is divided into a living room, kitchen, three bedrooms and four baths. Laundry, sewing room and library are in the supporting pedestal. Three floors and an entrance level will be served by an elevator.

The structure has 3,000 square feet of living space. The supporting portion, or pedestal, is constructed of reinforced concrete with precast columns. The upper portion is a double shell of sprayed-on concrete supported by welded steel frame. The structure is 83 feet long, 45 feet wide and 36 feet high. There are 105 windows.

Most interior walls and doors are curved. There are few straight lines in the building.



CURVACEOUS HOME. This sculpture will be home on a Colorado mountainside for architect Charles Deaton. Deaton says he is escaping the square world of the city by building the 3,000-square-foot home in which nearly every line is curved.

The kitchen counters will be straight and square to accommodate the square appliances. The beds will be shaped like watermelon seeds. The living room wall will be curved in two directions and will stand as a shell-like partition.

Deaton is custom designing most of the furniture to fit his building. He expects to complete the home by November at a cost of $100,000.

Deaton, 43, a self-taught architect, began his architectural career in New York City in 1944 after working in aircraft design, industrial design and commercial art. His hobbies are drawing, painting and sculpture.

He has designed buildings in 36 states. Among his recent commissions were the Wyoming National Bank building at Casper and the Central Bank and Trust Company building at Denver.

President Takes 200 For White House Tour

WASHINGTON (AP)—Approximately 200 tourists had an unexpected surprise Sunday—a tour of the White House grounds conducted by President Johnson.

After the Johnsons returned to the White House from church services, the President saw a group standing outside a gate of the White House grounds. He shook hands with some, then invited them into the grounds for a walk.

Post 374 Advances In Hot Stove Play

Stars Battle West Virginia Team Today

East Liverpool's Pony League All-Stars gained the finals of the Eastern District tournament over the weekend at Marietta and were to battle Upper Kanawha for the title this morning at 10.

The defending champion, East Liverpool won two games Saturday to advance against the West Virginians.

In weekend action, East Liverpool beat Weirton, 5-2, and Marietta, 6-3, but lost to Upper Kanawha on Sunday, 5-3. It is a double elimination event.

Weirton became the first team to be eliminated when it lost to East Liverpool, 5-2, in its opening game and then 2-1 to Upper Kanawha.

Marietta later came back to whip Upper Kanawha, 10-5, but bowed out Sunday to the same team.

Lacey of Upper Kanawha fired a six - hitter in winning over East Liverpool, 5-3. Upper Kanawha got 12 hits. Campbell was the losing pitcher.

Mike Caruso, fanning 10 batters and walking none, pitched East Liverpool past Marietta, 6-3. The leading hitters for the locals were Bob Bickar, two singles; Bob Bartram, a single; Gary Arrington, two hits; Denny Klembara, a single, Wayne Stewart, two singles, and Caruso, two singles.

5 Records Broken

U.S. Outpoints Russia In Meet

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—With two World records headed for the books, along with three American marks, the United States celebrated its most decisive victory and the Russians flew home for extra-intensive training for the Olympics Games.

Such was the wind-up of the sixth dual meet between the USA and USSR, whose track and field aggregations are regarded as the most powerful in the world.

A crowd of 55,924 turned out for the final show Sunday in Memorial Coliseum — 50,519 watched Saturday—bringing the two-day total to 106,643.

The final scores: in men's events, the United States 139, Russia 97; in women's events, Russia 59, the United States 48: 187, Russia 156. It was the first time the United States won over-all.

The Russians on arrival from Moscow said their team was two months behind the Americans, because of the seasons, and with two months to go before the Tokyo Games, it could appear the Soviets will have a busy time in the immediate weeks ahead.

The cheers Sunday went to 27-year-old Jim Grelle for his victory in the 1,500-meter run, and Bob Schul as he and 30-year-old Bill Dellinger ran off with the 5,000 meters.

The day before the ovations went to 18-year-old Gerry Lindgren after his amazing triumph in the gruelling 10,000, and the two world record smashers, Fred Hanse, 17-4 in the pole vault, and Dallas Long, 67-10 in the shot put.

The main attraction Sunday was Russia's record holding high jumper, Valery Brumel. But Brumel managed 7-3½ and missed at 7-6 in an attempt to better his mark of 7-5¾.

The American records were set by Ira Davis in the triple jump at 53-11, by Leah Ferris of Honolulu in the 800 meters in 2:08.8, and Willye White of Chicago in the broad jump, 21-6. Miss White placed second at 21-7¾ but it was wind aided and would not hold up as a national record.

There were several outstanding firsts for the Americans in this meet:

First victories in the 10,000 meters, Lindgren in 29:17.6; in the triple jump, Davis' 53-11; the 5,000, Schul's 14:12.4; the 3,000-meter steeplechase, by George Young, in 8:42.1.

It was also the finest showing by the women's team since the meet began in 1958.

There were disappointments for the Americans, too. Dyrol Burleson was unable to run in the 1,500 because of a severe virus attack Sunday morning.

Then Ralph Boston lost in the broad jump, Hal Connolly in the hammer-throw and Randy Matson's third place in the shot put.

Locals Take Sectional By Winning 6-5

East Liverpool will have an entry in the state Hot Stove tournament next weekend in Alliance — American Legion Post 374 of East End.

The local squad annexed the sectional championship Saturday at Salem by whipping Alliance William Penn, 6-5. A squad from Salem will also join East Liverpool in the state event.

Hissom, fanning nine and allowing eight hits, went the distance. He walked only one. Quay of Alliance also fanned nine, walked none, but gave up 13 hits to absorb the loss.

In the fourth inning, Bowersock speared a soft liner on the third base side of second base with runners on second and third and two out. The second baseman dove, turned a flip-flop and came up with the ball for the out.

The drawing will be tonight to determine Post 374's first opponent in the state tournament.

On Sunday, Post 374 won another game, 6-2, over Columbiana in regular season play. Woods smashed a grand slam homer to highlight the eight-hit attack.

Carrollton will play Post 374 Thursday night at Patterson Field.

Venturi Salvages Hartford Victory

By LOU BLACK
Associated Press Sports Write

But before flying off to the city by the Golden Gate, the 33-year-old Venturi with the white cap had quite a day for himself Sunday in the Insurance City Open.

Picture it. There was the National Open king, heading for victory like a man out for a walk. All he had to do was par the 71st and 72nd holes. Suddenly his game collapsed.

Venturi got a bogey on the 71st and a double bogey for a six on the 72nd, amazing the crowd of more than 18,000 as well as himself. He was left with a 273 total, 11 under par.

That set it up for the cliff hanging finale. Sam Carmichael, 25, a sophomore PGA tourist, and veteran Al Besselink, playing behind Venturi, knew what they had to do to win.

But Sam missed an 11-foot putt that he had to sink to win, and Bessy's bold pitch to the green and possible victory rolled to the apron, forcing him to take two more shots and a bogey five.

Besselink, Carmichael, Paul Bondeson, 25, and Jimmy Grant, a 22-year-old amateur from the home club—Wethersfield—had to settle for a four-way tie for runner-up, one stroke off the winning total.

While Venturi flew to the Pacific Coast for a parade in his honor and a brief vacation, his first since winning the National Open more than a month ago, most of the other pros headed for the Canadian Open that starts Thursday at St. Luc, Que.

Errors Hurt, Locals Drop 2 Loop Tilts

Haunted again by errors, Friendly Bowling - Merchants of East Liverpool dropped two games to Beaver Falls Sunday in the Beaver County League.

Beaver Falls capitalized on three infield errors with two out in the seventh inning to score a 7-6 victory in the first game. The locals were holding a 6-4 lead at the time.

In the second game, Beaver Falls gained a 10-5 decision. Cunningham started for East Liverpool, giving way later to Murowski, Hulova and Kraft.

Manager John Andrason's squad will play New Brighton Tuesday evening at Patterson Field.

Johnson Sets Meeting For Educators Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, who held separate meetings last week with business and labor leaders, has issued invitations to a large group of educators to meet with him in the White House.

While the White House said the President will be prepared to discuss with the educators any matters they want to bring up, it is expected he will urge their cooperation in helping smooth compliance with the Civil Rights Act.

Central Gains 2 Wins, Stays In Last Place

Central Service came to life in the Colt League over the weekend to sweep two victories, but still couldn't emerge from its cellar position.

Frank Tice flipped a four-hitter as the motor sales entry rolled over South Side, 19-0, on Saturday. John Wright was the losing pitcher. Marchbanks had four hits and Flasco three for Central.

On Sunday, Central came back to whip the Dentists, 3-1. Rick Calhoun was the winner, allowing six hits. Central got only two hits off Len Walker of the Dentists, but plated two runs in the first and another in the fourth to win. Cunningham had a double for the Dentists. Flasco and Clutter got Central's only hits.

Central remained in a two-way tie for last place with the Lawyers. Meanwhile, the Realtors stayed at the top with a 3-2 victory over Riverview, and Riverview picked up a 5-3 victory over the Lawyers.

Crash Kills 2 Pro Gridders

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The sports world was stunned today by an auto crash which killed Chicago Bears' star halfback Willie Galimore and his teammate, John Farrington.

Galimore, a seven-year veteran who was drafted from Florida A&M University in 1956, and Farrington, a 6-foot-3, 217-pound offensive spread end, were killed in the wreckage of Galimore's car late Sunday night on a rural road.

State police said Galimore and Farrington apparently were returning to their living quarters at St. Joseph College when Galimore's car skidded out of control on a curve.

Galimore and Farrington had been training with the Bears in preparation for the College All-Star football game Aug. 7. They had attended a players' meeting earlier in the evening.

Nonpareil Club Seeks Reservations Of Fete

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club has asked patrons of its stag dinner for new Potter Coach Bob McNea to send in remittances for tickets they received in the mail, or advise the club whether they will attend.

The club sent 232 tickets in the mail, and is anxious to determine how many fans will attend because the event will be catered by Isaly's.

McNea will be feted by the club Aug. 12 at Valley Park on Route 7. Club members are also selling tickets. Ted Burke, president, announced the club will meet Tuesday night at 8 at the YMCA.

Flash Elorde Retains Crown With TKO Win

The referee stopped the fight after Elorde dropped Kosaka, top-ranked challenger, for an eight - count midway in the round.

Detroit Boater Wins

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—The 7th annual Governor's Cup Regatta at nearby Grand Lake St. Mary's has been won by a Michigan man. George F. English of Detroit won the trophy Sunday in his 150 cubic-inch hydroplane with an average speed of 84 m.p.h.

Alvis Slated To Play Tonight For Ailing Tribe

Alvis, stricken June 25 with spinal meningitis, will be at shortstop tonight for an exhibition game against the Pittsburgh Pirates. If he doesn't tire easily, Alvis will be back on the roster.

The Indians could have used his power potential Sunday against the Boston Red Sox. Before his attack, Max had come out of a batting slump and raised his average to .251. He was second in RBI with 29.

Boston pitchers allowed the Indians only eight hits while taking both ends of a doubleheader, 6-1 and 3-1.

Earl Wilson won the opener on a four-hitter and rookie Ed Connolly and reliever Dick Radatz matched it in the second game. Wilson, who was knocked out of the box in the first inning the last time he faced the Tribe, struck out 11. Lee Stange (4-10) lost the first game and Pedro Ramos (4-8) was tagged with the second defeat.

Ex-Dodger, 78, Dies

VERMILION, Ohio (AP)—Wilburt Schardt, who pitched for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1911-12, suffered a fatal heart attack Sunday. He was 78.

Ken Venturi started the final 18 holes of the recent U.S. Open in second place, two strokes behind Tommy Jacobs. But Venturi shot a final round 70 to beat Jacobs by four strokes with a 278.

Stars Battle West Virginia Team Today

East Liverpool's Pony League All-Stars gained the finals of the Eastern District tournament over the weekend at Marietta and were to battle Upper Kanawha for the title this morning at 10.

The defending champion, East Liverpool won two games Saturday to advance against the West Virginians.

In weekend action, East Liverpool beat Weirton, 5-2, and Marietta, 6-3, but lost to Upper Kanawha on Sunday, 5-3. It is a double elimination event.

Winner of this morning's game will become district champion and enter regional competition later at Springdale, Pa., near Pittsburgh.

Weirton became the first team to be eliminated when it lost to East Liverpool, 5-2, in its opening game and then 2-1 to Upper Kanawha.

Marietta later came back to whip Upper Kanawha, 10-5, but bowed out Sunday to the same team.

Lacey of Upper Kanawha fired a six - hitter in winning over East Liverpool, 5-3. Upper Kanawha got 12 hits. Campbell was the losing pitcher.

Mike Caruso, fanning 10 batters and walking none, pitched East Liverpool past Marietta, 6-3. The leading hitters for the locals were Bob Bickar, two singles; Bob Bartram, a single; Gary Arrington, two hits; Denny Klembara, a single, Wayne Stewart, two singles, and Caruso, two singles.

5 Records Broken

U.S. Outpoints Russia In Meet

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—With two World records headed for the books, along with three American marks, the United States celebrated its most decisive victory and the Russians flew home for extra-intensive training for the Olympics Games.

Such was the wind-up of the sixth dual meet between the USA and USSR, whose track and field aggregations are regarded as the most powerful in the world.

A crowd of 55,924 turned out for the final show Sunday in Memorial Coliseum — 50,519 watched Saturday—bringing the two-day total to 106,643.

The final scores: in men's events, the United States 139, Russia 97; in women's events, Russia 59, the United States 48; 187, Russia 156. It was the first time the United States won over-all.

The Russians on arrival from Moscow said their team was two months behind the Americans, because of the seasons, and with two months to go before the Tokyo Games, it could appear the Soviets will have a busy time in the immediate weeks ahead.

The cheers Sunday went to 27-year-old Jim Grelle for his victory in the 1,500-meter run, and Bob Schul as he and 30-year-old Bill Dellinger ran off with the 5,000 meters.

The day before the ovations went to 18-year-old Gerry Lindgren after his amazing triumph in the gruelling 10,000, and the two world record smashers, Fred Hanse, 17-4 in the pole vault, and Dallas Long, 67-10 in the shot put.

The main attraction Sunday was Russia's record holding high jumper, Valery Brumel. But Brumel managed 7-3½ and missed at 7-6 in an attempt to better his mark of 7-5¾.

The American records were set by Ira Davis in the triple jump at 53-11, by Leah Ferris of Honolulu in the 800 meters in 2:08.8, and Willye White of Chicago in the broad jump, 21-6. Miss White placed second at 21-7¾ but it was wind aided and would not hold up as a national record.

There were several outstanding firsts for the Americans in this meet:

First victories in the 10,000 meters, Lindgren in 29:17.6; in the triple jump, Davis' 53-11; the 5,000, Schul's 14:12.4; the 3,000-meter steeplechase, by George Young, in 8:42.1.

It was also the finest showing by the women's team since the meet began in 1958.

There were disappointments for the Americans, too. Dyrol Burleson was unable to run in the 1,500 because of a severe virus attack Sunday morning.

Then Ralph Boston lost in the broad jump, Hal Connolly in the hammer-throw and Randy Matson's third place in the shot put.

Locals Take Sectional By Winning 6-5

East Liverpool will have an entry in the state Hot Stove tournament next weekend in Alliance — American Legion Post 374 of East End.

The local squad annexed the sectional championship Saturday at Salem by whipping Alliance William Penn, 6-5. A squad from Salem will also join East Liverpool in the state event.

Hissom, fanning nine and allowing eight hits, went the distance. He walked only one. Quay of Alliance also fanned nine, walked none, but gave up 13 hits to absorb the loss.

In the fourth inning, Bowersock speared a soft liner on the third base side of second base with runners on second and third and two out. The second baseman dove, turned a flip-flop and came up with the ball for the out.

The drawing will be tonight to determine Post 374's first opponent in the state tournament.

On Sunday, Post 374 won another game, 6-2, over Columbiana in regular season play. Woods smashed a grand slam homer to highlight the eight-hit attack.

Carrollton will play Post 374 Thursday night at Patterson Field.

Venturi Salvages Hartford Victory

By LOU BLACK
Associated Press Sports Write

But before flying off to the city by the Golden Gate, the 33-year-old Venturi with the white cap had quite a day for himself Sunday in the Insurance City Open.

Picture it. There was the National Open king, heading for victory like a man out for a walk. All he had to do was par the 71st and 72nd holes. Suddenly his game collapsed.

Venturi got a bogey on the 71st and a double bogey for a six on the 72nd, amazing the crowd of more than 18,000 as well as himself. He was left with a 273 total, 11 under par.

That set it up for the cliff hanging finale. Sam Carmichael, 25, a sophomore PGA tourist, and veteran Al Besselink, playing behind Venturi, knew what they had to do to win.

But Sam missed an 11-foot putt that he had to sink to win, and Bessy's bold pitch to the green and possible victory rolled to the apron, forcing him to take two more shots and a bogey five.

Besselink, Carmichael, Paul Bondeson, 25, and Jimmy Grant, a 22-year-old amateur from the home club—Wethersfield—had to settle for a four-way tie for runner-up, one stroke off the winning total.

While Venturi flew to the Pacific Coast for a parade in his honor and a brief vacation, his first since winning the National Open more than a month ago, most of the other pros headed for the Canadian Open that starts Thursday at St. Luc, Que.

Errors Hurt, Locals Drop 2 Loop Tilts

Haunted again by errors, Friendly Bowling - Merchants of East Liverpool dropped two games to Beaver Falls Sunday in the Beaver County League.

Beaver Falls capitalized on three infield errors with two out in the seventh inning to score a 7-6 victory in the first game. The locals were holding a 6-4 lead at the time.

In the second game, Beaver Falls gained a 10-5 decision. Cunningham started for East Liverpool, giving way later to Murowski, Hulova and Kraft.

Manager John Andrason's squad will play New Brighton Tuesday evening at Patterson Field.

Johnson Sets Meeting For Educators Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, who held separate meetings last week with business and labor leaders, has issued invitations to a large group of educators to meet with him in the White House.

While the White House said the President will be prepared to discuss with the educators any matters they want to bring up, it is expected he will urge their cooperation in helping smooth compliance with the Civil Rights Act.

Central Gains 2 Wins, Stays In Last Place

Central Service came to life in the Colt League over the weekend to sweep two victories, but still couldn't emerge from its cellar position.

Frank Tice flipped a four-hitter as the motor sales entry rolled over South Side, 19-0, on Saturday. John Wright was the losing pitcher. Marchbanks had four hits and Flasco three for Central.

On Sunday, Central came back to whip the Dentists, 3-1. Rick Calhoun was the winner, allowing six hits. Central got only two hits off Len Walker of the Dentists, but plated two runs in the first and another in the fourth to win. Cunningham had a double for the Dentists. Flasco and Clutter got Central's only hits.

Central remained in a two-way tie for last place with the Lawyers. Meanwhile, the Realtors stayed at the top with a 3-2 victory over Riverview, and Riverview picked up a 5-3 victory over the Lawyers.

Crash Kills 2 Pro Gridders

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — The sports world was stunned today by an auto crash which killed Chicago Bears' star halfback Willie Galimore and his teammate, John Farrington.

Galimore, a seven-year veteran who was drafted from Florida A&M University in 1956, and Farrington, a 6-foot-3, 217-pound offensive spread end, were killed in the wreckage of Galimore's car late Sunday night on a rural road.

State police said Galimore and Farrington apparently were returning to their living quarters at St. Joseph College when Galimore's car skidded out of control on a curve.

Galimore and Farrington had been training with the Bears in preparation for the College All-Star football game Aug. 7. They had attended a players' meeting earlier in the evening.

BATTING—Rico Carty, Milwaukee, lashed five hits, including two homers, and drove in eight runs as the Braves swept the New York Mets 11-7 and 15-10. He increased his batting average to 342, second best in the major.

Pitching — Johnny Buzhardt, Chicago, stopped Minnesota 3-0 on six hits in the second game of a doubleheader taken by the White Sox.

Nonpareil Club Seeks Reservations Of Fete

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club has asked patrons of its stag dinner for new Potter Coach Bob McNea to send in remittances for tickets they received in the mail, or advise the club whether they will attend.

The club sent 232 tickets in the mail, and is anxious to determine how many fans will attend because the event will be catered by Isaly's.

McNea will be feted by the club Aug. 12 at Valley Park on Route 7. Club members are also selling tickets. Ted Burke, president, announced the club will meet Tuesday night at 8 at the YMCA.

Flash Elorde Retains Crown With TKO Win

The referee stopped the fight after Elorde dropped Kosaka, top-ranked challenger, for an eight - count midway in the round.

Detroit Boater Wins

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—The 7th annual Governor's Cup Regatta at nearby Grand Lake St. Mary's has been won by a Michigan man. George F. English of Detroit won the trophy Sunday in his 150 cubic-inch hydroplane with an average speed of 84 m.p.h.

Alvis Slated To Play Tonight For Ailing Tribe

Alvis, stricken June 25 with spinal meningitis, will be at shortstop tonight for an exhibition game against the Pittsburgh Pirates. If he doesn't tire easily, Alvis will be back on the roster.

The Indians could have used his power potential Sunday against the Boston Red Sox. Before his attack, Max had come out of a batting slump and raised his average to .251. He was second in RBI with 29.

Boston pitchers allowed the Indians only eight hits while taking both ends of a doubleheader, 6-1 and 3-1.

Earl Wilson won the opener on a four-hitter and rookie Ed Connolly and reliever Dick Radatz matched it in the second game. Wilson, who was knocked out of the box in the first inning the last time he faced the Tribe, struck out 11. Lee Stange (4-10) lost the first game and Pedro Ramos (4-8) was tagged with the second defeat.

Ex-Dodger, 78, Dies

VERMILION, Ohio (AP)—Wilburt Schardt, who pitched for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1911-12, suffered a fatal heart attack Sunday. He was 78.

Ex-Boxer Leads Milwaukee To Double Win Over Mets

Carty Swings Fist, Bat For Braves' Pair

By The Associated Press

Seven hits, in fact. Five with his bat and two with his right.

Carty, a 24-year-old rookie, was all over the place, especially right in the middle of a two-punch fight, as Milwaukee swept the Mets 11-7 and 15-10 Sunday.

Continuing his torrid streak, Carty collected a pair of two-run homers, a double and two singles, driving in eight runs in the two games and increasing his batting average to .342, only one point behind Roberto Clemente's major league-leading .343.

Before he became a professional baseball player, Carty was an amateur fighter in the Dominican Republic. He couldn't understand why he had to train so many weeks for one bout, but he did it anyway. He did it so well, in fact, that he won his first 17 fights.

His career, however, came to an abrupt end.

"One time I lost, and I don't like to lost," he explained.

Carty didn't lose Sunday when he briefly rediscovered his fondness for fisticuffs. His New York debut—a few miles from Madison Square Garden—came a few minutes after the nightcap started.

Milwaukee's Denis Menke led off the game with a homer against Frank Lary. Lee Maye, the next batter, was hit with a pitch. When he got up, he started toward the mound but was intercepted by Mets' catcher Chris Cannizzaro, a would-be peacemaker.

Both dugouts emptied, Carty leading with his fleet feet and his right. His first swing caught Cannizzaro, and he followed with one to the jaw of first baseman Frank Thomas. There were no knockdowns.

In other NL games, St. Louis stopped Philadelphia 6-1 and 4-1, San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 5-2, Pittsburgh whipped Cincinnati 5-1 after losing 7-2 and Chicago blanked Houston 3-0.

Carty drove in five runs in the second game, the last tying the contest 10-10 in the eighth inning after the Mets exploded for seven runs in the seventh. Joe Torre followed with a single, knocking in the lead run. Hank Aaron, who had six hits and six RBI in the doubleheader, added a three-run homer in the ninth.

The Phillies saw their league lead sliced to one-half game over San Francisco as two left-handers stymied them. Gordon Richardson, making his first major league appearance, checked the Phillies on five hits in the opener as did Ray Sadecki in the second game.

Some faulty Los Angeles fielding helped the Giants halt Sandy Koufax' winning streak at 11. Koufax led 2-1 going into the ninth, but Jose Pagan beat out a bunt, continued to second on Jim Gilliam's wild toss, went to third on a sacrifice and scored as Maury Wills dropped a pop up.

Koufax got another out before Willie Mays doubled across the winning run. Jim Hart followed with a homer, clinching Koufax' fifth defeat against 15 victories. The ace left-hander hadn't lost since May 27.

Bob Veale won his 12th game against six losses with a four-hitter against the Reds. The Pirates scored all of their runs in the fourth inning, three on Willie Stargell's second homer of the day and two on Jerry Lynch's single.

Larry Jackson checked the Colts on five hits, outdueling Ken Johnson who allowed six hits. Two of the Cubs' hits, though, were a two-run homer by Ernie Banks and a bases-empty blast by Ron Santo.

Power Boat Skippers, Sailors 'Bury Hatchet'

By JOHN BOHANNAN

Animosity between power boat skippers and sailors has been going on ever since the invention of the internal combustion engine, with such terms as "stinkpot" and "blow boat" being bandied back and forth.

Sailors have complained about having the wind knocked out of their sails by the heavy wake of power boats, especially during a race, while those who open the throttles have sounded off about the nuisance of sailboats hogging the channel and forcing the right of way.

RECENTLY the IVY Club (Illinois Valley Yacht Club) of Peoria, Ill., tried a noble experiment in promoting better understanding between the two groups. It was a tremendous success.

Power boat skippers became sailors for a day when the breeze was moderate, drawing the names of boats they were to sail. The craft consisted of Schock 25 sloops, Stars, Luders Sixteens, Thistles and a Lightning.

Owners of the sailboats went along as crew members, to dispense advice and to make sure the gas lads didn't goof to the extent of damaging the boats.

Soon the starting line was jammed with the assorted craft, mostly in irons, many drifting backwards while the coaches frantically tried to tell the erstwhile power boatmen how to get under way. As the breeze picked up, some managed to get on a tack.

At the helm of the lone Lightning was a man who owned a 32-foot cruiser. He never had been on a sailboat before. Now, he was learning to steer just enough off the wind to keep her full and by, to come about and sail on the other tack.

"Say, this is great;" he admitted.

FACED WITH a tug and a long line of barges across his course, he wisely chose to pass astern, was caught in the powerful prop wash from the tug and shoved mightily to leeward.

"Now I'm beginning to understand some of your porblems," he said.

He finished well up among the leaders.

The winner, piloting a Schock 25, had "just a little" previous sailing experience and the only power man who might have been called a ringer was a former Star skipper sailing a Luders Sixteen.

THIS PENGUIN CLASS dinghy with cat rig is a simple, inexpensive boat for learning to sail. With its shoal draft and centerboard, it can be used in almost any body of water and is easy to haul on a trailer.

The day's activities reached a climax of good fellowship when all hands joined for a celebration in the club's Fox Hole shelter, with an eight-piece band of club-member musicians backing up the singers.

One power boat owner summed it up like this:

"I never paid much attention to sailboats before. Now that I've actually sailed one, I find it's a lot of fun. It's relaxing. When the wind picks up or when you're racing, it's exciting, too. I want to try it again."

Questions And Answers

Q.—I live near a small lake where the only boats are small outboards used by fishermen. I would like to get a sailboat, but there's no one who could teach me to sail. Do you think I could learn from reading a book?

A.—Yes, although it will take longer and you'll make a lot of mistakes. Just recently I saw a young man doing a very good job of handling a 19-foot Lightning. When he bought the boat, he had to replace the centerboard trunk. He used mahogany, plugged the screw holes and finished it bright. Then he taught himself to sail, taking several books along with him.

Q.—What's the best type of sailboat for the beginner?

A.—A small centerboarder. She is so senstive to trim that the slightest change bring apparent results.

Seven Admitted To Hall Of Fame In Cooperstown

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—The doors to Baseball's Hall of Fame were opened to admit seven new members today, swelling the list of those enshrined to 101.

Four of the newcomers were here in person to receive the honors. They were former American League batting champions Heinie Manush and Luke Appling and right-handed pitchers Burleigh Grimes and Urban Faber, who won 270 and 253 games, respectively.

The other three—Tim Keefe, John Montgomery Ward and Miller Huggins—were inducted posthumously. Members of their family represented them at the ceremonies conducted by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

Appling, who led the AL with a .388 batting average in 1936 and with a .328 figure in 1943, was elected last Feb. 20 by the Baseball Writers' Association of America. The others were appointed by the 12-man Veterans' Committee on Feb. 2.

Grid 'Cardinals' Ready Lease To Stay In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The football Cardinals are not going to migrate South next fall—after deciding their grounds are best in St. Louis.

Charles and Bill Bidwill, president and vice president of the National Football League team, made the formal announcement Sunday in a joint statement at St. Louis. Charles Bidwill made an announcement at the Cardinal training camp in Lake Forest, Ill., while his brother read the statement in St. Louis.

The brothers said they had reached an agreement on a 30-year lease early Sunday after a meeting with Civic Center Redevelopment Corp.

"We expect to sign the lease within 30 days," said Bill Bidwill.

The announcement came after months of speculation that the team might move to Atlanta. A new stadium under construction there would be finished in 1965. St. Louis' riverfront stadium is not scheduled for completion until 1966. Civic Center is the prime backer for the St. Louis stadium.

The Cardinals, oldest team in the NFL, moved to St. Louis from Chicago in 1960.

The brothers Bidwill said that under the lease agreed to at St. Louis the Cardinals could leave the city in five years without penalty. They said that if the team decided to leave before the five years, they would pay $100,000 a year on time left in the five year period.

"But," Bidwill said, "we have no intention of paying the penalty."

Los Angeles Collects 5th Doubleheader

By The Associated Press

Those double-dealing Los Angeles Angels are getting meaner by the minute.

Their pilot got himself grounded between flights Sunday and the Angels soared right past the fallen leader without a backward glance.

Bill Rigney, the Los Angeles manager, established some sort of record when he was ejected between games of a doubleheader at Kansas City. But Rigney's absence didn't stop the Angels from completing a 3-0, 4-3 sweep over the Athletics and tying a 58-year-old major league record.

The doubleheader victory was the streaking Angels' fifth straight over a two-week period and concluded a 10-3 road trip that has vaulted them into the American League's first division. The 1906 Yankees were the last club to sweep five consecutive twin bills.

Umpire Al Smith chased Rigney during the home plate meeting preceding the 10-inning nightcap after a heated debate over a first-game decision. Rigney claimed a triple by KC's Chuck Shoemaker should have been called a ground-rule double.

Rigney will be back when the Angels—in fourth place, three games over the .500 mark—open a three-game set against the league-leading New York Yankees tonight at Los Angeles.

The Yanks unseated Baltimore with 11-6 and 5-4 victories over Detroit while the Orioles lost to Washington 4-1 and fell one half game behind. The third-place Chicago White Sox staggered Minnesota twice, 5-4 in 12 innings and 3-0, and Boston swept Cleveland, 6-1 and 3-1.

The Angels' first-game shutout boosted their major league-leading total to 16. Seven of the 16 have come since the All-Star break and four—each by different pitchers—during the 13-game road trip.

Aubrey Gatewood, who worked the first six innings, ran his scoreless string, since being recalled from Hawaii of the PCL, to 19 1-3 innings. Bob Lee, who completed the eight-hitter, has not allowed a run in his last 18 1-3 innings.

In the nightcap, the Angels snapped a 2-2 tie on Bobby Knoop's double, a pinch hit single by Ed Kirkpatrick and two KC errors. The A's rallied for a run in the bottom of the 10th before Bob Duliba, sixth Los Angeles hurler, got the final out.

Joe Pepitone's three-run homer in the eighth capped the Yankees' first-game victory. Tom Tresh and Bobby Richardson each had a single, double and home run while Roger Maris added four singles.

John Blanchard's two-out pop fly in the seventh inning of the nightcap sparked a three-run rally that brought New York from behind. Hector Lopez drove in two runs with a pinch hit single and Phil Linz doubled home the other.

Dave Stenhouse held Baltimore to three hits and won for the first time after six defeats. Ed Brinkman's leadoff home run in the first inning and a three-run fifth gave Stenhouse, who had failed to finish in eight previous starts, all the support he needed.

John Buzhardt tossed a three-hitter for Chicago in the second game after relief pitcher Eddie Fisher's bases - loaded single broke up the 12-inning opener.

Ron Hansen homered and Bill Skowron collected three hits behind Buzhardt. First - game starter Gary Peters hit a three-run homer for the White Sox, who trail the Yankees by one game and the Orioles by one-half game.

Ex-Boxer Leads Milwaukee To Double Win Over Mets

L.A. Angles, Minus Rigney, Whip Athletics, Tie Record

Carty Swings Fist, Bat For Braves' Pair

By The Associated Press

Seven hits, in fact. Five with his bat and two with his right.

Carty, a 24-year-old rookie, was all over the place, especially right in the middle of a two-punch fight, as Milwaukee swept the Mets 11-7 and 15-10 Sunday.

Continuing his torrid streak, Carty collected a pair of two-run homers, a double and two singles, driving in eight runs in the two games and increasing his batting average to .342, only one point behind Roberto Clemente's major league-leading .343.

Before he became a professional baseball player, Carty was an amateur fighter in the Dominican Republic. He couldn't understand why he had to train so many weeks for one bout, but he did it anyway. He did it so well, in fact, that he won his first 17 fights.

His career, however, came to an abrupt end.

"One time I lost, and I don't like to lost," he explained.

Carty didn't lose Sunday when he briefly rediscovered his fondness for fisticuffs. His New York debut—a few miles from Madison Square Garden—came a few minutes after the nightcap started.

Milwaukee's Denis Menke led off the game with a homer against Frank Lary. Lee Maye, the next batter, was hit with a pitch. When he got up, he started toward the mound but was intercepted by Mets' catcher Chris Cannizzaro, a would-be peacemaker.

Both dugouts emptied, Carty leading with his fleet feet and his right. His first swing caught Cannizzaro, and he followed with one to the jaw of first baseman Frank Thomas. There were no knockdowns.

In other NL games, St. Louis stopped Philadelphia 6-1 and 4-1, San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 5-2, Pittsburgh whipped Cincinnati 5-1 after losing 7-2 and Chicago blanked Houston 3-0.

Carty drove in five runs in the second game, the last tying the contest 10-10 in the eighth inning after the Mets exploded for seven runs in the seventh. Joe Torre followed with a single, knocking in the lead run. Hank Aaron, who had six hits and six RBI in the doubleheader, added a three-run homer in the ninth.

The Phillies saw their league lead sliced to one-half game over San Francisco as two left-handers stymied them. Gordon Richardson, making his first major league appearance, checked the Phillies on five hits in the opener as did Ray Sadecki in the second game.

Some faulty Los Angeles fielding helped the Giants halt Sandy Koufax' winning streak at 11. Koufax led 2-1 going into the ninth, but Jose Pagan beat out a bunt, continued to second on Jim Gilliam's wild toss, went to third on a sacrifice and scored as Maury Wills dropped a pop up.

Koufax got another out before Willie Mays doubled across the winning run. Jim Hart followed with a homer, clinching Koufax' fifth defeat against 15 victories. The ace left-hander hadn't lost since May 27.

Bob Veale won his 12th game against six losses with a four-hitter against the Reds. The Pirates scored all of their runs in the fourth inning, three on Willie Stargell's second homer of the day and two on Jerry Lynch's single.

Larry Jackson checked the Colts on five hits, outdueling Ken Johnson who allowed six hits. Two of the Cubs' hits, though, were a two-run homer by Ernie Banks and a bases-empty blast by Ron Santo.

Chicagoan Wins Walk

LONG BRANCH, N.J. (AP)—Chris McCarthy of Chicago, a member of the University of Chicago Track Club, won the 35-kilometer National AAU walking championship Sunday, covering the course—21½ miles—in 2 hours, 50 minutes, 53 seconds.

Power Boat Skippers, Sailors 'Bury Hatchet'

By JOHN BOHANNAN

Animosity between power boat skippers and sailors has been going on ever since the invention of the internal combustion engine, with such terms as "stinkpot" and "blow boat" being bandied back and forth.

Sailors have complained about having the wind knocked out of their sails by the heavy wake of power boats, especially during a race, while those who open the throttles have sounded off about the nuisance of sailboats hogging the channel and forcing the right of way.

RECENTLY the IVY Club (Illinois Valley Yacht Club) of Peoria, Ill., tried a noble experiment in promoting better understanding between the two groups. It was a tremendous success.

Power boat skippers became sailors for a day when the breeze was moderate, drawing the names of boats they were to sail. The craft consisted of Schock 25 sloops, Stars, Luders Sixteens, Thistles and a Lightning.

Owners of the sailboats went along as crew members, to dispense advice and to make sure the gas lads didn't goof to the extent of damaging the boats.

Soon the starting line was jammed with the assorted craft, mostly in irons, many drifting backwards while the coaches frantically tried to tell the erstwhile power boatmen how to get under way. As the breeze picked up, some managed to get on a tack.

At the helm of the lone Lightning was a man who owned a 32-foot cruiser. He never had been on a sailboat before. Now, he was learning to steer just enough off the wind to keep her full and by, to come about and sail on the other tack.

"Say, this is great;" he admitted.

FACED WITH a tug and a long line of barges across his course, he wisely chose to pass astern, was caught in the powerful prop wash from the tug and shoved mightily to leeward.

"Now I'm beginning to understand some of your porblems," he said.

He finished well up among the leaders.

The winner, piloting a Schock 25, had "just a little" previous sailing experience and the only power man who might have been called a ringer was a former Star skipper sailing a Luders Sixteen.

THIS PENGUIN CLASS dinghy with cat rig is a simple, inexpensive boat for learning to sail. With its shoal draft and centerboard, it can be used in almost any body of water and is easy to haul on a trailer.

The day's activities reached a climax of good fellowship when all hands joined for a celebration in the club's Fox Hole shelter, with an eight-piece band of club-member musicians backing up the singers.

One power boat owner summed it up like this:

"I never paid much attention to sailboats before. Now that I've actually sailed one, I find it's a lot of fun. It's relaxing. When the wind picks up or when you're racing, it's exciting, too. I want to try it again."

Questions And Answers

Q.—I live near a small lake where the only boats are small outboards used by fishermen. I would like to get a sailboat, but there's no one who could teach me to sail. Do you think I could learn from reading a book?

A.—Yes, although it will take longer and you'll make a lot of mistakes. Just recently I saw a young man doing a very good job of handling a 19-foot Lightning. When he bought the boat, he had to replace the centerboard trunk. He used mahogany, plugged the screw holes and finished it bright. Then he taught himself to sail, taking several books along with him.

A.—A small centerboarder. She is so senstive to trim that the slightest change bring apparent results.

Joe Pepitone's three-run homer in the eighth capped the Yankees' first-game victory. Tom Tresh and Bobby Richardson each had a single, double and home run while Roger Maris added four singles.

John Blanchard's two-out pop fly in the seventh inning of the nightcap sparked a three-run rally that brought New York from behind. Hector Lopez drove in two runs with a pinch hit single and Phil Linz doubled home the other.

Dave Stenhouse held Baltimore to three hits and won for the first time after six defeats. Ed Brinkman's leadoff home run in the first inning and a three-run fifth gave Stenhouse, who had failed to finish in eight previous starts, all the support he needed.

Ron Hansen homered and Bill Skowron collected three hits behind Buzhardt. First - game starter Gary Peters hit a three-run homer for the White Sox, who trail the Yankees by one game and the Orioles by one-half game.

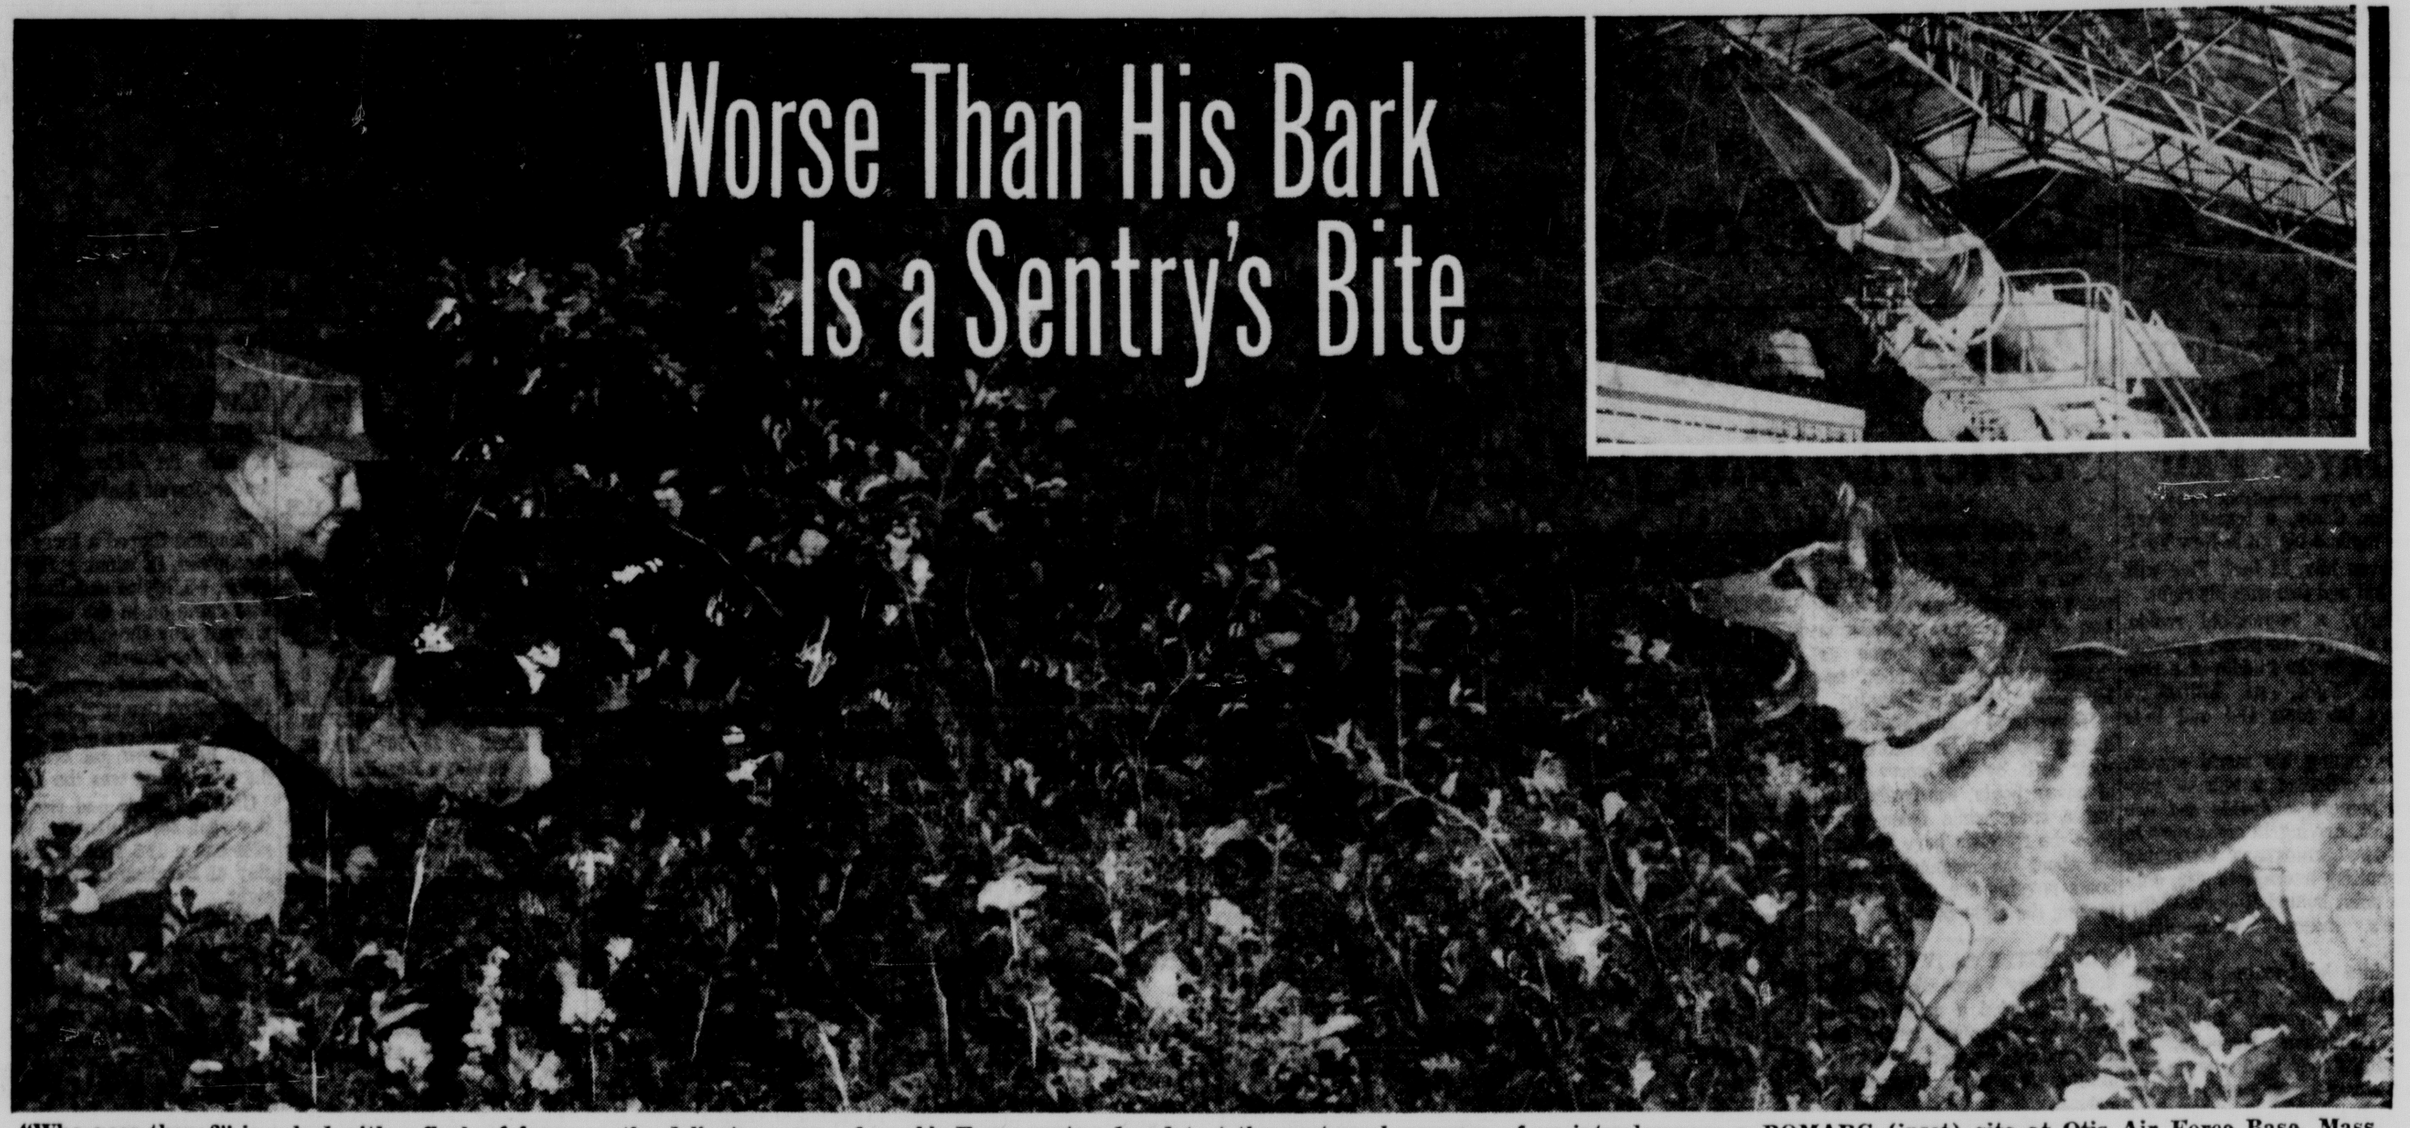
Worse Than His Bark Is a Sentry's Bite



"Who goes there?" is asked with a flash of fangs as the delicate senses of an Air Force sentry dog detect the nocturnal presence of an intruder near a BOMARC (inset) site at Otis Air Force Base, Mass.

Dogs Stand Guard to Put Teeth in Air Force Security

EVERY DOG HAS HIS DAY, but Air Force sentry dogs also have their nights. The service canines are being used by the Air Defense Command to guard BOMARC missile sites, jet plane flight-line ramps and other sensitive areas at Otis Air Force Base, Mass.

Most of the dog sentries are German shepherds, bought from kennels or private persons. Even donated dogs are paid for by a $1 token fee. The animals are then usually in the service for life with an average working span of eight years, although some far exceed this.

The induction physical for a dog is followed by two months of basic training at the Sentry Dog Handler Course center in Lackland, Tex. Here he meets the handler who will probably stay with him during his career.

Young Negro Rioters Show Suppressed Resentment

EDITOR'S NOTE—The nation has often seen disciplined, well-behaved Negro youths take part in civil rights demonstrations. But the riots in New York and Rochester have brought a different breed to the fore: Young men who heed no leader, follow no banner, and seem to despise non-violence. Here is a closeup of the hard ones.

By BERNARD GAVZER

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—An exhausted firemen felled by heavy smoke was wheeled from a flaming house in Rochester's riot-wrecked Negro section.

"He should have got burned up long ago," a Negro boy said.

Here in the brilliant sunshine of a Sunday afternoon the boy and hundreds of other Negroes had watched a gruesome drama.

A helicopter being used to spot potential riot activity had hit the peaked gable of the frame house, fallen to the sidewalk, exploded and burned. The white pilot was killed. Two persons in the house, presumably Negroes, burned to death.

For some in the crowd, the spectacle was sickening and sobering. They were mainly older people. A minister, a chef, a mechanic. But the young fellows, the lean and well-muscled teen-agers and men in their early 20s, shed no tears.

Their attitude throughout rioting that began Friday night has been one of militant recklessness. There is a bravado to them—and the chill quality of boys who have begun to believe that life is a one way road to death and they are on it, put there by white men.

The role of young Negroes in Rochester parallels that of those who met police in hand-to-hand battle in Harlem and in Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section.

"There's a don't care attitude about these boys," said Ernest Denny, a Negro social worker.

"They're saying to the white society, 'You're going to kill me psychologically if I live, so why not kill me with bullets?'

"The thing is that they are not afraid. These are brave boys.'

"They have lost respect for authority," said Lt. Andrew Sparacino, head of the Rochester Police Department's youth division.

Boys and young men from the major Negro areas in town voiced bitter resentment of whites, especially of the police, and talked with a belligerent straightforwardness.

"Man, there ain't no cat going to frighten me," said a youth of 19. "They kicked that out of me when they kicked hell out of me one time when they busted a crap game. They grabbed the dough and then used the clubs."

A boy of 14 who wore a wrist wound proudly, said: "We are just different. My mama and pa, if it was up to them, would of locked me in the house last night. They scared. But they old and old peoples get scared. I went out and I stayed out. I didn't make it back home to maybe 4 o'clock in the morning. But nobody going to tell me what to do."

A young man of 20 bristled over the 8 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew imposed upon the city.

"The man comes on TV and he say all you people got to go to bed at 8 o'clock and not stick your nose outa the house. Hell, that just make the people be on the street. You think we afraid to go out? Man, we was out."

Lloyd Hurst, a Negro who is commissioner of Rochester's office of the State Commission for Human Relations, said, "The young element—the new Negro—is in Rochester as well as Harlem and elsewhere in the United States. They have lost faith in the ordinary forms of settlement of grievances."

Reginald Kenneth Ingram, the Negro chief of the Air Force's Equal Employment Opportunity Office, said, "If I were to try to say to these boys that they should act with caution or even try to advise them in any way, I'm certain that I would be booed."

"We ended up on the ground with the guy, putting the cuffs on him," said Cerretto. "The crowd wanted him and they got between us."

Fifty or more young men pushed in to keep the handcuffed youth from being taken to the police station. It was this incident that started the riot.

Sparacino, the youth division expert, knows by sight most of the city's juvenile delinquents and other young offenders.

"But to tell you the truth," he said, "these are kids I've never seen before. They're not the usual juvenile delinquents. I don't know where they come from. I know one we got is in a good high school and another is an athlete in high school."

"It's the system they are fighting, baby," explains Denny. "The boys feel the system is against them, and it is."

It was difficult for some of the Negro boys to articulate their feelings, but one, a rather thin boy who looked like he could be a chorus dancer, said: "It s like you're standing and across the way there is that store and the cats is saying, 'Let's go eat on whitey,' or 'Whitey, he going to give me a birthday suit, man.' We laughing and pushing and talking big.

"Doing it is knowing that the fuzz is coming. I mean any cat can reach in for a bunch a bananas if the Girl Scouts is watching, but the thing is, will you do it when you know the po-leese is just around the corner and coming.

"It's like you got to make the scene or the chicks will put you down as nothin'. I mean, you got to go. Ya dig?

Constable Continues Probe In Cart's Theft

HIGHLANDTOWN — Alvin K. Johnston, police constable for Washington Township, said today he is continuing a search for a small pony cart stolen after the Highlandtown firemen's homecoming parade Friday night.

The red and yellow cart is owned by Gilbert Almy of Lisbon R. D. 1.

Johnston said a blue Valiant station wagon stolen after the parade was recovered about three hours later near the spot from which it was taken. The car is owned by A. H. Buzzard of Wellsville R. D. 1. It appears someone just took the car on a "joy ride," Johnston said.

Ohio Counts 11 Drownings On Weekend

Traffic	10
Drownings	11
Miscellaneuos	5
Total	26

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A rash of drownings took 11 lives in Ohio this weekend, making it a bigger killer than traffic.

Eight of the drowning victims were children.

At least 10 other persons lost their lives in traffic accidents and five others died from miscellaneous causes, making the weekend toll 26 dead.

The hot humid weather which has gripped the state for several days apparently sent the swimmers out in force. Four of the victims drowned in lakes, four in rivers or creeks and three in pools. Six of the drowning victims were age 10 or younger.

Three infants were among other victims. One baby died in a traffic accident, one from poisoning and one when a parked car was set in motion and rolled over him.

Among the dead in central and eastern Ohio were:

Robert Imler, 28, Circleville, struck and killed by a car on U.S. 23 in Circleville.

Marily Hartwick, Kent, in a single-car accident on Ohio 18 southwest of Ravenna in Portage County.

Jesse Edward Bartee, 35, of Franklin Furnace in Scioto County, in a one-car crash on old U.S. 52 in Scioto County near the Lawrence County line.

Leonard W. Lewis, 18 months, Columbus, when an empty car rolled over him in a driveway of friends his parents were visiting near Portsmouth.

Raymond O. Williams, 35, and Mrs. Floyd Mullins, 21, both of Cleveland, died in carbon monoxide poisoning after falling asleep in Williams' car with the engine running.

George Raymond Henery, 56, of Sabina, in a two-car collision eight miles southwest of Washington Court House.

Billy Huff, 14, Warren, drowned in Smelko's pool in Cortland.

Richard A. Harrison, 7, Elyria, drowned in Lake Erie in 2½ feet of water. A skin diver's mask he had on filled with water.

Kenyatta Aims Kenya For 1-Party System

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta says he plans to move Kenya toward a one-party system.

Kenyatta returned Sunday from the African summit conference in Cairo and told a cheering rally that the one-party system makes for "faster national progress."

His Kenya African National Union—KANU—party has a 2-1 majority over the opposition Kenya African Democratic Union—KADU—in the National Assembly.

Scientist, 63, Taken

MANHASSET, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. Hector R. Skifter, 63, a scientist responsible for development of several military weapons and defense instruments, died Saturday in a hospital. Skifter, a native of Austin, Minn., was responsible for the wartime development of an airborne magnetometer for submarine detection and electronic countermeasures against German guided missiles.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Small Toys Easily Lost During Summer

Some mothers write to tell me of young chlidren, 2 to 6, who carry playthings outdoors and lose them. Naturally, this occurs more frequently in summer. They take outdoors such playthings as miniature cars, trucks and other small toys they have often pushed or pulled over the floor indoors. Other items include checkers, dominoes, small building blocks, buttons, clothespins, spoons, playing cards and picture books.

Dr. Garry Myers

Worst of all is the loss of pieces of one or more cardboard or wooden jigsaw puzzles. As you know, when even one piece is lost from such a puzzle, the usefulness of the puzzle is impaired. You also know how hard it may be to find any small plaything which the child has carried outdoors.

OF COURSE, the little child may get a variety of good play experiences as he carries small playthings about freely and uses them in new ways and combinations. But their value wanes when they are so often lost outdoors.

In summer, too, the young child tends to carry outdoors some larger playthings, which he leaves outside. They become marred by dew and rain. Even when his playthings are found and returned to the house, they have become less attractive to play with. In addition, his plaything morale and zeal have been impaired. And if his mother keeps busy every day to find these playthings, he has not learned to take responsibility for them.

Obviously, it is desirable to make clear to the young child which playthings he may or may not take outdoors, and to be vigilant to see that some strict rules are adhered to. There is no sense in just lecturing him when you find one of these small things on the lawn. You will need to be alert and consistent in keeping him from carrying out these small things. He must learn what no means.

OF COURSE, the problem of carrying small playthings outdoors is related to the problem of guiding him in the care of his playthings indoors. Some children have far too many toys during any given period. Sometimes a few of these playthings should be kept for later use.

When you give a young child a new toy, especially if it is small, you should spend some time with him to help him use it carefully. When it is broken, it should be repaired or put away at once. Try to give him only sturdy toys that are not easily broken.

Provide some special low shelves, or a chest or two, in which he can put his small toys. Help him, while he is so young, especially at naptime or bedtime, to put his playthings in these places.

JUST TO take toys away from a young child when he is rough and careless with them hardly helps him learn to use them well. He needs guidance, sometimes restraint, in using them for "fun with a purpose." The more you can help him gain enjoyment from creative use of his toys, the more careful he will be with them.

My bulletins, "Teaching Child Care of Property," "Letting Baby and Tot Learn" and "How to Teach Child Meaning of No," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Wellsville Man, 25, Injured; Saw Hurts East End Resident

A Wellsville man injured in a fall and a East End man cut on a saw over the weekend were admitted to City Hosptial, where 11 other persons were treated.

John Barborak, 25, of 1510 Maple Ave., Wellsville, was in "fair" condition today with a fractured arm suffered in a fall. He was admitted Sunday morning at 9:40.

Denver Marks, 27, of 1000 Railroad St. was in "fairly good" condition today after having cut off the end of his thumb in a power saw. He was admitted Sunday afternoon at 1:10.

Three were treated Saturday.

William Carpenter, 23, of 2105 Clark Ave., Wellsville, cut his scalp when he dove into a pool and struck his head while swimming.

Michael Weyandt, 10, son of George Weyandt of Yuma, Ariz., was treated for several puncture lacerations of the right arm and back suffered when bitten by a dog.

Eight were treated Sunday.

Mrs. Alice Craven, 1716 Commerce St., Wellsville, cut her left index finger with a butcher knife at home.

David Ashcroft, 16, son of James Ashcroft of Hookstown R. D. 1, was treated for a laceration of the right arm received when he was spiked while playing baseball.

Gregory Tompulis, 4, son of John Tompulis of North Canton, was bitten on the chin by a dog.

Officers Hunt For Illinois Body Stealer

SKOKIE, Ill. (AP)—Police searched today for a night-roaming ghoul who stole the body of a 14-year-old girl from its casket, then abandoned it slashed and naked in an alley.

Later Sunday, a long-sleeved yellow dress believed to be the one in which the girl had been laid out for burial was found in an alley on the north side of Chicago.

Capt. Edward Caulfield, head of the Skokie police force, described the crime, technically only a burglary, as "unbelievable in this day and age." The theft and mutilation of the corpse pointed to a demented man, he said.

Police questioned and cleared two men, one a 16-year-old acquaintance of the girl and the other a man seen loitering around the funeral parlor.

The girl died Wednesday in Skokie Valley Community Hospital after collapsing Tuesday in a Skokie swimming pool. An autopsy showed she died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Goldwater Discusses Organizational Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater huddles with his top campaign aides today to discuss organizational plans.

Among those scheduled to meet with the Republican presidential nominee are GOP national chairman Dean Burch and campaign director Denison Kitchel.

The Arizona senator leaves Thursday for a vacation in California. He plans to return to Washington about Aug. 6 and is expected to formally launch his presidential campaign in Prescott, Ariz., during the third week in August.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average near normal. Representative normal highs and lows are Cleveland 83-60, Columbus 86-63, Cincinnati 88-66. Continued warm until turning a little cooler Thursday or Friday. Rainfall will average around three-quarters of an inch north and about half an inch south. Scattered showers or thundershowers almost daily through Sunday night, occurring mostly during afternoons and early nights.

3,000 Chased By Fire In World's Fair Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — A small fire, quickly extinguished, caused evacuation of from 2,500 to 3,000 persons Sunday from the Ford Pavilion at the World's Fair.

The pavilion was closed for three hours while workmen mopped up water from automatic sprinklers set off by the blaze. One of two rides which takes fairgoers past exhibits was kept closed for the day, because of fear that water-soaked plaster might fall.

The fairgoers in the building were evacuated in about four minutes, before the automatic sprinklers went on.

Ex-Justice Claimed

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Sir John Latham, 86, a former chief justice of the High Court of Australia, died Saturday after a short illness. Latham was chief justice 16 years and was minister to Japan until World War II.

Within a given year, almost 20 per cent of U.S. citizens change address.

Young Negro Rioters Show Suppressed Resentment

EDITOR'S NOTE—The nation has often seen disciplined, well-behaved Negro youths take part in civil rights demonstrations. But the riots in New York and Rochester have brought a different breed to the fore: Young men who heed no leader, follow no banner, and seem to despise non-violence. Here is a closeup of the hard ones.

By BERNARD GAVZER

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—An exhausted firemen felled by heavy smoke was wheeled from a flaming house in Rochester's riot-wrecked Negro section.

"He should have got burned up long ago," a Negro boy said.

Here in the brilliant sunshine of a Sunday afternoon the boy and hundreds of other Negroes had watched a gruesome drama.

A helicopter being used to spot potential riot activity had hit the peaked gable of the frame house, fallen to the sidewalk, exploded and burned. The white pilot was killed. Two persons in the house, presumably Negroes, burned to death.

For some in the crowd, the spectacle was sickening and sobering. They were mainly older people. A minister, a chef, a mechanic. But the young fellows, the lean and well-muscled teen-agers and men in their early 20s, shed no tears.

Their attitude throughout rioting that began Friday night has been one of militant recklessness. There is a bravado to them—and the chill quality of boys who have begun to believe that life is a one way road to death and they are on it, put there by white men.

The role of young Negroes in Rochester parallels that of those who met police in hand-to-hand battle in Harlem and in Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section.

"There's a don't care attitude about these boys," said Ernest Denny, a Negro social worker.

"They're saying to the white society, 'You're going to kill me psychologically if I live, so why not kill me with bullets?'

"The thing is that they are not afraid. These are brave boys.'

"They have lost respect for authority," said Lt. Andrew Sparacino, head of the Rochester Police Department's youth division.

Boys and young men from the major Negro areas in town voiced bitter resentment of whites, especially of the police, and talked with a belligerent straightforwardness.

"Man, there ain't no cat going to frighten me," said a youth of 19. "They kicked that out of me when they kicked hell out of me one time when they busted a crap game. They grabbed the dough and then used the clubs."

A boy of 14 who wore a wrist wound proudly, said: "We are just different. My mama and pa, if it was up to them, would of locked me in the house last night. They scared. But they old and old peoples get scared. I went out and I stayed out. I didn't make it back home to maybe 4 o'clock in the morning. But nobody going to tell me what to do."

A young man of 20 bristled over the 8 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew imposed upon the city.

"The man comes on TV and he say all you people got to go to bed at 8 o'clock and not stick your nose outa the house. Hell, that just make the people be on the street. You think we afraid to go out? Man, we was out."

Lloyd Hurst, a Negro who is commissioner of Rochester's office of the State Commission for Human Relations, said, "The young element—the new Negro—is in Rochester as well as Harlem and elsewhere in the United States. They have lost faith in the ordinary forms of settlement of grievances."

Reginald Kenneth Ingram, the Negro chief of the Air Force's Equal Employment Opportunity Office, said, "If I were to try to say to these boys that they should act with caution or even try to advise them in any way, I'm certain that I would be booed."

The boys showed how willing they were to flex muscles Friday night at the street dance when patrolmen Roger Bacon and Anthony Cerretto attempted to arrest a disorderly young man.

"We ended up on the ground with the guy, putting the cuffs on him," said Cerretto. "The crowd wanted him and they got between us."

Fifty or more young men pushed in to keep the handcuffed youth from being taken to the police station. It was this incident that started the riot.

Sparacino, the youth division expert, knows by sight most of the city's juvenile delinquents and other young offenders.

"But to tell you the truth," he said, "these are kids I've never seen before. They're not the usual juvenile delinquents. I don't know where they come from. I know one we got is in a good high school and another is an athlete in high school."

"It's the system they are fighting, baby," explains Denny. "The boys feel the system is against them, and it is."

It was difficult for some of the Negro boys to articulate their feelings, but one, a rather thin boy who looked like he could be a chorus dancer, said: "It s like you're standing and across the way there is that store and the cats is saying, 'Let's go eat on whitey,' or 'Whitey, he going to give me a birthday suit, man.' We laughing and pushing and talking big.

"Doing it is knowing that the fuzz is coming. I mean any cat can reach in for a bunch a bananas if the Girl Scouts is watching, but the thing is, will you do it when you know the po-leese is just around the corner and coming.

"It's like you got to make the scene or the chicks will put you down as nothin'. I mean, you got to go. Ya dig?

Constable Continues Probe In Cart's Theft

HIGHLANDTOWN — Alvin K. Johnston, police constable for Washington Township, said today he is continuing a search for a small pony cart stolen after the Highlandtown firemen's homecoming parade Friday night.

The red and yellow cart is owned by Gilbert Almy of Lisbon R. D. 1.

Johnston said a blue Valiant station wagon stolen after the parade was recovered about three hours later near the spot from which it was taken. The car is owned by A. H. Buzzard of Wellsville R. D. 1. It appears someone just took the car on a "joy ride," Johnston said.

Ohio Counts 11 Drownings On Weekend

Traffic	10
Drownings	11
Miscellaneuos	5
Total	26

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A rash of drownings took 11 lives in Ohio this weekend, making it a bigger killer than traffic.

Eight of the drowning victims were children.

At least 10 other persons lost their lives in traffic accidents and five others died from miscellaneous causes, making the weekend toll 26 dead.

The hot humid weather which has gripped the state for several days apparently sent the swimmers out in force. Four of the victims drowned in lakes, four in rivers or creeks and three in pools. Six of the drowning victims were age 10 or younger.

Three infants were among other victims. One baby died in a traffic accident, one from poisoning and one when a parked car was set in motion and rolled over him.

Among the dead in central and eastern Ohio were:

Robert Imler, 28, Circleville, struck and killed by a car on U.S. 23 in Circleville.

Marily Hartwick, Kent, in a single-car accident on Ohio 18 southwest of Ravenna in Portage County.

Jesse Edward Bartee, 35, of Franklin Furnace in Scioto County, in a one-car crash on old U.S. 52 in Scioto County near the Lawrence County line.

William Gollner, 32, Austintown, accidentally electrocuted when he touched a high voltage wire while working on a truck in Youngstown.

Leonard W. Lewis, 18 months, Columbus, when an empty car rolled over him in a driveway of friends his parents were visiting near Portsmouth.

Randall Buggs, 20 months, when his mother's car stalled on a rail crossing in Columbus and was hit by a train.

Raymond O. Williams, 35, and Mrs. Floyd Mullins, 21, both of Cleveland, died in carbon monoxide poisoning after falling asleep in Williams' car with the engine running.

George Raymond Henery, 56, of Sabina, in a two-car collision eight miles southwest of Washington Court House.

Billy Huff, 14, Warren, drowned in Smelko's pool in Cortland.

Richard A. Harrison, 7, Elyria, drowned in Lake Erie in 2½ feet of water. A skin diver's mask he had on filled with water.

Kenyatta Aims Kenya For 1-Party System

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta says he plans to move Kenya toward a one-party system.

Kenyatta returned Sunday from the African summit conference in Cairo and told a cheering rally that the one-party system makes for "faster national progress."

His Kenya African National Union—KANU—party has a 2-1 majority over the opposition Kenya African Democratic Union—KADU—in the National Assembly.

Scientist, 63, Taken

MANHASSET, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. Hector R. Skifter, 63, a scientist responsible for development of several military weapons and defense instruments, died Saturday in a hospital. Skifter, a native of Austin, Minn., was responsible for the wartime development of an airborne magnetometer for submarine detection and electronic countermeasures against German guided missiles.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Small Toys Easily Lost During Summer

Some mothers write to tell me of young chlidren, 2 to 6, who carry playthings outdoors and lose them. Naturally, this occurs more frequently in summer. They take outdoors such playthings as miniature cars, trucks and other small toys they have often pushed or pulled over the floor indoors. Other items include checkers, dominoes, small building blocks, buttons, clothespins, spoons, playing cards and picture books.

Dr. Garry Myers

Worst of all is the loss of pieces of one or more cardboard or wooden jigsaw puzzles. As you know, when even one piece is lost from such a puzzle, the usefulness of the puzzle is impaired. You also know how hard it may be to find any small plaything which the child has carried outdoors.

OF COURSE, the little child may get a variety of good play experiences as he carries small playthings about freely and uses them in new ways and combinations. But their value wanes when they are so often lost outdoors.

In summer, too, the young child tends to carry outdoors some larger playthings, which he leaves outside. They become marred by dew and rain. Even when his playthings are found and returned to the house, they have become less attractive to play with. In addition, his plaything morale and zeal have been impaired. And if his mother keeps busy every day to find these playthings, he has not learned to take responsibility for them.

Obviously, it is desirable to make clear to the young child which playthings he may or may not take outdoors, and to be vigilant to see that some strict rules are adhered to. There is no sense in just lecturing him when you find one of these small things on the lawn. You will need to be alert and consistent in keeping him from carrying out these small things. He must learn what no means.

OF COURSE, the problem of carrying small playthings outdoors is related to the problem of guiding him in the care of his playthings indoors. Some children have far too many toys during any given period. Sometimes a few of these playthings should be kept for later use.

When you give a young child a new toy, especially if it is small, you should spend some time with him to help him use it carefully. When it is broken, it should be repaired or put away at once. Try to give him only sturdy toys that are not easily broken.

Provide some special low shelves, or a chest or two, in which he can put his small toys. Help him, while he is so young, especially at naptime or bedtime, to put his playthings in these places.

When you see your young child throwing his toys about roughly, curb him and show him how to handle them more carefully and with a more worthy purpose.

JUST TO take toys away from a young child when he is rough and careless with them hardly helps him learn to use them well. He needs guidance, sometimes restraint, in using them for "fun with a purpose." The more you can help him gain enjoyment from creative use of his toys, the more careful he will be with them.

My bulletins, "Teaching Child Care of Property," "Letting Baby and Tot Learn" and "How to Teach Child Meaning of No," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Wellsville Man, 25, Injured; Saw Hurts East End Resident

A Wellsville man injured in a fall and a East End man cut on a saw over the weekend were admitted to City Hosptial, where 11 other persons were treated.

John Barborak, 25, of 1510 Maple Ave., Wellsville, was in "fair" condition today with a fractured arm suffered in a fall. He was admitted Sunday morning at 9:40.

Denver Marks, 27, of 1000 Railroad St. was in "fairly good" condition today after having cut off the end of his thumb in a power saw. He was admitted Sunday afternoon at 1:10.

Three were treated Saturday.

William Carpenter, 23, of 2105 Clark Ave., Wellsville, cut his scalp when he dove into a pool and struck his head while swimming.

Michael Weyandt, 10, son of George Weyandt of Yuma, Ariz., was treated for several puncture lacerations of the right arm and back suffered when bitten by a dog.

Eight were treated Sunday.

Mrs. Alice Craven, 1716 Commerce St., Wellsville, cut her left index finger with a butcher knife at home.

David Ashcroft, 16, son of James Ashcroft of Hookstown R. D. 1, was treated for a laceration of the right arm received when he was spiked while playing baseball.

Floyd Allen Means, 6, son of Floyd Means of Cannons Mills, cut his scalp when he fell from a merry-go-round at an area drive-in theater.

John Huzyak, 20, of Monaca was treated for a laceration of the right hand received when he fell from a car.

Gregory Tompulis, 4, son of John Tompulis of North Canton, was bitten on the chin by a dog.

Officers Hunt For Illinois Body Stealer

SKOKIE, Ill. (AP)—Police searched today for a night-roaming ghoul who stole the body of a 14-year-old girl from its casket, then abandoned it slashed and naked in an alley.

The body of Theresa Koertgen was taken Saturday night from a Skokie funeral home by an intruder who broke in through a window.

Some 20 hours later, an Evanston motorist nearing his garage in the early hours saw the body in the alley behind his home.

Later Sunday, a long-sleeved yellow dress believed to be the one in which the girl had been laid out for burial was found in an alley on the north side of Chicago.

Capt. Edward Caulfield, head of the Skokie police force, described the crime, technically only a burglary, as "unbelievable in this day and age." The theft and mutilation of the corpse pointed to a demented man, he said.

Police questioned and cleared two men, one a 16-year-old acquaintance of the girl and the other a man seen loitering around the funeral parlor.

Theresa was the daughter of Leo Koertgen, an auto sales firm executive. She lived with her mother, Margaret, who was divorced from her father.

The girl died Wednesday in Skokie Valley Community Hospital after collapsing Tuesday in a Skokie swimming pool. An autopsy showed she died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Goldwater Discusses Organizational Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater huddles with his top campaign aides today to discuss organizational plans.

Among those scheduled to meet with the Republican presidential nominee are GOP national chairman Dean Burch and campaign director Denison Kitchel.

The Arizona senator leaves Thursday for a vacation in California. He plans to return to Washington about Aug. 6 and is expected to formally launch his presidential campaign in Prescott, Ariz., during the third week in August.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average near normal. Representative normal highs and lows are Cleveland 83-60, Columbus 86-63, Cincinnati 88-66. Continued warm until turning a little cooler Thursday or Friday. Rainfall will average around three-quarters of an inch north and about half an inch south. Scattered showers or thundershowers almost daily through Sunday night, occurring mostly during afternoons and early nights.

3,000 Chased By Fire In World's Fair Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — A small fire, quickly extinguished, caused evacuation of from 2,500 to 3,000 persons Sunday from the Ford Pavilion at the World's Fair.

The pavilion was closed for three hours while workmen mopped up water from automatic sprinklers set off by the blaze. One of two rides which takes fairgoers past exhibits was kept closed for the day, because of fear that water-soaked plaster might fall.

The fairgoers in the building were evacuated in about four minutes, before the automatic sprinklers went on.

Ex-Justice Claimed

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Sir John Latham, 86, a former chief justice of the High Court of Australia, died Saturday after a short illness. Latham was chief justice 16 years and was minister to Japan until World War II.

Within a given year, almost 20 per cent of U.S. citizens change address.

NOTICE OF HEARING

THE STATE OF OHIO, COLUMBIANA COUNTY, SS
IN THE PROBATE COURT
ORC. Sec. 3107.06 (B) (4)
Case No. 1596

IN THE MATTER OF THE ADOPTION OF ETHEL PEARL FISHER.

To: Charles Richard Fisher
Address Unknown

You are hereby notified that on the 21st day of July, 1964, a petition was filed in the Probate Court of Columbiana County, Ohio, for the adoption of Ethel Pearl Fisher, who was born November 15, 1957, at Fairmont, W. Va.

Said petition contains the allegation that you, as the father of said child have wilfully failed to properly support and maintain said child for a period of more than two years immediately preceding the filing of this petition.

If at the hearing it is found that the allegations of the petition are true your consent to the adoption of the above named child will not be required.

Hearing on said petition will be on the 28th day of August, 1964, at 1:30 p.m. in the Probate Court of Columbiana County, at the Court House, Lisbon, Ohio.

Witness my signature and the seal of said Court at Lisbon, Ohio, this 21st day of July, 1964.

LOUIS TOBIN
Probate Judge

Don't Just Wish!!

We can help you OWN a home!

If you want a low price property we have one at 431 Commerce St., Wellsville for $5,400.00. Can be bought for a $100 down payment and low monthly payments. Small lot but a large house.

Almost 3 acres of beautiful property on the Y & O Road between Glenmoor and Apples Corners. With a very beautiful four bedroom brick home for just $24,000.00. Home has full basement, excellent gas furnace, 3 car detached garage. Swimming pool. Modern kitchen. Open fireplace and about all the extras you can think of.

Two acre lot on Glenn St. in Glenmoor with a practically new ranch style 3 bedroom frame home for just $16,900.00. This is a beautiful location and plenty of room for the children to play. Gas furnace. Full finished basement. Excellent well. Very good septic tank. Full tiled bath with an extra powder room in the basement.

1748 Idaho Avenue, Pleasant Heights. Have a very nice Cape Cod 3 bedroom home with a full basement, gas furnace and a nice level lot fenced in. Available for $13,000.00 or if you want a good big income you can purchase for an extra $3,000 two car garage with a four room and bath apartment upstairs. This gives you a total space of 60 x 130 ft. and a good income to help with the mortgage payments. Both properties in excellent condition.

Efficiency plus on this National Home at 509 Sanford Avenue in Pleasant Heights. Total price just $10,500.00. Home has two bedrooms, large living room, kitchen and dining area with a bath and utility room. Nice detached garage and very efficient and economical.

Don't Just Wish!!

We can help you OWN a home!

If you want a low price property we have one at 431 Commerce St., Wellsville for $5,400.00. Can be bought for a $100 down payment and low monthly payments. Small lot but a large house.

Almost 3 acres of beautiful property on the Y & O Road between Glenmoor and Apples Corners. With a very beautiful four bedroom brick home for just $24,000.00. Home has full basement, excellent gas furnace, 3 car detached garage. Swimming pool. Modern kitchen. Open fireplace and about all the extras you can think of.

Two acre lot on Glenn St. in Glenmoor with a practically new ranch style 3 bedroom frame home for just $16,900.00. This is a beautiful location and plenty of room for the children to play. Gas furnace. Full finished basement. Excellent well. Very good septic tank. Full tiled bath with an extra powder room in the basement.

1748 Idaho Avenue, Pleasant Heights. Have a very nice Cape Cod 3 bedroom home with a full basement, gas furnace and a nice level lot fenced in. Available for $13,000.00 or if you want a good big income you can purchase for an extra $3,000 two car garage with a four room and bath apartment upstairs. This gives you a total space of 60 x 130 ft. and a good income to help with the mortgage payments. Both properties in excellent condition.

Efficiency plus on this National Home at 509 Sanford Avenue in Pleasant Heights. Total price just $10,500.00. Home has two bedrooms, large living room, kitchen and dining area with a bath and utility room. Nice detached garage and very efficient and economical.

Junior Editors Quiz on RAINBOWS

QUESTION: Why do we see rainbows?

ANSWER: The conditions under which we can see nature's most magnificent spectacle are shown by Cathy in our picture. It is just after a shower; raindrops are still in the air but the sun has broken through and is shining behind Cathy's back. As you see in the diagram, when a sun ray enters a raindrop it is broken up into the seven spectrum colors of violet, indigo, blue, green, orange, yellow and red. The color rays are bent, or refracted, and then reflected away from the drop as rays are reflected from a mirror. Each color ray has a certain angle between coming in and going out of the raindrop. When Cathy sees a color ray at one certain angle, it will look red if this is the right angle for the red ray. The other places where she can see this exact red angle are arranged in a large ring or bow, and so she will see a bow of red. It is like looking down the uppper half of a large cone (B), black dots showing positions of the same angle (of course they all connect in a continuous bow). The other colors have slightly different angles, which in the main or primary bow (there are often two bows showing) are arranged with the other colors below or inside the red.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the rainbow and it will look more natural. Red should be outside, then comes orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo (blue violet) and violet.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I create a rough imitation sanded finish on my walls?

A. By mixing cornmeal with your paint before applying it. The fine particles of the meal should be sifted out and the coarser portions stirred into the paint. The cornmeal, being of approximately the same density as the paint, will stay suspended in the mixture. The amount of sanded effect you achieve is governed, of course, by the amount of cornmeal you add to your paint.

Q. I always have the greatest trouble separating the strips of packaged bacon which are usually pressed so firmly together. Any ideas for this?

A. To help break up this strip-to-strip adhesive, roll the package gently between your hands first one way and then the other, before opening it. The bacon strips will then come apart easily.

Q. How can I remove mildew stains from cloth?

A. Wash, and while still damp, immerse the article in hydrogen peroxide, or in a solution of chlorinated lime. While the spot is damp, expose to the sun's rays. If the material is colored, it might be wise to test a scrap piece first to determine whether or not the dye will be affected.

Q. How can I cope with that pet annoyance of window washing—leaving streaks and not knowing which side of the pane I must wipe again in order to remove them?

A. Make a practice of rubbing one side of the pane with vertical strokes and the other side horizontally. Then when streaks appear, you'll know instantly which side of the glass needs your attention.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 20-year-old blonde who is all mixed up. My dad is a golf pro. I've been playing golf since I was 6.

I shoot a pretty spectacular game, which is part of my problem. I can cream all the fellows in our crowd — including my steady guy.

Howie hates it when I beat him but I can't do less than my best when I get on the course. I beat Howie at tennis, too, which is rather embarrassing, as he considers himself an expert and has taken lessons for years.

I'd like to marry Howie but he becomes so sullen and uncommunicative when he loses to me I wonder if we could have a good life together.

The guy has dozens of marvelous qualities and I'd hate to break up with him because of this one fault. What do you say: — THREE UNDER PAR.

Dear Three: Play doubles with Howie as your partner and make him look good instead of beating his brains out. No more head-on competition. When you win, you lose.

Remorseful Mother

Dear Ann: You often have stated that parents should not open their children's mail, read their diaries, go through their bureau drawers or listen to their telephone calls.

This is all high-sounding indeed, but if I hadn't been such a blind fool, my 16-year-old daughter would not be in a home for unwed mothers at this very minute.

I had no idea she was sneaking around behind my back, crawling out the bedroom window, meeting a good-for-nothing bum — and in her pajamas at that. When she told me she was pregnant, I fainted. This girl was the last in the world anyone would have suspected of such behavior.

So please stop giving parents such stupid advice. Urge them to keep a close watch on their teen-agers, read their diaries, listen to their phone calls and see if they go where they say they are going.

Dear L. L. L.: Your daughter's predicament is a symptom of earlier emotional problems. If there had been genuine communication, you would not have discovered "suddenly" what she was really doing.

No parent ever kept a child on the right road by spying, checking or eavesdropping. Gestapo tactics destroy confidence.

If a child feels his parents have a low opinion of him he will do his best to live down to it.

Elevator Etiquette

Dear Ann: I'm a young woman who works in a building which has an elevator. I'm in and out of the elevator at least 15 times a day because part of my job is delivering dental material from the lab.

Is it considered poor manners for a man to get out of an elevator first when there are women behind him? Often I've been in the rear of the elevator and the men in front of me just stand there instead of getting out first.

Even when I say, "Excuse me, please," they still stand there — feet nailed to the floor. They apparently feel it is rude to walk out ahead of a woman. How about this? — DIXIE.

Dear Dixie: It is NOT impolite for a man to precede a woman out of an elevator. In fact, it makes no sense for a man to obstruct the doorway, waiting for a woman to snake her way around him.

Good manners are common sense. The people by the door should walk out first — male or female.

Purslane and chickweed, both weeds, can continue to produce seeds for days after being uprooted.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 20-year-old blonde who is all mixed up. My dad is a golf pro. I've been playing golf since I was 6.

I shoot a pretty spectacular game, which is part of my problem. I can cream all the fellows in our crowd — including my steady guy.

Howie hates it when I beat him but I can't do less than my best when I get on the course. I beat Howie at tennis, too, which is rather embarrassing, as he considers himself an expert and has taken lessons for years.

I'd like to marry Howie but he becomes so sullen and uncommunicative when he loses to me I wonder if we could have a good life together.

The guy has dozens of marvelous qualities and I'd hate to break up with him because of this one fault. What do you say: — THREE UNDER PAR.

Dear Three: Play doubles with Howie as your partner and make him look good instead of beating his brains out. No more head-on competition. When you win, you lose.

Remorseful Mother

Dear Ann: You often have stated that parents should not open their children's mail, read their diaries, go through their bureau drawers or listen to their telephone calls.

This is all high-sounding indeed, but if I hadn't been such a blind fool, my 16-year-old daughter would not be in a home for unwed mothers at this very minute.

I had no idea she was sneaking around behind my back, crawling out the bedroom window, meeting a good-for-nothing bum — and in her pajamas at that. When she told me she was pregnant, I fainted. This girl was the last in the world anyone would have suspected of such behavior.

So please stop giving parents such stupid advice. Urge them to keep a close watch on their teen-agers, read their diaries, listen to their phone calls and see if they go where they say they are going.

Dear L. L. L.: Your daughter's predicament is a symptom of earlier emotional problems. If there had been genuine communication, you would not have discovered "suddenly" what she was really doing.

If a child feels his parents have a low opinion of him he will do his best to live down to it.

Elevator Etiquette

Dear Ann: I'm a young woman who works in a building which has an elevator. I'm in and out of the elevator at least 15 times a day because part of my job is delivering dental material from the lab.

Is it considered poor manners for a man to get out of an elevator first when there are women behind him? Often I've been in the rear of the elevator and the men in front of me just stand there instead of getting out first.

Even when I say, "Excuse me, please," they still stand there — feet nailed to the floor. They apparently feel it is rude to walk out ahead of a woman. How about this? — DIXIE.

Dear Dixie: It is NOT impolite for a man to precede a woman out of an elevator. In fact, it makes no sense for a man to obstruct the doorway, waiting for a woman to snake her way around him.

Good manners are common sense. The people by the door should walk out first — male or female.

Purslane and chickweed, both weeds, can continue to produce seeds for days after being uprooted.
